TESTIMONIALS.

FROM THE BOSTON CULTIVATOR.

Ex-Gov. Holbrook on Bradley's Super-Phos-
phate. I have used Bradley's Super-Phosphate
for several years, with invariably good results, and commend him for his integrity in manufacturing it.

Bradley's Super-Phosphate is excellent for about
every vegetable grown in the garden;—for
yards and lawns, and the various shrubs cultivated therein; for corn and potatoes in field
cultivation; and especially when stocking land to grass, whether in the usual way, with a grain
crop in spring, or with grass seeds alone in August and September.

By applying say 300 lbs. of Super-Phosphate
per acre, with the grain and grass seeds in spring,
the straw is much stiffened, the crop less liable
to lodge, the heads are larger and the kernels
plump, while grass seeds catch well and give a thick stand.

Turning over old bound-up mowing or sward
land in August, and applying say 500 lbs. of Super-Phosphate per acre and reseeding directly to grass, without taking a crop of grain, will give an increased yield of hay, or "pasture" which may crop for two, three or four years following; or if
the land be pasture exclusively, this mode of treatment will improve the pasture very much for quick and long wearing grass, "pasture" which cannot be plowed with Bradley's Super-Phosphate
by top-dressing with Bradley's Super-Phosphate.

Ex-Gov. FLETCHER, Vermont, Jan. 20, 1869.

From Hon. GEORGE B. LORING, President of the New England Agricultural Society. "I have used every variety of manure, and found none operated more effectively and permanently than
yours."

From REV. HENRY WARD BEECHER. "A second season, and confirming the good opinion which I formed of it, both for farm and garden
crops."

From EX-GOVERNOR CONY, of Maine. "It was
equal to any fertilizer of its class ever used by me,
and I can confidently recommend it as of great practical utility. I shall continue to use it, with confidence."

From EX-GOVERNOR FLETCHER, of Vermont.
"I am fully satisfied that it is a very useful and valuable article for the farmer."

From EX-GOVERNOR BECKINGHAM, of Connecticut. "I used your Super-Phosphate of Lime for corn, potatoes, and other vegetables. The grapes and corn were especially benefited."

From PROF. OTTO WUTZ, Analytical Chemist,
Pittsburg, (Pa.). "It is obvious, that a fertilizer
of such composition cannot be surpassed."

From HON. MARSHALL P. WILDER. "I have ever considered it as one of the most economical
manures in use."

From COL. T. S. LANG. "I am gratified with
the result of its application."

From HON. AMASA WALKER. I applied it
upon old and long exhausted pasture land. The effect was wonderful."

From HON. EDMUND BURKE. "I have no
hesitation in pronouncing your Super-Phosphate
the best fertilizer I have ever used."

From JAMES DICKINSON. "Its effect was rapid and wonderful. It is far the cheapest manure of which I have any knowledge."

From DR. S. DANA HAYES, State Assayer, Boston. "Your Super-Phosphate is entitled to the confidence of the agricultural community."

From DR. A. A. HAYES. "Your fertilizer advances permanent value to the land, and may be used with confidence."

From SAMUEL GRAYES, Esq., of Hatfield, Mass.
"I find no other Super-Phosphate so good as yours."

From DR. E. W. HATCH, Superintendent of State Reform School, W. Meriden, Conn. "We much prefer your Super-Phosphate to any in the market."

From JAMES S. GRINELL, Chief Clerk
Department of Agriculture. "I have used Bradley's Super-Phosphate, and regard it as an excellent article."

FOURTH OF JULY 1869.

Grand Celebration
OF THE DAY
IN QUINCY.

We, the undersigned, have been appointed a Committee for the purpose of raising funds, whereby to carry out a proper celebration of the coming Anniversary of our National Independence, wish to present at this time a brief
account of the programme we propose, and to call upon our fellow-citizens generally to help us by liberal contributions, so that we may be enabled to give our order for fireworks at an early day.

It will then be three weeks the needed amount is subscribed, we shall go to work, joyfully to secure for all a pleasant entertainment for the day and evening.

PROGRAMME.

The bells to be rung, and a salute to be fired by a battery at sunrise, noon, and sunset.

A PROCESSION headed by a Band of Music
will parade the principal streets in the morning, consisting of five divisions, as follows:—

DIVISION 1.—The McClellan Guards, Capt.
William Boyd.

DIVISION 2.—The Firemen in uniform, with their engines decorated.

DIVISION 3.—The different Trades carried on in town.—Stone Cutters, Boot Manufacturing, Carriers, Wheelwrights, Carpenters, Blacksmiths, Printers, Painters, Tailors, &c., &c.
Each trade by itself, with all the members busily
at work.

DIVISION 4.—Headed by a Culbumpian Band
(of 25 pieces), will consist of Antiques and Horri-bles in carriages, representing various eccentricities characteristic of the age.

DIVISION 5.—Antiques and Horribles
on foot, &c., &c.

The Column will pass in review in the square
and be dismissed.

TWO ENTERTAINMENTS will be given at the Town Hall, one at 10 o'clock A. M., and the other at 3 o'clock P. M., consisting of Ventriloquism, Magic, &c., preceded by the reading of the Declaration of Independence. These entertainments will be free to the children of the public schools.

At sunset the Band will take position on the field where the evening portion of the programme
is to take place, and will discourse National Airs, while the bells are ringing, and the Cannon
pealing, in honor of the day.

At dark, FIREWORKS will commence with a display of Rockets, of the largest calibre bombs, Tear-billions, &c., which will be followed by 12
or 14 large pieces, ending with a Grand National Design armed with Rockets and Showers of Stars, forming a beautiful Tableau, and a fitting termination to the festivities of the day.

A detailed account of the display of fireworks,
together with the Route of the procession, its main features, &c., will be published in due season.

The successful execution of the above plan
only depends upon the desire of the citizens to carry it out. If they will manifest their interest in the matter by subscribing liberally, it cannot fail of success.

Subscription papers are in the hands of the different members of the Committee, and one can be found at the Post Office.

ELIAS HOWE

SEWING MACHINES,

Are celebrated for doing the BEST WORK,
using a much smaller needle for the same
thread than any other Machine.

SEWING of all kinds, such as HEMMING,
FELLING, BINDING, COORDING, BRAIDING, SEAMING, QUILTING, TUCKING, GATHERING,
and FOLDING, done in a superior manner, on
our Family Machines.

Some reliable improvements have recently
been added to these Machines, which render them
superior to those made heretofore. Ladies who use our Family Machines, cannot fail to be gratified and pleased with their operation; as they are
not subject to the annoyance and difficulties
experienced with most machines.

Experience has proved that there is but one
really good Sewing Machine, and that one is known as the "LOCK STITCH." The advantages of the Howe Lock Stitch consist in its economy
in the use of thread, the elasticity of the seam, (having the same appearance on both sides), and
the fact that it cannot be unravelled.

The Howe Machines are better made; they are
free from disagreeable noise; they are much
less liable to get out of order; and when out of
order, they cost less for repairs.

They combine the greatest simplicity and durability with the greatest certainty in operation,
and for all household Sewing—Short, Dress,
Cloak, Vest, Making and Tailoring, are THE BEST MACHINES IN THE WORLD.

The Howe Machines have taken the Premium
for the Best Work whenever they have been in competition with other Machines. This arises
from the fact that they are constructed of the best
material, and in the best manner.

This Machine can be seen in operation at

Poetry.

PEOPLE WILL TALK.

We may go through the world, but 'twill be very slow.

If we listen to all that is said as we go;
We'll be worried and fretted, and kept in a stew.
For meddlesome tongues must have something to do.

For people will talk, you know, people will
talk.

Oh! yes, they must talk, you know.

If quiet and modest, you'll have it presumed
That your humble position is only assumed.

You're a wolf in sheep's clothing, or else you're a fool!

But don't get excited—keep perfectly cool.

If generous and noble, they'll vent out their spleen—

You'll hear some loud hints that you're selfish
and mean;

If upright and honest, and fair as the day,
They'll call you a rogue in a sly sneaking
way.

And then if you show the least boldness of heart,

Or a slight inclination to take your own part,
They'll call you an upstart, conceited and vain;

But keep straight ahead, and don't stop to explain.

If threathore your ebb, or old-fashioned your hat,

Some one, of course, will take notice of that,
And hint rather strong that you can't pay your
way;

But don't get excited, whatever they say.

If you dress in the fashion, don't think to escape,

For they criticize then in a different shape;
You're afraid of your means, or your tailor's
unpaid,

But mind your own business—there's naught
to be made.

They'll talk fine before you, but then at your back,

Of venom and slander there's never a lack;
How kind and polite in all that they say,
But bitter as gall when you're out of the way.

The best way to do is to do as you please,
For your mind, if you have one, will then be at ease:

Of course you will meet with all sorts of abuse,
But don't think to stop them—it ain't any use.

For people will talk, you know, people will
talk.

Oh! yes, they must talk, you know.

Interesting Selections.

A young man owed his friend

$100, and was unable to repay it in a lump. He suggested signing ten notes for ten dollars each, each falling due in successive months. His friend was astonished at the first being dishonored,
and asked for an explanation. "Well,"
replied the other, "at first you objected
to lose the $100 in one sum, but now it comes easier to you, as you only lose ten dollars a month."

Mr. Fuller, a Methodist preacher,

lady in a parish where he once labored.

As he announced his errand, the lady expressed her horror and surprise. "What!"
said Mr. Fuller, "I thought you labored for souls, and not for money." A minister cannot live on souls, and if he could he'd soon depopulate such a region as this."

ESTATE!

THE BOSTON POST. This paper made its appearance on Monday last in a neat and handsome dress. It has been removed to a large and spacious building, on the corner of Devonshire and Water streets, which for architectural neatness cannot be surpassed.

It is a four-story structure, of Rockport granite, with ornamental mansard roof, and bears on both floors the name of the newspaper in the old English letter, which the printed sheet has made familiar to the public. The building has a front of seventy-four feet on Devonshire street, and fifty-two on Water street, and is seventy-five feet high, from the sidewalk. In its interior arrangements the building bears a general similarity to most modern city newspaper offices, with all the latest improvements which ingenuity has devised in matters of detail.

MATHUSHEK'S "COLIBRI" PIANO. "A great soul in a small body." It is no longer a Steinway versus Chickering, but a Mathushek versus the World! See advertisement.

James Joyce, of New York City, insured for $1000, October 8, 1867, by the BERNHARD LIFE, paying semi-annually. When his premium fell due in April 1868, he was ill, and in consequence of misfortune in business was unable to pay. Four months afterward he died. On receipt of the proofs of death the full amount of his policy was paid to his widow. The Bernhardt was the first non-fraudulent payment.

"Barrett's" second to none.

Dr. A. JOHNSON, one of the most successful practitioners of his time, invented what is now called Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. The great success of this article in the cure of Bronchitis and all diseases of the throat and lungs will make the name of JOHNSON not less favorably, if less widely known, than that of Louis Napoleon.

SATURDAY, APRIL 10, 1869.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

A NEW CHURCH. The friends of the Orthodox Society in this place are making considerable stir at the present time towards buying a piece of land for the erection of a new church. At a meeting of the Society on Monday evening last, a committee of seven, consisting of Messrs. Charles R. Mitchell, Charles H. Hardwick, Elbridge Clapp, A. W. Sprague, Franklin Hardwick, T. F. Gay, and C. W. Carter, were chosen to procure a suitable lot for a church. There are several pieces under consideration. The handsomest and most eligible is the "Packard Lot," corner of Hancock and Sea streets. It would be a grand place for a handsome church, and it would improve the square decidedly by moving the old buildings and erecting a pretty meeting house in their place, and we hope it may be done, believing it will give good satisfaction to the Society, and the inhabitants of the town generally. There appears to be but one thing to overcome, and that is sufficient funds to buy the property.—The price asked by Mr. Packard is we believe, eight thousand dollars. Subscription papers are in circulation, and quite a handsome sum has already been subscribed towards its purchase.

Another lot talked of is nearly opposite to the "Packard Lot," on Sea street, known as the Hardwick Place, and the lot in the rear fronting on Maple Place. These lots have recently been purchased by Mr. Conney, and will be sold to the Society if desired. And a move is now made to extend Maple Place to Hancock Street. A paper is in circulation containing many names asking the County Commissioners to lay out said land as a public highway. The land to be taken for this purpose belongs to Dr. C. S. French, and is used for a garden. Probably no time in the future could this land be purchased cheaper than at the present time, and we hope the petitioners will succeed in their undertaking; for we believe it must be done sometime, and the present looks the most favorable.

A part of the Hancock Lot, adjoining the premises of Mr. John W. Hall, is thought by some to be a very desirable lot for a church. It would be leased by the town at a very reasonable rate, which would make it quite easy for the Society, pecuniarily, to build a church; and it would not be surprising, in less than ten years, it would be considered equal, if not superior, to the "Packard Lot."

RELIGIOUS. Rev. Herman Bisbee, pastor of the Universalist Society in this place, preaches his farewell discourse tomorrow afternoon. On account of the bad effect of the easterly wind on his wife's health, and from an urgent call from his former society, he has decided to return to St. Anthony, Minnesota, much to the regret of his friends in this place. The society here has been very prosperous under his ministry, and would willingly raise his salary two or three hundred dollars, we learn, if he would consent to remain.

GRAND PEACE FESTIVAL. We understand that there are two societies organized in this town for the purpose of joining the Grand Chorus in Boston.—We earnestly hope our citizens and all interested in the success of the Festival will join the Association. The Aetolian Society, under Mr. H. B. Brown, is very successful, numbering nearly fifty voices. Their membership list closes next Thursday, and it is earnestly hoped that all who desire will join before that time. Let the town be well represented, and do all they can to help along this grand undertaking. "Let us have Peace."

A UNITED COMPANY. The members of the Hook and Ladder Company, of this town, partook of an excellent oyster supper at their house, on Monday evening last. It was presented to the company by the Selectmen and Engineers, who with other town officers spent a few hours agreeably with its members. The pleasant monthly meetings of this Company have no doubt been greatly owing to the harmony of its officers, and a good foreman to lead, which always gives life and prosperity to all associations.

The schooner Angie Armstrong of Quincy Point, ran ashore at Tortugas and was compelled to throw over 20 tons of ice. She was assisted off by the wreckers.

Contracts have been made with Edwards & Burke, of Quincy Point, for building the solid part of the new wharf at Weymouth, which is to be 75 feet long and 40 feet wide, for $1,278. The piling, 225 feet in length and 60 feet wide, has been taken at about $3,750. The wharf is to be finished May 1.

SAD ACCIDENT. On Wednesday morning of last week, Mr. Moses Holbrook, a citizen of Braintree, while engaged in making up a load of hay, in the barn of one of his neighbors, it is supposed was attacked by a fit of paralysis, and falling from the scaffold, struck his head upon the sharp edge of a board, in such a manner as to cause instant death.

Mr. Holbrook was a worthy and respected citizen of Braintree, and the only surviving parent of Mrs. Mary (Holbrook) Powers, a former teacher of this town.—His age was sixty-seven years.

A Cincinnati base ball club has recently dissolved with a debt of $11,000.

DORCHESTER. The April meeting of the citizens of Dorchester was held Monday in the Town Hall, and Mr. James H. Upham was elected Moderator. It was voted to appropriate $6000 for reservoirs, to be funded; $50,000 to be funded to purchase a site and erect a suitable building for a High School; and $15,000, also to be funded for furnishing additional accommodations for the Mather School District. An appropriation of $15,000 was made to procure a steam fire engine, procure a lot of land, and erect a house thereon for the same, at Neponset Village; and another of $5000 for the purchase of a steam fire engine to be located at the Lower Mills Village.

The following appropriations were also made:

Schools, $54,000; Poor in the Almshouse, $5,000; Poor out of the Almshouse, $3,500; Insane at Hospitals $2000; Highways, $25,000; Fire Department, $10,000; Volunteer fire companies, $1000; Town Officers $6000; Cemeteries $1500; Installments and Interest $27,000; Interest in anticipation of taxes, $5,000; Abatement of taxes, $4,000; Lighting Streets, $6,000; Police, $8,000; Incidental Expenses, $10,000; Removal of Engine House No. 3, $2,000; widening of Hancock street $5,000; Minot street $3,000; Adams street $6,000 Bird street $3,000; Water Pipe at Lower Mills $2,000; Side-walks $3,000; Gravel Land $1,175 38; Culverts $3,000; Neponset Bridge $1021 32; Fence for Soldiers' Monument $393 79; Flagstaff on Meeting House Hill $502 98; Printing the Assessor's valuation $10,000. Total, $203,777 87. From which deduct $60,000, cash in Treasury, leaving amount to be raised by taxation, $143,777 87.

DISHONEST DOMESTIC. A domestic in the employ of Mr. A. C. Drinkwater, of Braintree, named Mary Murphy, was arrested in the Old Colony depot, on Tuesday evening, with a small valise in her possession filled with stolen clothing, jewelry, etc., of the value of about $150. She was arrested at the instance of a young man living in the family who saw her on the train, and at once furnished the object of her sudden departure. When taken to the Station House, Murphy freely acknowledged her guilt, and then went calmly at work to separate the few articles belonging to herself from those which she had stolen.

STATE ELECTION. The Connecticut State election took place on Monday last, and resulted in the election of Mr. Jewell, (Republican) for Governor, over Mr. English, (Democrat) by a majority of 811. The Legislature stands as follows: Senate—Republicans 14, Democrats 7; House—Republicans 132, Democrats 106.

STATE ELECTION IN RHODE ISLAND. The election for State officers and members of the Legislature took place in Rhode Island on Wednesday, and resulted in the success of the Republican State ticket, and the usual majority in the General Assembly. The vote was not large, neither was there any serious effort upon the part of the opposition.

An insane man named Gary, on the Stillwater Road, St. Paul, Minn., killed his wife and four children on Tuesday night. The murderer was arrested.

LIBEL SUIT. Rev. John Gregory, of Northfield, (Vt.) has obtained a verdict for $742 damages, for libel, against Hiram Atkins, publisher of the Montpelier Argus. The case has been in court two or three years, and the costs must add several hundred dollars more to the defendant's bill.

PERSONAL. Among the passengers to Europe, on Wednesday by the steamship Scotia, from New York, was E. C. Bailey, late president of the Boston Associated Press, and proprietor of the Boston Herald, who will be absent a year in Europe, Egypt and Palestine.

The antelope lately added to the Deer Park met with a fatal accident on the day of arrival. Not being used to close confinement, little beauty ran with great violence against the wire fence and broke its neck.—Boston Herald.

COUNTRY PRODUCE. The Dexter (Me.) Gazette says that an extensive business has been doing there for some time in buying potatoes for the Boston Market. One firm in that city, had purchased 50,000 bushels, at the average rate of fifty cents per bushel. Activity in the potato trade is common all over Maine. The farmers everywhere in New England are also pressing their surplus butter on the market, and prices to wholesale purchasers have been greatly reduced.

The residents of Cohasset don't complain of the high price of coal in that town. A man recently found twelve dollars' worth of silver in the clinkers from one hod of coal, and a dealer found forty dollars' worth in his coal in one day.

A gentleman in Taunton has a cow which gave last year seven thousand one hundred and thirty-one quarts of milk, which sold for $650.

EARTHQUAKE. There was another shock of earthquake at San Francisco, last week, the most violent since that of October. No serious damage was reported, but the inhabitants were much alarmed.

Among the many amendments which have been offered to the liquor bill in the Legislature was one which provides that any clergyman furnishing fermented wine at a sacramental communion table shall be deemed guilty of keeping a public bar. The amendment was barred out.

Randolph will probably furnish a chorus of 125 voices for the great peace jubilee in Boston.

NORFOLK COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY. The annual meeting of this flourishing Society was held Wednesday, of last week, at the Phoenix Hotel, Dedham, the President, Hon. Marshall P. Wilder, in the chair.

There was a very large attendance.—The meeting was called to order by the President, who made a valedictory address on resigning his office after holding it for twenty years.

The Treasurer's Report was submitted by Mr. C. C. Churchill, and showed that the receipts had been $3,700 18. The Society had been extinguished, and there was now a balance in hand of $105 54. The following were elected officers for the ensuing year:

President: Hon. John S. Eldridge, of Canton.

Honorary President: Hon. Marshall P. Wilder, of Dorchester.

Vice Presidents: Hon. Amos A. Lawrence, of Brookline; Hon. Otis Cary, of Foxboro'; Messrs. S. W. Richardson, of Franklin; E. Tucker, of Milton; Henry Grew, of Hyde Park; E. Stone, of Dedham.

Secretary: O. H. Hildreth, of Dedham.

Treasurer: C. H. Churchill, of Dedham, and the usual Finance and Executive Committees.

A committee was then appointed to prepare the new ground at Readville Station (which Mr. Wilder reported was twenty-eight acres in extent, and had been purchased for $7,500, the proceeds of the sale of the old ground at Dedham) for the next Fair, to be held in September next. The new diplomas it was voted to have signed by the Honorary President, Hon. Marshall P. Wilder, in addition to the other officers of the Society.

It is a condition of all licenses for billiard rooms and bowling alleys, as well as all other public exhibitions and entertainments given in Lynn, that they shall close as early as ten o'clock on Saturday nights, and half-past ten on all other nights of the week. A violation of this condition works the forfeiture of the license, and any officer who fails to enforce it is responsible for a neglect of duty.

The "Milk Bill," which punishes any one selling, exchanging or having in possession with intent to sell, adulterated or watered milk, knowingly or not, has passed both branches of the Legislature. The penalty is not less than $20 nor more than $100 for each offense.

DISINTERESTED PATRIOTS. For the seventy-five or eighty positions in the office of Superintendent of the United States Treasury there are more than 1,500 applications.

RAIL ROAD DETENTION. The afternoon train on the South Shore road were detained on Tuesday last, owing to an accident to the freight train, which ran off the track at Weymouth Landing in consequence of the misplacement of a switch. The obstructions were removed about nine o'clock P. M., and the trains proceeded on their passage to Cohasset.

Rev. Mrs. Hanaford has accepted the pastorate of the Universalist societies in Hingham and Waltham, at a salary of $1000 per year.

REDISTRIBUTION OF THE CURRENCY. The banking Committee of the House have finally come to an agreement on the Senate bill for the redistribution of the currency. They adopt the Senate scheme for the redistribution of $30,000,000 in ninety days, but amend it so that no existing bank shall have more than $1,000,000 circulation, and no bank hereafter organized more than $500,000. Provision is made for reducing the circulation of banks having over $1,000,000 circulation to that limit. Under this amendment one bank in Boston loses about $800,000, and five banks in New York city lose an aggregate of $10,000,000.—the Bank of Commerce alone losing about $1,000,000.

MUTILATED CURRENCY. In reference to the matter of mutilated and repaired national currency being received for internal revenue taxes, where no part of the note is missing the Commissioner of Internal Revenue expresses the opinion that collectors must take them, and the Comptroller of the Currency also thinks the department is legally bound to take them of the depositaries; but the Secretary of the Treasury has not yet decided to modify the order to the Assistant Treasurers in regard to throwing them out. It is believed, however, that upon further consideration the Secretary will order the Treasurers to receive them, in order to produce a harmony in the accounts of collectors and depositaries, which is now utterly impossible.

A young woman in Chicago has invented a new branch of female usefulness. She advertises that she will "give lessons in etiquette, and the way of conversing with ladies, to any young gentleman who does not feel at ease in the society of the opposite sex. Tuition to lovers, extra." She makes a specialty of proposals in various forms.

A singular case is reported in one of our exchanges: Forty years ago a blooming young girl of sixteen married an old man of sixty for his money, expecting that he would soon die and leave her a wealthy young widow. "Hope deferred maketh the heart sick," and last week the lady died at the respectable age of fifty-six, leaving a husband, aged one hundred, and four children to mourn her loss.

Veterinary Surgeons all over the country are recommending Sheridan's Cerebral Condition Powders for the following troubles in horses:—Loss of appetite, roughness of the hair, stoppage of the bowels or water, thick water, coughs and colds, swelling of the glands, worms, horse ail, thick wind, and heaves.

THE LIQUOR LAW. The Bill which passed the House of Representatives on Wednesday, repeals the License Law and revives the Prohibitory Law except in a few particulars. Cider may be kept for sale, not to be drunk on the premises, and the acts do not apply to the manufacture of cider. The State Commissioner is to have a salary of $4000 a year, with an additional sum equal to seven per cent, on the capital furnished by him, which capital shall not exceed $40,000, the profits to be paid into the State Treasury. Towns of 4000 inhabitants or less, may, at their option, appoint one or more agents for the sale of liquors, to be subject to fine and imprisonment for adulteration or selling at an advance greater than fifteen per cent, on their cost. A State Inspector and Assayer is to be appointed at a salary of $3000, who shall be engaged in no other business, and whose duty it shall be to analyze the liquor of the State Commissioner and all others sent to him by officers of the State, to keep a record of the same and report the result. The officers to enforce the law shall visit the town and city agents once in three months and take samples of the liquors to be assayed, and the possession of adulterated liquors shall be considered prima facie evidence of the intent to sell the same. All intoxicating liquors other than malt liquors and wines, containing less than thirty-five per cent, of absolute alcohol shall be considered as adulterated.

THE OLDEST LAND. Professor Agassiz says that the strip of "highlands" which divides the waters flowing into the St. Lawrence from those flowing into the Atlantic, is the oldest land in the world. It was once a lonely sea beach, washed by the universal ocean.

Two ladies in Lancaster lately started out with petitions, one for signatures asking the legislature to give women the privilege of voting, the other praying the legislature to allow women to remain in their present sphere. The latter ran ahead, 26 to 1.

WAKEFIELD BANNER. This new competitor in the field of journalism, occasionally finds its way to our table. It is a weekly issue, printed on a large sheet, good type and fair paper; its editorial and mechanical departments display much talent and good taste. It professes to be neutral in its character,—that is, it has a modest way of expressing its opinions on the leading subjects of the day, but to correspondents and advertising patrons, it is particularly affable and courteous. We welcome the publisher to all the pleasures and honors of a country editor, but none of the annoyances of grubbing, non-paying subscribers, or self-opinionated friends, who seem to think, that without their seasoning, your weekly mental repast would be unpalatable. The location we think is well chosen, for such an enterprise. Wakefield is a thriving village of about ten thousand inhabitants, distant from the city, ten miles, which may be reached almost any hour of the day by railroad, and reposing amidst most romantic scenery,—towering hills, whose rough outlines contrast pleasantly with the softer hues of lakes and meadows,—a cozy retreat, for the weary, to shake off the dust of the city and enjoy the coveted repose.

The advantages of a local paper on the prosperity of a place, by giving it a name and character abroad, and as a medium to develop the social virtues at home, by a weekly interchange of thought and sentiment, needs but a trial to be appreciated. We therefore say, neighbor, keep your Banner spread, the breeze of public favor of those with whose interest you are now identified, will steadily bear you on your course, and our friends will cheerfully commend your enterprise.

"Barrett's" can't be beat.

Summary Intelligence.

A youthful wedding is to come off in New York next week. The bride is fifteen and her partner seventeen years old.

A church vestry in South Hadley is used for a velocipede rink.

A cargo of sugar valued at $85,000 entered New Haven harbor a few days since, the duties on which will be $18,000 in gold.

Cleveland has a woman, who in addition to previous exploits, has married seven times in eight years. Two of her husbands are dead and the other five, from four of whom she was divorced, still live. Her daughter, now seventeen, has been twice married and twice divorced, and is ready to try it again.

Boston pays about $2,300,000 annually for milk.

The railroads are arranging excursion tickets to be good during the month of June, so that all "the country cousins" can visit the Peace Jubilee, in Boston.

Owing to storms which have prevented receipts from Canada, and the purchase of 300,000 feet of lumber for the Coliseum, the price of the article has gone up to $24 per thousand, in Boston.

The oldest house in the United States is now standing at Guilford, (Conn.) It was built in 1640.

Fall River has 523,900 spindles in operation.

Seventy-nine men have been killed and ten seriously injured by coming in contact with bridges while upon the railroad cars in the State since 1850.

"Barrett's" has a high reputation.

A diligent reader of the Scripture has discovered that the velocipede, and the one-wheeled variety, was predicted more than two thousand years ago. See Ezekiel 1, 15-21.

The planet Jupiter, with all his belts and satellites, can now be plainly seen with the aid of the telescope any clear evening. This planet, the largest in the solar system, is about twelve hundred times greater than the earth. As seen through the telescope it presents a disc about the size of a tea plate; traces of its belts being visible near and parallel with its equator.

A BRAVE GIRL. In Newport harbor, one day last week, a boat containing two soldiers from Fort Adams and a boy was upset. The boy was drowned, but the soldiers clung to the boat, and when nearly exhausted, were rescued by Miss Ida Lewis, of Lime Rock Light. This young lady, who is not yet twenty-four years old, has already saved from drowning ten persons, and yet so far the only acknowledgment she has received has been a number of complimentary letters and requests for her picture. It is time that something more substantial was done for this noble girl, who is as modest as she is brave. In her retired and lonely life she is known to but few, but she will be remembered with love and gratitude by those who have heard of her self-sacrificing efforts in the cause of humanity.

A bill has been favorably reported in the New York Legislature providing for the inspection of patent medicines. The Inspectors are required to ascertain their ingredients, and report the same annually to the Legislature and to the State Medical Society. There is a law analogous to this in about every country of Europe.

CUBA. The population of Cuba a year ago was estimated at 1,370,000, of which 695,550 were colored and 764,500 were whites. About three-fourths of the entire population reside in the Western Department of the I-land, which has so far been pretty free from the revolutionary troubles.

"Barrett's Universal Hair Restorative."

SPECIE PAYING INCIDENT. A gentleman stepped into a larger beer saloon in Syracuse the other day and bought two glasses of the beverage for himself and a friend, and threw down a ten cent silver coin. The Teuton never having seen one before—two years—thought he was imposed upon, and it was some time before he could be convinced that it was at once the currency of our land, and its value was real. "Mein Gott in Himmel! this is der scheschie bayment vat I read so many dings about and never see no time before."—New York Herald.

The Riverside Echo, published at Portland, tells the following story of a dog: "The children were in the habit of sliding down a hill near the house, accompanied by a favorite dog. Early one morning they discovered that the dog had taken the sled, drawn it to the top, and was now sliding down hill alone by himself; and this was frequently repeated."

A lady in Boston has been teacher in one Sabbath School for fifty years. Young America uses "Barrett's."

A friend of ours who is chief clerk in the Governmental Dispensary, says, that no medicine chest is now complete without Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. We always supposed it was prescribed by law; if it is not, it ought to be, for certainly there is nothing in the whole materia medica so much important to the soldier and the sailor as "Johnson's Anodyne Liniment."

The Quincy Patriot.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

WANTED IMMEDIATELY!
At this office, a lad from 16 to 18 years old, who would like to learn the Printer's Trade. A good boy will find this a rare chance.

PASTORAL LABORS CLOSED. Rev. Herman Bishop preached his farewell discourse, in the Universalist Church, on Sunday last, to a large audience. It was a good production, apparently coming from the heart, and showing in no small measure the rare intellectual abilities of the man. He spoke of the good feeling existing in the Society, of the kind and uniform relations existing between each and all its members and himself since he had been with them, closing by giving some excellent advice, which was well received.

PURCHASED. We learn that the "Packard Lot" corner of Hancock and Sea streets, has been bargained for by the Orthodox Society, for a site for their new church. The sale is not yet learned complete and cannot be until after the Guardian's Sale, which is advertised in our columns to take place on the first of May.

A SINGULAR CIRCUMSTANCE. It is perhaps not generally known that E. Granville Pratt, Esq. of this town, lost his pocket book, containing about seventy-five dollars and railroad tickets, sometime in July last. Nothing more was heard of it until quite recently, when in making repairs upon the house at that time occupied by him, it was found on the embankment thereof, in a most dilapidated condition, by Mr. James S. Baxter, of the well-known firm of Bailey & Baxter, of this town, and was promptly returned to the owner. The money was nearly ruined, having lain under the snow all winter. With great difficulty the portions of the bills were carefully put together, and sent to the several banks from which they were issued, and $55.55 were redeemed and returned.

In these degenerate days, it is so rare that we are called upon to record such acts of honesty, that it becomes truly refreshing.

ANNUAL MEETING. At an adjournment of the annual meeting of the Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Company, which was held on the seventh instant, the following Directors were unanimously elected for the year ensuing:

William S. Morton, of Quincy.
Israel W. Munroe, " " Whitcomb Porter, " "
William B. Daggan, " "
Thomas Curtis, " "
Chas. A. Howland, " "
Henry H. Faxon, " "
John Hardwick, " " Charles Brock, " Milton.
Ebenzer Gay, of Boston.
R. B. Leathers, " " Alfred Loring, of Hingham.
George Marston, of Barnstable.
H. W. Blanchard, of Dorchester.
Sumner A. Hayward, of N. Bridgewater.
Royal W. Turner, of Randolph.
Solomon J. Beal, of Cohasset.
J. Alta Davis, of West Roxbury.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, William S. Morton, was elected President; I. W. Munroe, Treasurer; Charles A. Howland, Secretary, and W. O. Howland, Assistant Secretary.

This company is one of the most prosperous in the State. It now has a cash fund of over three hundred thousand; an increase the past year of $56,176.37, or over one thousand dollars per week; and a surplus fund of nearly one hundred thousand. We learn that it intends to increase its dividends the ensuing year. The prosperity of this company is due in a great measure to the good management it has had. It started small, and little by little it continued to increase, until its influence began to be felt and its funds to accumulate, under the guidance of our late lamented townsman, Stephen Bates, Esq. Its greatest success however has been in the past few years, under the present careful and energetic Secretary, when its increase, in a pecuniary sense, seems to be beyond bounds. May it continue in its upward course, and in a very short time it will stand second to none in the New England States. For full particulars of its eighteenth annual statement, see notice in another column.

FIRE. The cabinet manufactory of Mr. Samuel Graves, at North Weymouth, near the Quincy Point bridge, we learn, was set on fire on Saturday evening last. But by a lucky discovery, it was extinguished before much damage, or a general alarm given.

A BEAUTIFUL DISPLAY. The city presented a very novel and beautiful auroral appearance on Thursday evening last. The finest display was between seven and eight o'clock. A belt of white shot up from the east and broad banks of red, green and other colors, reaching from the eastern to the western horizon and as far south as the eye could reach, suddenly changed into knots overhead, forming a gauze like canopy which sent forth broad rays in every direction. Later in the evening it worked farther to the north but was not so splendid. Dispatches from Philadelphia and New York describe the phenomena as seen from those points, and state also that in certain sections telegraph lines were worked without batteries for a quarter of an hour.

WANTED. It will be seen by our advertising columns that a large quantity of chestnut posts is wanted, and also persons to build 6,000 feet of fence around the new fair grounds at Hyde Park.

The regular monthly concert of the Sabbath School connected with the Orthodox Society, on Sunday evening, was very good; an unusually large number were present to enjoy it. If more such concerts could be held in the churches in this place, we think it would be much better for the community.

The Hibernian Minstrels who open at Town Hall, Saturday evening, will be well worth going to see. Every place where they have appeared, the papers speak of them in the highest terms. No doubt they will have a crowded house.

George Francis Train will lecture in the Town Hall, on Tuesday evening next.

Subject: "His experience of British Government as administered in Ireland." It will undoubtedly be a very interesting lecture, and must, we think, call out a large audience. Tickets 25 cents.

GUARDIAN'S SALE IN BRAINTREE. We would call the attention of our readers particularly those in BRAINTREE, to the large sale of real estate on Thursday next, by Jonathan French. The property belongs to Harvey White, and three pieces of the same are situated within a few minutes walk of the North Braintree depot, and will be sold separately at eleven o'clock in the forenoon. There is also three lots within five minutes walk of the South Braintree Depot, which will be sold at two o'clock in the afternoon.

We learn that a purse of $300 is being made up for Miss Ida Lewis, the "Grace Darling" of Lime Rock Light, by the officers and soldiers of Fort Adams. The Providence Press says the presentation will be quite seasonable, as Miss Lewis is about to make a worthy young man happy for life. The two soldiers who were rescued from drowning by Miss Lewis, have presented to her a gold watch and chain valued at one hundred and fifty dollars.

We would call attention to the sale of furniture at the residence of Joseph Randall, at Quincy Neck, on Monday next, at 1 o'clock.

THE LIQUOR LICENSES. A bill was passed through both branches of the legislature on Wednesday, providing that no license for the sale of liquor shall be granted after the 30th of April, the mover, Mr. Holden of Salem, expressing a doubt whether the new liquor law would be in force by that time, and should licenses be granted he feared that they could not be revoked.

It is expected that the Legislature will be able to complete its business and adjourn by the 20th of next month.

FURNITURE FOR THE WHITE HOUSE. Congress having passed a resolution just prior to adjournment, making the appropriation of $26,000 for refurnishing the White House during the coming fiscal year, available at once, Gen. Mieller, the Commissioner of Public Buildings, has commenced making purchases.

The principal bands of the city of New York have arranged to be present, and participate in the performance at the grand National Peace Jubilee in Boston, on the 17th of June next, including Grania's, Dabworth's, Wallack's and Downing's, besides four hundred musicians who will also assist in the grand Oratorios.

STEAMBOAT COLLISION. As the steamer Old Colony of the Newport Line, with freight and passengers for Boston, was leaving New York Tuesday, she came in contact with a steamer belonging to the Neptune line, receiving some slight damage. She returned to her dock and landed her passengers who were brought on by the steamer Narragansett.

FEMALE PREACHING. Widow Van Coot is a licensed Methodist preacher in New York, and the New York Conference, now in session, is agitated over the question of allowing her to continue in the pastoral work. It is stated as an evidence of her service to the cause of religion, that nearly two thousand persons have been converted under her ministrations during the past year, and she is represented as being very eloquent, earnest and effective in her pulpit services. The question at issue is whether or not the Conference shall license women to preach at all. Mrs. Van Coot is said to be the only licensed female preacher of any denomination in New York.

The total amount of appropriations made during the first session of the Forty-First Congress, just closed, is $11,173,478 99; of which $6,256,755 41 is in Indian appropriation bill, $2,000,000 for river and harbor improvements, and $2,905,723 58 by deficiency bill.

PETER'S MUSICAL REVIEW for April is to hand, and in addition to fifteen pages of select reading matter, contains the following new and beautiful music: "Ain't I Sweet?"—a lady's comic song. "Rest, Darling, Rest!"—a beautiful lullaby. "I'm Still a Friend to You?"—song and chorus. "He Wipes the Tear from every Eye?"—sacred song. "Forest Glade March." "Damsel Rose Waltz." "Golden Sunset Mazurka."

Our musical friends will do well to examine this work, and we feel confident that thirty cents sent to the publishers for a sample copy, will yield them a larger return for their investment than any similar outlet they can make. Send for a copy, or get your newsdealer to get one for you, and we will guarantee you will thank us for calling your attention to it.

It is issued by J. L. Peters, music publisher, box 5429, New York, at the low price of $3 a year, or thirty cents for single copies.

THE COMPLIMENTARY CONCERT.

We accidentally omitted to send for your columns last week a notice of the Concert given on the 5th instant, in compliment to Mr. H. B. Brown, our well-known singer and musical Director.

On that occasion we formed and renewed some very pleasant musical acquaintances. The Misses Clark, of Boston, are true daughters of song, and their full, clear, sympathetic voices, unaffected manners, and willingness to oblige, soon won the hearts of their auditors, and they received a large share of the honors of the evening.

The ballad singing of Miss M. E. Clark, deserves special mention.

Her pianist accompanied well and played with taste and in good time, but her solos lacked the power and expression which she would have given to them with a grand piano.

Miss Sargent, of Worcester, though suffering from a severe cold, gave "The Merry Birds," in a manner which showed her to be a cultivated lover of her art.

Miss Arnold sang as she always does, well, and gave convincing proof that she has made good use of her musical talents and opportunities.

We think that Mrs. Brown deserves especial commendation for the decidedly finished and artistic style in which she gave "O Lucie di quest'anima." To our taste, music and rendering considered, it was the highest satisfaction of the evening.

Mr. Perkins was also suffering from cold, and though he sang very well, could not do himself justice. We have heard this gentleman elsewhere, and know of what we speak.

The deep, full tone of Mr. Hayward's bass told finely in the quartette and chorus pieces. His voice is worth a great deal more of attention than he gives to its cultivation.

Mr. Huntress and Mr. Chase acquitted themselves with credit.

The beneficiary of the evening sang with power and energy as usual, but in our judgment made his best points in his comic songs.

We were disappointed in the trio from Attala, and some other points of criticism suggest themselves to us, but for all that, I enjoyed the Concert very much, and hope it may be repeated at an early day.

CONCERT-GOER.

SPRING MILLINERY. Miss Hussey has just received a splendid assortment of spring and summer Millinery. Ladies will do well to give her a call.

BRAINTREE. At a meeting of the citizens of the town, held on the 14th instant, a Committee was chosen, one from each School District, to appraise the property used for school purposes, throughout the town, and report to the Selectmen, and that their appraisement shall be final. Also, they requested the General School Committee, to report at an adjourned meeting the wants and conditions of the town in regard to school houses, &c., with a view to building new, in one portion of the town, and repairs on others.

Rev. J. H. Chapin, of Boston, will preach in the Universalist Church, to-morrow.

In the State Senate, on Saturday, last the resolve granting $50,000 to the Massachusetts Agricultural College was passed, with the amendment proposed the day previous. A motion to reconsider the rejection of the resolve in favor of the free technical school in Worcester was made and laid on the table.

We would call the attention of readers to the sale of two light express wagons in BRAINTREE. For particulars, see notice in another column.

DEATH OF AN EDITOR. Charles O. Rogers, editor and proprietor of the Boston Journal, died of consumption, at his residence in Boston, on Thursday evening, at the age of fifty-one years. He was a man whose ability and enterprise had commanded remarkable success in his business, and his death will be severely felt among his large circle of friends and acquaintances.

CARPETINGS CHEAP. A grand chance is now offered our citizens by carpeting at reasonable prices. It will be seen by our advertising column that the New England Carpet Company, 75 Hanover street, Boston, are obliged to vacate their store, and are determined to dispose of their stock. Persons visiting Boston in search of Carpeting should not fail to give them a call.

ADJOURNMENT OF CONGRESS. The first session of the Forty-first Congress, beginning on the 4th of March last, ended on Saturday last. Among the principal bills passed at this session and now laws of the land are the modified Tenure-of-Office Bill, the bill defining certain rules of practice in the courts of the United States and allowing judges of the Supreme Court to resign on full pay if seventy years of age or more, and if they shall have served in the court for a period of ten years, and the bill for the reconstruction and restoration of the three outside States of Virginia, Mississippi and Texas.

"Barrett's" the most approved.

FATAL CHILD'S QUARREL. At Ebersburg, Butler County, (Pa.) on Sunday last, two children of Mr. Martin, aged respectively nine and five years, quarrelled, when the younger stabbed the elder, causing his death in two hours afterward.

"Barrett's" is highly perfumed.

"Johnson's Anodyne Liniment" may be administered to children with perfect success, in cases of croup, whooping-cough, influenza, and almost any of the diseases, to which they are liable.

"Barrett's" satisfies everybody.

THE CELEBRATION.

Hartford, Conn., April 18th, 1869.

DEAR PATRIOT:

In reading your valuable paper recently, I was somewhat surprised, and greatly pleased, to see that the citizens of Quincy, are making extensive preparations for a fitting celebration of the coming anniversary of our National Independence. I was somewhat surprised, I say, because for many years past, the day has not been observed in Quincy in the spirit it should be, and I have thought that the people had silently concluded to let it come and pass, in the most quiet manner possible. I am pleased, to feel, to know, that there is some of the spirit of Hancock and Adams left in the hearts of the people, and that they will rise up this year, and celebrate the day with bonfires and illuminations, with tears, and thankful hearts, that through all the trials and dangers of the last eight years, we have still a Country free and independent.

Wherever I chance to go, I find many ready and eager to inquire about Massachusetts, her people, manners, &c. There is, it appears, a peculiar interest felt in her welfare by all classes, and it is with feelings of pride, that I can say that I was born not only in Massachusetts, but in Quincy, her most historic town. I earnestly hope that all the citizens will unite together in making the coming celebration a success; an occasion to be remembered as a fitting anniversary of the day when Liberty throughout the land, and unto all the inhabitants thereof, was first proclaimed from the old town bell in Philadelphia.

For the Patriot.

THE LATE JOSIAH HAYDEN. The demise of this gentleman on Monday morning last, at the ripe age of fourscore years, was an event which the family in some measure had been prepared for, by a painful affection of the lungs, to which exhausted Nature at last yielded. Mr. Hayden was a native of Quincy, as were his father and grandfather before him. He belonged to a race, who emigrated to this town, when the red man held its fair domains as hunting grounds; that infant colony of pioneers, whose indomitable courage, self-sacrifices, perseverance, and honest integrity, redeemed a vast wilderness from its savage state, and laid the foundation for a great and powerful nation. He took a deep interest in all that related to the welfare of his native land, by a free and open expression of his opinions on what he considered to be its best interests. As a citizen and neighbor he was always held in respect and esteem, and in the domestic circle, as husband and parent, he was the centre of the affections of his household. Gentle and affable in his nature, he drew around him friends, who share with his aged consort, and the bereaved members of the family, their sympathies in their affliction.

THE OLD LAND THE BEST. A number of citizens of Newton County, Georgia, who left for Honduras shortly after the war, have returned to their old homes, perfectly satisfied with the anticipation of wealth and happiness in another land.

TESTIMONIALS.

FROM THE BOSTON CULTIVATOR.

Ex-Gov. Holbrook on Bradley's Super-Phos-

phate. I have used Bradley's Super-Phosphate

of Lime for several years, with invariably good

manufacturing it.

Bradley's Super-Phosphate is excellent for about

every vegetable grown in the garden;—for

various lawns, and the various shrubs cultivated therein; for corn and potatoes in field

cultivation; and especially when sowing land to

seed, or in spring, with grass seeds alone in August and September.

By applying, say 300 lbs. of Super-Phosphate

per acre, with the grain and grass seeds in spring,

the straw is much stiffer, the crop less liable

to lodge, the heads are larger and the stems

plump, while grass seeds catch well and give a stand.

Turning over old bound-up mowing or sward

land in August, and applying, say 500 lbs. of

Super-Phosphate per acre and reseeded directly

to grass, without taking a crop of grain, will give

an increased quantity and improved quality of

hay crops for three or four years following; or if

treatment, for corn, potatoes, and other very rich

soils, for quite a number of years, or pastures which cannot be plowed will be much improved by treating with Bradley's Super-Phosphate.

F. HOLBROOK.

Brattleboro', Vermont, Jan. 20 1869.

From HON. GEORGE B. LORING, President of the

New England Agricultural Society. "I have used every variety, and have found none which operated more effectually and permanently than

your's."

From REV. HENRY WASH BEECHER. "A second season's trial confirms the good opinion

which I formed of it, both for farm and garden

crops."

From EX-GOVERNOR CONY, of Maine. "It was

equal to any fertilizer of its class ever used by me,

and I can confidently recommend it as of great agricultural utility. I shall continue to use it, quite largely."

From EX-GOVERNOR FLETCHER, of Vermont. "I am fully satisfied that it is a very useful and

valuable article for the farmer."

necticut. "I used your Super-Phosphate of Lime

on grapes, corn, potatoes, and other very rich

soils, and the results were especially beneficial."

From PROF. OTTO WIRTH, Analytical Chemist

of such a composition cannot be surpassed."

From DR. MARSHALL P. WILDER. "I have

ever considered it as one of the most economical

and useful of all."

the result of its application."

effect was wonderful."

hesitation in recommending your Super-Phosphate

ELIAS HOWE

SEWING MACHINES,

Are celebrated for doing the BEST WORK,

using a much smaller needle for the same

thread than any other Machine.

SEWING of all kinds, such as HEMMING,

FEELING, BINDING, CORDING, BRAIDING,

SEAMING, QUILTING, TUCKING, GATHERING,

and all other work, done in a superior manner, on

our Family Machines.

Some valuable improvements have recently

superior to those made heretofore. Ladies who

use our Family Machines, cannot fail to be grati-

fied and pleased with their operation; as they are

experienced with most machines.

Experience has proved that there is but one

really good Sewing Machine, and that one

is the HOWE STITCH, or more commonly

known as the "LOCK STITCH." The advantages

of the Howe Lock Stitch consist in its economy

(having the same appearance on both sides), and

the fact that it cannot be unravelled.

The Howe Machines are better made; they

are free from disagreeable noise; they are much

order, they cost less for repairs.

They combine the greatest simplicity and

durability with the greatest variety in operation,

and for all household sewing.—Skirt, Dress,

BEST MACHINES IN THE WORLD.

The Howe Machines have taken the Premium

for the Best Work wherever they have been in competition with other Machines. This arises

from the fact that they are constructed of the best material, and in the best manner.

This Machine can be seen in operation at

MAY FESTIVAL. The perfect success of the Festival last year, and the urgent request of a large number of children for a repetition this year, together with the fact, that the outdoor sports incident to May Day, would be exposing the healths of the children, the manager of last year, has made arrangements on a large scale for a most enjoyable time, in the Town Hall, and all who attend, may be sure of complete satisfaction in another column.

See advertisement in another column.

JURORS. Messrs. Rinaldo L. Lee and Hanson Bailey have been chosen to serve as jurors at the Civil Session of the April Term of the Superior Court for Norfolk County.

SUICIDE. Miss Sarah C. Lewis, an elderly lady, residing near Mr. Morrison's factory in Braintree, was found dead in the street, nearly in front of Mr. Prescott's ice house, on Tuesday afternoon last. Coroner French of Braintree was called and an inquest was held. Verdict rendered by the jury was that she came to her death from a pistol discharged in her mouth by herself. Noah Torrey a physician of the place was called who probed the wound found in the back of her head, and gave in his evidence according to the above verdict. Miss Lewis had been to Boston in the fore part of the day, purchased some things and visited some friends who observed nothing unusual in her manner. A lad of about twelve years, who was at work in her garden, digging holes for some trees which she had purchased, went to the house soon after her return from the city to get a drink of water, found her lying on the floor groaning. He left immediately and gave the alarm. While absent consciousness returned and she got up and went into another room and then into the street and ran a distance of two hundred feet, then fell and expired. No cause can be assigned for the rash act, though insanity had prevailed in her family. She leaves no near relatives. Miss Lewis owned the house she occupied and considerable other property. She had spent a thousand dollars or more within a short time in repairing her place. She was formerly of West Scituate.

AN EARTHQUAKE. We have the honor, not the pleasure, of reporting a real earthquake, which is said to have come off in this vicinity, on Thursday afternoon last, at three o'clock precisely. It was not a "great shake," but sufficient to excite the nervous sensibilities of those who heard it; who aver, that the sound was slow and sluggish, like that produced by a heavy team passing over a hard, iron-bound road, or the fall of heavy bodies, and of about eight or ten seconds duration. We had thought these spasmodic emotions of Dame Nature, were confined to the equatorial or more vital part of her system, and not way up here, in these frozen regions, among Puritans, greasy Esquimaux, white bears, and the aurora borealis.

FIRE. The residence of Levi L. White, at Quincy Neck, was slightly damaged by fire on Monday afternoon last. The fire is supposed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion, as the family was absent at the time. Smoke was first seen coming through the roof by persons in that vicinity.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING. A party of young ladies and gentlemen, while enjoying a sail on Sunday afternoon, in the Canal, was upset by a gust of wind, and some came near losing their lives. The accident was seen by some of their friends who hastened to their rescue. One of the party was senseless, and another nearly so when they reached the shore; but were soon restored to consciousness.

SPRING TIME. The warm weather of the past week and the warm showers of Wednesday have produced a magical change in the appearance of the country. Where a day or two since there was hardly a blade of grass to be seen, now there is a beautiful green carpet. The buds on the trees are swelling and bursting into young leaves; the crocuses and hyacinths are showing their brilliant colors, and the birds are warbling their sweetest notes of rejoicing at the return of spring.

MONUMENTAL AND MARBLE WORKS. It is a duty we owe to ourselves, to the living as well as the dead, and to those whose names we wish still to live on marble, whether parent, child or relative, in the discharge of this sacred rite, to see that our feelings spring from such emotions, as would be worthy of those to whom our affections are thus dedicated. Happily for this generation, art has come in to their assistance in such undertakings. Eminent artists have devoted particular attention to this branch of their profession, and the most beautiful designs, of rare workmanship, have taken form and shape, from the rough, unchiseled granite and marble. Of this class of artists, is Mr. McGrath, of this town; at his manufactory, may be seen many such specimens; to whose attention, and his card in another column of our paper to-day, we recommend to the favorable notice of the reader.

POCKET PICKING. A Mrs. Wild of Weymouth, while in Boston, one day last week, had her pocket picked of her purse containing $12 and a pair of gold-bowed spectacles. Our readers should beware of lady-pick-pockets when on their shopping excursions to the city.

The population of New York city is estimated at 1,118,767.

For the Patriot.

RESIGNED.

In the resignation of Mrs. Emily A. Hardwick, so long and so well known as a teacher in our public schools, the district has had a serious loss. One so admirably qualified by temperament, education and experience, to lead and teach youth, we seldom have. With a heart and soul in her work, she carried her pupils forward earnestly, rapidly and thoroughly. We mean no disparagement to any of our many good teachers, neither fulsome praise in her behalf, but that she stands pre-eminent in her profession, her past record attests; and that she has resigned, is much regretted by nearly all of the parents of the Adams School District.

MANY PARENTS.

Quincy, April 21, 1869.

THE PEACE FESTIVAL. The program of the Musical Festival at the Town Hall, for five days, and the second week will witness the competition of the leading bands in this country. The holiday and musical season will in reality commence on the 15th of June and continue till the 5th of July. Orders have already been issued to reduce the fare to one-half the usual prices from Chicago, St. Louis and Cincinnati.

MINISTERS TO ENGLAND. Mr. Motley will be the sixth citizen of Massachusetts representing the United States at the Court of St. James. His predecessors from this Commonwealth have been John Quincy Adams, Abbott Lawrence, George Bancroft, Edward Everett, and C. F. Adams. Of the six illustrious names mentioned above, four were natives of this county, John Quincy Adams, and his son, Charles Francis Adams, born in Quincy; and Edward Everett, and J. Lothrop Motley, born in Dorchester.

Rev. B. H. Davis, of Medford, will preach in the Universalist Church to-morrow.

The entertainment by the Hibernian Minstrels at the Town Hall, on Saturday evening last, attracted quite a large company. The entertainment was one of a pleasing character. The singing was excellent—the humorous remarks, stump speeches, etc., causing much merriment, and were received by the audience with words of applause. We hope they will visit us again soon, and afford another opportunity to attend their concert.

Gov. Claflin has approved the Bill concerning the challenging of jurors, by which, in all criminal causes, in addition to the challenge now provided for, when the offence charged is a capital offence, or may be punished by imprisonment for life, the Commonwealth is entitled, before the trial commences, to challenge peremptorily five of the jurors from the panel called to try the cause. On a trial for any other offence the Commonwealth is in like manner to peremptorily challenge two of the jurors from the panel called to try the cause.

CONDITION OF THE TREASURY. The receipts from Internal Revenue and Customs are considerably in advance of last year's estimates. The estimates of Commissioner Wells for the revenue was $150,000,000, while the receipts to date are $110,000,000, with ten weeks remaining of the fiscal year for which the receipts cannot be less than $50,000,000, which will make the aggregate at least $10,000,000 or 12,000,000 in excess of Mr. Wells's estimate.

TRIAL AND VERDICT. The trial of Mrs. Eliza F. Holmes, of East Stoughton, for procuring abortion on Mrs. Elizabeth Blanchard, of South Weymouth, in November last, causing her death, was commenced before the Superior Court at Dedham, on Thursday last week, the defendant being so sick that it was necessary to carry her into the Court room, where she sat with her counsel, supported by pillows in a large easy chair.

The case was tried on two counts, for manslaughter and procuring abortion. The case was finished on Wednesday last, the jury after being out all night, returned a verdict of guilty on the second count.

DR. STOCKING. 19 Tremont Row, Boston, still continues to devote his personal attention to dental operations. The excellence of his work is well known and highly appreciated by all who have employed him.

OUR SCHOOLDAY VISITOR. The charm of this popular Magazine consists, in a great measure, in its excellent variety, and the wholesome manner in which it is presented. In almost any number will be found something adapted to the varied Little Folks, just lisping their "First Lessons," on up to the fathers and mothers. In fact, we believe that Our School-day Visitor is not only a first class boys' and girls' magazine, but a household necessity in every family. The last number which is now before us, more than ever sustains us in this belief.

THE STATE HOUSE REPAIRS. Mr. Stone, the ex-Speaker of the House, who had the principal charge of the repairs of the State House, of which so much has been said, has had a thorough hearing on the matter before a Committee of the present Legislature, and has published a pamphlet containing the principal points of the evidence. The facts produced before the Committee, in the judgment of most impartial persons, are a satisfactory vindication of Mr. Stone's management of the complicated business entrusted to his charge.

"Barrett's" cleanses the scalp. We have heard cured of several cases of spinal disease cured by "Johnson's Anodyne Liniment," one case of a man forty-five years old, who had not done a day's work for four years. The back should first be washed, then rubbed with a coarse towel. Apply the Liniment cold, and rub in well with the hand.

A Word or Two about the Coliseum.

The Coliseum, now in course of construction on St. James Park and vicinity, will have a seating capacity for the easy accommodation of 16,300 spectators, and a standing room beneath the gallery and promenade for an immense number of persons. The promenade gallery, the floor of which will be raised two feet above that of the seat gallery, has a width of ten feet, and is unbroken in its entire circuit of the structure, 1,600 feet. The floor of the Coliseum will be raised two feet above that of the seat gallery, has a width of ten feet, and is unbroken in its entire circuit of the structure, 1,600 feet.

During the last year the Chicago police arrested nineteen constables, and then failed to capture all the rogues there are among them. Instead of building sidewalks an Indiana town appropriates money to those who must use the streets with cavalry boots. An Omaha paper has established a department of betrothals.

A sea captain just arrived at New Orleans reports that when off Tortugas he steamed for two hours and a half through a tangled mass of snakes of all sizes and colors. The proposed bridge over the East river at New York is estimated to cost $6,000,000, and to require six years for its construction. It will be a mile in length.

More business was done at the Patent Office last month than in any preceding month since its establishment.

"Barrett's" makes new hair.

Abdul Aziz, the ruler of Turkey, receives for his valuable services $18,000 a day, or $6,000,000 a year, while Alexander of Russia receives as much for a day as Gen. Grant does for a year of official life. The national Baptist anniversary are to be held in Boston on the 18th, 19th, and 20th of May next. They will be attended by large delegations from all parts of the country.

Sick headache is said by an exchange to be cured in fifteen minutes by the use of two teaspoonfuls of finely powdered charcoal dissolved in half a tumbler of water.

$10,000 of the $40,000 appropriated by the town of Fitchburg for a soldiers' monument is to be raised by taxation, the present year. The shaft is to be one hundred feet in height.

A man in New York is learning to ride the velocipede on the tight rope, and proposes in that way to cross Niagara on his machine this summer.

No licenses for the sale of liquor can be granted in this State after the 30th of this month.

Mr. Vernon, N. H., claims the champion dirty man. He is 84 years old, and has never taken a bath in his life, or used a pocket handkerchief.

"Barrett's" removesandruff. Mr. A. T. Stewart's property on Broadway, New York, alone is worth about five millions. Mr. W. Astor's real estate on Broadway is worth about three millions. The Lorillard estate has eight millions invested in that thoroughfare.

Six thousand Swedes contemplate immigrating to Texas shortly.

It is said that among the numerous patrons of the clairvoyant fortune tellers in New York, none more liberally represented, or more credulous, than bankers and men controlling large commercial and manufacturing interests.

Ask all who use "Barrett's."

Town Meeting.

NORFOLK, SS. To either of the Constables

of the Town of Quincy, in said County.

Greeting:

In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, you are hereby required to notify and warn the inhabitants of the Town of Quincy, qualified to vote in Town Affairs, to meet at the Town Hall, in said Quincy, on SATURDAY, the First day of May next, at four o'clock in the afternoon, to act on the following articles, viz:—

ART. 1.—To choose a Moderator.

ART. 2.—To see if the Town will build a new School House in the West District or make such enlargement or alteration of the present building as may be deemed necessary, and make an appropriation for the same.

ART. 3.—To see if the Town will instruct the Selectmen to keep the School Houses in Town in good order, procure suitable places for Schools, when Schools are needed, and provide fuel and other things necessary for the use of the Public Schools.

ART. 4.—To see if the Town will allow N. B. Farnall to use a set of Scales suitable for weighing stone and other heavy articles in front of his premises, corner Coldington and Washington Streets, or take any other action in the matter.

ART. 5.—To see if the Town will adopt names for such streets as are not already named.

ART. 6.—To see if the Town will increase the price of lots in M. W. Wallston Cemetery.

ART. 7.—To choose any Committee, or act on the report of any Committee the Town may think proper.

Hereof full not, but make return of this warrant, with your doings thereon, unto the Town Clerk, on or before said day and time.

Given under our hands at Quincy, this twenty-third day of April, A. D. One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-nine.

NEW SCALES. Mr. N. B. Farnall is excavating the earth and laying the foundation for a large pair of Fairbanks's scales, capable of weighing fifteen tons, in front of his furniture store, on Washington street. Something of this kind has been long needed in this place, to accommodate our stone-teams and others who wish to weigh heavy loads. The old town scales being to light for such purposes.

TOWN MEETING. It will be seen by a warrant in this column that a meeting is called at 4 o'clock, on Saturday next, to see about building a new school house, &c.

Summary Intelligence.

During the last year the Chicago police arrested nineteen constables, and then failed to capture all the rogues there are among them.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

A PROMINENT CITIZEN DEPARTED.

Seth Adams, Esq., a well-known citizen of this town, died at his residence on Coddington street, on the 27th instant. He was stricken with paralysis, about two years since, which incapacitated him for the more active duties of life, although he retained the full vigor of his mental powers even to the last.

Mr. Adams, in his day, was an active business man—as a citizen, he had been honored with many offices of trust, the duties of which, he discharged with credit to himself and the satisfaction of the community. As an officer of the law, he ever leaned to the side of mercy, where justice held the balance. As a citizen, friend and neighbor, he was esteemed and respected. And in the tender relations of life—in the hearts of those most dear to him by the ties of nature, his memory will ever be cherished.

Mr. A. was a native of Milton, and moved to this place in 1817—a half-century ago.

FIRE. About one o'clock yesterday morning a small wooden building, on Washington street, nearly opposite the residence of Mr. Thompson Baxter was entirely destroyed by fire. It was owned by Mr. Abram Alrough and was moved several months since from Brackett street, where it was formerly owned by John McDowell. It was unoccupied and was undoubtedly set on fire. An alarm was given at the Point and the Alarm Engine was promptly on the spot. The other fire companies were not aroused.

TOWN MEETING. Our citizens must not forget to attend the meeting called at four o'clock this afternoon, in the Lyceum Room. All town meetings should be well attended as there is often business of importance transacted.

SALES OF REAL ESTATE. The attention of our reader is called to a Guardian's Sale, at one o'clock, this afternoon, at the corner of Hancock and Sea streets.

Also, to the sale of a house and land on Main street, at four o'clock, this afternoon, by Henry H. Faxon.

Mr. Faxon sold on Monday last at auction, several lots of land lying between Coddington and Sea streets, belonging to Mr. Seth Spear, to Messrs. Richard Newcomb, J. J. Kemp, and William Rhine.

Rev. G. J. Sanger, of Webster, will preach in the Universalist Church to-morrow.

ACCIDENT. We are sorry to learn that Edward E. son of Mr. E. S. Chapin of this town, fell from the third story of a building, where he was at work, corner of Hanover and Elm streets, in Boston, on Thursday last. We learn that no bones were broken but he was very badly bruised. He had presence of mind enough to control his fall in a measure, and thus to strike on a wooden projection placed in front of the building, on the side walk. By this caution his fall was not near as severe as it otherwise must have been.

PERSONAL. We regret to hear of the indisposition of Dr. Woodward. The community feel a special interest in his recovery. When the head becomes diseased the body must suffer. We hope soon to hear of his full restoration to health, and the resumption of his professional duties,—whose healing presence brought sunshine and hope to the sick chamber.

MILITARY. Co. C. 7th Reg. M. F. M. Officers Commissioned—D. Fred. French, of this town, Captain. Samuel B. Turner, of this town, 1st Lieutenant. D. C. Smith, of Boston, 2d Lieutenant.

Discharged—Captain John W. Martin.

A SAIL BOAT CAPSIZED. On Sunday afternoon last, two men named Leonard and Bixby attempted to sail from Dorchester to Squantum in a sloop called the Wanderer. Owing to lack of ballast, and in obedience to a high wind, the sloop capsized when off "Half Tide Pk" in Dorchester Bay. Their undertaking was considered a perilous one at the outset, and parties who watched them from the shore saw the mishap. The two men clinging to the floating hull until they were rescued by George Wheeler, and Captain Lincoln of the schooner H. B. Gibson.—Boston Herald.

WILSON & ALLEN. This firm are fitting up the building, No. 90 Hancock street, recently occupied by Mr. J. W. Lombard, as a first class Provision store, and intend moving into it next week. We are pleased at this evidence of the increasing prosperity of friend Wilson. He has ever shown his ability to provide for the community in his line, and we hope the community, in return, will provide for him, by bestowing on this enterprising firm their patronage.

Agentleman at Rockport a few months since was the owner of two beautiful canary birds, both splendid singers. They were kept in different rooms, but within sound of each other, there being only a thin partition between. One day last fall one of them sickened and died; the other continued to sing, but met with no response. The owner took the dead bird and laid it upon the edge of the other's cage, when the live one hopped down and picked at the dead one once or twice, then hopped back, and from that day to this, a period of four months, he has not sung a note. He has been placed in the neighborhood of other singers, but more than a single chirp has not come from him.—Gloucester Telegraph.

THE COLISEUM. The sides and ends of this structure are boarded up, most of the framework of the balconies are in place, and the work of putting up the heavy roof trusses is rapidly progressing. The first truss was fastened in its position on Wednesday, and five others are ready for raising. The extreme height of the trusses is eighty feet, and they will each be supported by four posts measuring from twelve to fourteen inches square, and placed at about equal distances apart. The side roofs meet the outer posts of these trusses at about five feet below their tops, thus leaving space for a range of windows along the whole side of the building, about sixty feet from the ground. The trusses (of which there are to be nineteen) are connected with each other by longitudinal bracing, and are strengthened by knees placed in the angles, and fastened by bolts and screws. When all the trusses are raised to their places, the great proportions of the building will be seen. Workmen are now employed in filling the low ground in the angle between the railroads and the building, in order to bring it up to the surrounding grade.

ACCIDENT. As Mr. Thompson Baxter was riding rapidly down Washington street, about seven o'clock last evening, one of the forward wheels of his buggy struck against an elm tree in front of Mr. Joseph Arty's store, breaking the axle short off, and throwing Mr. Baxter violently to the ground. Very fortunately no bones were broken.

ANNEXATION OF DORCHESTER. The Committee on Towns of the Legislature, concluded their hearing Wednesday evening on the subject of the annexation of Dorchester to Boston. Hon. Charles R. Train making the concluding argument in favor of the measure. It is believed the report of the committee will be favorable to annexation, and that the project will receive more favor from the Legislature than that of the annexation of Charlestown.

DECREASE IN THE PUBLIC DEBT.—The public debt statement, to be issued to-day, will, according to present prospects, exhibit a decrease of probably $2,000,000.

A rare chance to buy a new house cheap. See advertisement in another column.

NATIONAL BANK REPORTS. The reports from national banks under the call of the Comptroller to show their condition on the 17th instant, have come in quite rapidly. The exhibit made is on the whole very satisfactory. It is found that large numbers of banks, which in making up the quarterly returns, have been accustomed to show a slight excess of reserve fund, now show a slight deficiency, but the Comptroller looks upon this fact as one indicating a healthy state of affairs among the banks. The quarterly returns are of course prepared for weeks in advance, and are sure to look well, so favorable an exhibit of the actual working condition of the banks as a whole, was hardly expected and is quite gratifying. The number which will need admonishing is not large.

STATE TEMPERANCE ALLIANCE. The following resolution was passed by this body on Wednesday last:

"Resolved, That in our opinion the exemption of the sale of cider, and lager beer from the operation of the Prohibitory Law, as provided for by the recent action of the State Senate, is utterly destructive of the principle and power of the law; and that, as temperance men, we repudiate the proposed modified law as a measure promotive of temperance or beneficial to the varied social interests of the Commonwealth."

RECRUITING RESUMED. Recruiting for the army, which was entirely stopped a year ago, is to be resumed again, the infantry force being considerably below the maximum of the twenty-five regiments provided for by law. Recruiting stations have been established at New York, Cincinnati, St. Louis and San Francisco.

"Barrett's" keeps the hair moist.

STATE CONSTABULARY. The quarterly report of the State Constable for the quarter ending March 31, says the force made 1341 criminal prosecutions, of which 759 were for violations of the license law; seizures of gaming implements 9; fines and costs paid in $20,360.67; expense of force, $21,897.06.

A lady in Byfield recently stitched forty pairs of ladies' slippers per day, by hand, for eight days in succession, and earned twenty-four dollars, besides doing her housework and taking care of a dairy of three cows.

Reports from Georgia are generally favorable. There is a general demand for labor at improved rates, and every sort of a worker is in demand. In the southwestern part of the State the work of fencing and clearing is in progress, and extensive tracts are devoted to cotton, to the comparative neglect of corn. Property in the State is enhancing, and farms bring twice and sometimes three times the amount demanded for them a couple of years ago.

THE EIGHT HOUR QUESTION. The workmen in the Springfield Armory have received intelligence from Washington that Attorney General Hoar has decided against them on the question of paying the same wages under the eight hour law as under the ten hour system.

At the town election, in Vineland, one hundred and eighty-two women voted. They printed a ticket of their own, using the names of those, whom they regarded as the right men for the right place.—Seven of their candidates were elected by the legal voters.

MUSICAL.

QUINCY POINT, APRIL 28.

EDITOR QUINCY PATRIOT: If you have not the notice already, your readers may be advised of the fact that "THE CHORAL SOCIETY" of this place, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Brown, gave an "Old Folks Concert," in costume, in the Church, on Friday evening last, to a good and appreciative congregation, who came together for this musical entertainment, and to encourage a Society who are laboring assiduously to cultivate the musical talent, and promote a taste for the soul-stirring power of music. The performance was highly satisfactory; and the rehearsal of many of those old pieces of Psalmody made the older portion of the hearers think of childhood's days, when fathers and grandfathers and mothers sang with such stirring notes, the tunes of "Coronation," "Jerusalem," "Old Complaint," and that class of tunes. If they were more used this day, they would move our congregations as the artificial skill of later times have not the power to do. After the rehearsal in the Church, the singers and audience repaired to the Hall opposite to the Church, where ample provision was found for the entertainment and refreshment of the inner man, in the form of excellent Clam Chowder, Ice Creams, Pastries, &c., &c., adapted to the wants and wishes of all.

When they have another, may you, Messrs. Editors, be there, as I hope to be, to share in the enjoyment of a similar treat. ONE OF THE ENTERTAINED.

The President intends to take a vacation of five or six weeks some time in the summer months. He will visit New England and the West, and there is a remote possibility that he may cross to California.

GENERAL COURT, &c., OUR MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS. The Legislature is disposed to require the towns in this State to choose their Boards of Assessors and Overseers of the Poor, as school committees are now chosen, for three years instead of one, one third to be chosen each year. The project has been before the General Court for many years, but the Representatives of the towns have never been willing to concede the power of annually revising their whole list of town officers. This year the bills providing for continuous boards as above stated have passed the House with little opposition, and now await the action of the Senate.

Summary Intelligence.

One of the finest scholars who is to graduate from Dartmouth College, this year, is a colored man named George Rice, of Newport, R. I.

For the Patriot.

ON! WHERE?

APRIL 29, 1869.

DEAR PATRIOT: Can you or somebody as wise as yourself, tell me where the Doctors in your town keep themselves nights?

Last night I fell from my wagon and broke my arm, in Granite street.

I went to the first doctor I came to. He had gone a Shakespearian; the next one had gone to help him. He had written on his slate where he was to be found, but who did he suppose was fool enough to race all over town after him? I for one won't do it. Not a doctor could be found last night. Some were sick, some were off frolicking. A pretty set of doctors you have in your town, never at home. I had to ride three miles before I could get a doctor to set my arm.

I hope frolicking will pay their rents and fill their horses' bellies. But I can tell them it won't fill mine or theirs either.

BROKEN ARM.

THE LONG SNOW SEASON IN MAINE. In Franklin County, (Me.) the roads are full of snow, and all the travelling is upon runners, though from the depth of the snow it is almost impossible to get about. The ground has been covered uninterruptedly since the 8th of November. The oldest inhabitant has hardly experienced such a winter. The cattle and sheep in many cases seem to be suffering from disease, the sheep particularly not being able to sustain their lambs. Many farmers attribute this to the fact of having been kept from the ground for so long a time.

JOE JEFFERSON'S ENGAGEMENT. The engagement of Mr. Joe Jefferson is to begin at the Boston Theatre on Monday next. He is sure to meet with a cordial welcome from the many who so justly admire his talents. It is now a long period since he performed to a Boston audience; but not so long as for any to forget that he is one of the most accomplished and effective of living actors. His triumphs in England were many and marked, and since his return his career has been a repeated success of the same. A conspicuous feature of the coming engagement at the "Boston" will be the performance of "Rip Van Winkle," in which Mr. Jefferson is unquestionably without an equal. His impersonation in this renowned play is a marvel in dramatic power and artistic finish, and is among the really few of what may unflatteringly be pronounced perfect histrionic achievements of the day. We believe there is but one opinion on this point among those who have sufficient intelligence to judge and sufficient candor to speak with truthfulness. It is to be produced at the "Boston" with every advantage as to cast, scenic and mechanical appliances, costumes, &c.; and we feel safe in promising the public a dramatic entertainment that has not been equalled, in its peculiar line, for years. Mr. Jefferson comes in good time.

TOWN MEETING.

At the Town Meeting held last Saturday afternoon, John Quincy Adams, Esq., was elected Moderator.

Voted, To choose a Committee of five persons to take into consideration and report at some future meeting the condition and needs of the West District, in relation to school accommodations.

Chose, William S. Morton, William Chesley, Ensign S. Fellows, Nathaniel H. Beals and Henry Barker, said Committee.

Voted, To instruct the Selectmen to keep the school houses in town in good order—procure suitable places for schools, when schools are needed, and provide fuel and other things necessary for the use of the public schools.

Voted, To allow N. B. Farnald to use a set of scales suitable for weighing stone and other heavy articles, in front of his premises, corner of Coddington and Washington streets.

Voted, That the Selectmen be instructed to name such streets in town as are not already named.

Voted, That the price of tea in Mr. Wollaston's Cemetery be ten (10) dollars to all citizens of Quincy, and twenty-five (25) dollars to all non-residents.

Voted, That the meeting be dissolved.

ALL ABOARD. The beautiful steamer

Massachusetts, which has been rebuilt and neatly furnished throughout, is soon to leave the Point daily for Boston. She is one of the finest steamers that will sail in Boston Harbor the coming summer; and with Capt. George Brown as commander and Mr. Joseph T. French as clerk, our citizens will have a chance to enjoy many pleasant sails over the dancing waters in the Harbor the coming season. Arrangements are nearly completed and by another week, full particulars will probably be announced through our advertising columns.

THE NEW CHURCH. We learn that arrangements are being made to proceed at once to the erection of a new Orthodox church in the centre of the town.

At a recent meeting of the Society the following gentlemen were chosen as building committee:—Charles R. Mitchell, Chas. H. Hardwick, E. Clapp, Franklin Hardwick, A. W. Sprague, T. F. Guy, C. W. Carter, J. O. Jones and George Vezzie, 2d.

THE AUCTION SALES OF DRY GOODS, at the store of Joseph W. Lombard, on Hancock street, this week, were well attended, and the articles went off quickly and at fair prices. This is the way to make people understand their wants, by bringing them up under the hammer.

WHITE ROBINS. Another of these singularly plumaged birds has made its appearance amongst us. It makes its home in the groves, which adorn the grounds around the dwelling of Mr. Chas. E. Miller. This time, we hope, the welcome little visitor, will be suffered to remain unmolested.

DECORATION DAY. Gen. F. A. Osborn, Grand Commander of the army of the republic in this State, has issued an order designating the 29th of the present month as the day to decorate the graves of soldiers and sailors in the various towns. It is proposed by some of our active young men, who served in the late war, to have a parade of all those who were in the service, and Decorate the Graves of those in Quincy. A meeting has been called in the Lyceum Room, this evening, to arrange the preliminaries. Let there be a full attendance, that this much of respect may be fully observed.

AUCTIONS. We would call the attention of our readers in Braintree and vicinity to the sale of some very desirable house lots, which will be found advertised in our columns to-day. They are to be sold on Monday next, at 4 o'clock, by E. F. E. Thayer, Esq.

Also, to the Guardian sale on Tuesday next, by Jonathan French, Esq., of several valuable pieces of real estate, belonging to Harvey White.

WE UNDERSTAND THAT Dr. Woodward, who has been sick of rheumatic fever, is improving, and has slept well the last few nights.

MILLINERY AND STRAW GOODS. Ladies will find a fine stock of rich Millinery and Straw goods, at Macy & Butler's, 90 and 92 Tremont street, Boston. They have just received an immense stock from New York and Paris, and are giving their customers good bargains.

WE WOULD RECOMMEND our readers in want of plants for the garden, to call upon Mr. Joshua H. Spear, Brackett street, near "Southern Mill." We doubt if it is generally known that he has hot-beds and a green-house on quite an extensive scale, and keeps for the supply of customers in large variety, vegetable plants, flowering plants, &c., of excellent quality, and at very reasonable prices. Trellises can be obtained of Mr. Spear, cheap.

REV. L. T. HECKER, of New York, will deliver a very interesting Lecture in the Town Hall, on Tuesday evening next. Subject, "The Church and the Republic." Tickets, 25 cents.

REV. H. H. BAKER, of Orange, occupies the desk in the Universalist Church in this place, to-morrow.

HOOK AND LADDER COMPANY. At the regular annual meeting of the Hook and Ladder Company, last Monday evening, the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year:

Captain: E. S. Fellows.
Assistant Captain: G. Vezzie, 2d.
Clerk and Treasurer: Jos. M. Glover.
Foreman of Hook: C. S. French.
Assistant: John H. Vezzie.
Foreman of Ladder: T. H. Plummer.
Assistant: Perez Chubbuck.
Armen: C. P. Smith, M. M. Hobart.
Standing Committee: John T. Vezzie, James N. Blake, G. W. Prescott.
Steward: Thomas Newcomb.

ANNUAL MEETING. An adjourned meeting of the Tiger Engine Company, No. 2, held on Thursday evening, May 6th, the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year:

Foreman: Elijah S. Brown.
1st Assistant: Joseph W. Hayden.
2d Assistant: Warren Dunbar.
Clerk and Treasurer: William W. Pennington.

SECTION HOSEMEN: William Griffin, Thomas W. Talbot, George W. Wentworth, Samuel Cummings.

STANDING COMMITTEE: John H. Dee, James W. Thayer, Thomas M. Butler.

STEWARDS: J. S. Paine.

JURORS. Messrs. Daniel H. Bills and Edward Hall have been drawn to serve as jurors in the Supreme Judicial Court for Norfolk County.

GOOD ACCOMMODATIONS. We take pleasure in again calling attention to the efforts of the officers of the Old Colony and Newport Railroad Company to give us all the facilities in their power.

The new arrangement of the Sunday trains, advertised to-day, is such, that it cannot fail to gratify our townsmen. The early train in the morning will enable many who must attend to their vocations Saturday evenings and Monday mornings in the city, to pass Sundays with their parents and relations at the homestead, or in the family pew, who would otherwise spend it in the streets, upon the wharves, or in some less advantageous place; and many a parent, whose son has gone forth into the trials and temptations of the city, can now rejoice that the fresh air of the country, and the holy influences of his home, will surround him one day in the seven.

A SPLENDID STORE. The new store of Cushman & Brooks, 37 and 39 Temple Place, is very attractive. Their rich display of Paris flowers and straw goods are unsurpassed. Also, elegant styles of bonnets and ladies' and misses' hats. Remember this is their only place of business, and is very convenient for our citizens—only a few steps South of Winter street, and leading from Washington to Tremont street. Read their advertisement in to-day's paper.

NEWSPAPER AND PERIODICAL DEPOT. The community, we think, will be gratified to learn, that Mr. E. B. Souther has assumed the management of this business at the old stand in the Square, so long and favorably known. Mr. S. possesses all the business requisites for the undertaking, and will, we have no doubt, give entire satisfaction. These agencies are becoming every day, of more and more importance. No place, however insignificant, that has a title of literary reputation, but now feel that they cannot do without them; they are in fact, the only sure medium of communication between the reading public and publishers; the great outlet, through whose channels, the respective works, from the ever teeming presses of our publishing houses find their way among the people,—and the vast weekly accumulations, distributed broadcast throughout our country.

Mr. Souther also intends to keep at his agency, a complete assortment of stationery,—a feature in the business, that the community will duly appreciate. In another column the card of Mr. S. may be found, to which we respectfully invite the attention of the reader.

The hand of improvement is upon the old church in Hingham, the oldest in the country, and it is to be modernized to the extent of changing the old fashioned square pews to slips.

"Barrett's" keeps the hair moist.

THAT EARTHQUAKE, whose slight vibrations and unceasing sound, were noticed in this town a week or so since, and of which we made mention at the time, was also felt at Hingham. The good people there, kind souls, took it all to themselves,—not receiving it as the result of a natural cause, but a visitation of displeasure of Providence, for sacrilegious innovations on a certain church, and other grave offences. Will the editors of the Gazette inform us whether they still hold to the same opinion—for if it was a judgment—and they ought to know best—it would be a pleasing satisfaction to be assured that it was not intended for us.

A TOTAL ECLIPSE OF THE SUN will take place on the 7th of August, this year, visible throughout the United States and British Provinces. It is the only total eclipse that will be visible in North America during the present century. At Boston the event will happen about sunset. The centre of the line of totality passes through Springfield, Illinois, and quite near Des Moines City, Iowa. Both of these stations, as well as many others, will be occupied by Coast Survey parties. Congress has appropriated $5000 to defray the expense of observations. Prof. Winlock, Director of Harvard Observatory, is making arrangements for viewing the eclipse and noting its features at Shelbyville, Kentucky. The observation will last between two and three minutes.

"Barrett's" restores with rapidity.

For the Patriot.

A LIBERAL GIFT.

The Sabbath School connected with the Hancock Street Church, have had the pleasure recently of receiving the liberal donation of one hundred dollars for the purchase of books, which they fully appreciate and gratefully acknowledge. Unsolicited as it was, and being received at this particular time, when the Society are bending every energy to erect their new church edifice, this gift was peculiarly acceptable. Mr. Faxon has a habit of making donations to the Sunday Schools of this town, without regard to sect or denomination, and his example is worthy of imitation. In what way could our moneyed men, who have a desire to benefit and elevate society and improve the morals of the community, secure greater results or accomplish more good, than by furnishing our Sunday Schools with funds, without which, they could not maintain their organization, or at best, would be indifferently useful.

COLLECTING INTERNAL REVENUE.—The Tribune makes a good point in urging that the cost of collecting our Internal Revenue should not increase every year while the amount collected falls away. In 1866, when we had nearly $310,000,000 of this revenue, the cost of collection was $7,690,000, but in 1867, when we only raised $263,000,000 it cost us $8,982,686; and in 1868 it cost $9,327,301 to collect less than $189,000,000. This is contrary to common sense, and does not agree with the parson's logic about having his salary raised. He said it took him all the time to collect it now, and he could not possibly think of having to collect any more; but we have raised $10,000,000 with less trouble than we now can get at $189,000,000. The Tribune also says that General Schenck declared a year ago that the force of revenue officers should be reduced when the tax on manufactures was taken off—but it was not done. The country will look to Mr. Boutwell to do it.

GENERAL LEE AT THE WHITE HOUSE. The principal event of Saturday last at the White House was the call of General Robert E. Lee. The President received him in his private office, and introduced him to two or three persons present. The interview lasted ten or fifteen minutes, and does not appear to have been of any special significance. General Lee subsequently called at the War Department, but did not see the Secretary, as he is out of town. Those gentlemen who have talked with General Lee say he is in sympathy with the new movement men of Virginia, but will not take any active part in the coming canvass in that State. He is stopping with relatives in Georgetown, and attended church in that city.

CLOTHING. It is often very difficult to get a fine suit of clothes for our children, especially when we feel obliged to be economical in the price. We believe that for these goods, which we much better satisfied with our purchases, if they would stop to Messrs. Carnes & Co., 43 and 45 Summer street, and examine their rich stock of spring clothing for boys and youths. Their store is one of the most convenient for those visiting the city, on the line of the Old Colony railroad.

Summary Intelligence.

Rev. Jos. Allen, D. D., of Northboro', Mass. has written a history of the Allen family. The Allen came over to this country in 1639, and settled in Dedham.

An Omaha paper has established a department of betrothals.

Mr. Newell Hoxie of Sandwich, has this spring planted corn that grew sixty-five years ago.

Five hundred and fifty load of furniture were taken out of the city of New York, by the ferries alone in the two or three days of the May moving.

Two hundred and eleven bridal parties have visited the St. James Hotel, Boston, since its opening, a period of one year.

In twenty-four State prisons in the United States there were in 1868 an aggregate of 10,835 prisoners. These cost the States the round sum of $1,566,982, and their earnings amounted to $1,092,680.

Mrs. Bloomer, is Mayor, (or Mayoress) of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

The Middleboro' Gazette says Gen. Tom Thumb has contracted for the erection of a substantial residence near that of his father-in-law in that town.

Matthew Connor, gardener of D. C. Linsley, Esq., of Burlington, Vt., has grown in hot bed this spring full-sized and ripe cucumbers.

Walham has appropriated $100,000 for a town hall to be erected on the common and $65,000 for a new high and grammar school-house. Work on each will be begun immediately.

A number of families of South Abington, who left for Kansas about a year ago, have returned to their old homes.

The potato market at Belfast, Me. is unusually dull. Dealers are sending potatoes to Boston which cost 80 cents, for which they get only 75 cents per bushel.

Mr. David Thomas of Hingham, for a long time identified with the foundry business, died suddenly a few days since by the roadside.

The Times says Dr. Walpole has lost his beautiful chestnut mare. She died suddenly in the harness, it is supposed from Bots or Pin worms. If the Dr. had used Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powder he would no doubt, have had his mare to-day—they are death on worms.

FARMERS! Your attention is directed to the advertisement of Parker, Gannett & Osgood in our columns to-day. Their agricultural warehouse is one of the largest in the city. Their stock of agricultural implements is unsurpassed in New England and their assortment of garden, field and flower seeds, is acknowledged by all acquainted with their establishment, to be second to none.

PEACE JUBILEE. We learn that between two and three hundred singers from Weymouth are going to attend the great Peace Jubilee in Boston, on the 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th of June. Also, Stetson's Weymouth Band, one of the finest in the State.

SALE OF SCHOOL HOUSES. The Centre and North Braintree school houses were sold at auction on Saturday April 24th. The latter brought $1103 and the former $775.

SPRING STYLES. In visiting the city for a fashionable hat or cap do not fail to call at Jackson's, 101 Court street. You will be sure to find something there that will suit you.

IN MEMORIAM.

At the annual meeting of the ENGINE CO. No. 2, of QUINCY, held

May 3d, the following Resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, Our respected Friend and

Member of this Company, PATRICK

JAYES, has been suddenly and in the

bloom of manhood taken from our midst by the hand of Death, and as we

cherished his companionship while living,

so in his death should we show mark of respect to his memory; therefore

Resolved, That in the death of Patrick

Jayes, we feel we have lost a sincere friend,

an upright and valuable member, who was ever faithful and prompt in the discharge

of a hazardous duty, voluntarily assumed

by him. Still fresh before us stands his manly form and benevolent countenance,

and tenderly we cherish in our hearts his deep devotion to every thing tending to elevate his Brother Fireman; and while

we mourn his loss, we bow in submission

to the will of the Almighty God, who has cut him down in the midst of a career of usefulness and honor.

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize

with his parents, brothers and sisters,

whose pleasure it has been to respect him

as an affectionate son and beloved brother;

Resolved, That a copy of these Resolutions be published in the Quincy Patriot,—also that a copy be addressed to the afflicted family assuring them that although we are deeply in grief at this premature death, we feel that he is not lost, but gone before.

Resolved, That the above be entered

on the records of this Company:

J. W. Deane, } Committee.

W. M. PENNINGTON, } Committee.

W. M. GLOVER, } Committee.

Quincy, May 8.

Chapped Hands are very common

with those who have their hands much in water. A few drops of Johnson's An-

two or three times a day, will keep them

soft and white. Fishermen, sailors, and others will do well to remember this.

VOLUME XXXIII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, MAY 15, 1869.

NUMBER 20.

THE ELIAS HOWE SEWING MACHINES.

using a much smaller needle for the same
thread than any other Machine.

SEWING of all kinds, such as Hemming,
Felling, Binding, Cording, Braiding,
Seaming, Quilting, Tucking, Gathering,
and Fagoting, done in a superior manner, on
our Family Machines.
Some valuable improvements have recently
been added to these Machines, which render them
superior to those made heretofore. Ladies who use our Family Machines, cannot fail to be gratified
and pleased with their operation, as they are
not subject to the annoyance and difficulties
experienced with most machines.
Experience has proved that there is but one
really good Sewing Machine, and that one
is the HOWE STITCH, or more commonly
known as the "LOCK STITCH." The advantages
of the Howe Lock Stitch consist in its economy
in the use of thread, the elasticity of the seams (having the same appearance on both sides), and
the fact that it cannot be unravelled.
The Howe Machines are better made: they are
less liable to get out of order; and when out of
order, they cost less for repairs.
They combine the greatest simplicity and durability with the greatest certainty in operation,
and for all household Sewing—Shirts, Dresses, Cloaks, Foot Makers and Tailors, are THE BEST MACHINES IN THE WORLD.
The Howe Machines have taken the Premium
for the best Work whenever they have been in
competition with other Machines. This arises
from the fact that they are constructed of the best
material, and in the best manner.
This Machine can be seen in operation at

Poetry.
For the Patriot.
SENATOR SUMNER AND JOHN BULL.
RIFLE SHOT FROM CHARLIE.
You've hit him with your point blank shot,
But hear the Bully roar;
The plaud'ring knave well knows for what,
But would the truth ignore.
But let him growl he feels the sore,
I touched his selfish pride;
He knows we've other shot in store,
To pierce his tough old hide.
He knows that he deserves them all,
But shrugs the matter off;
Don't like his follies to recall,
But wants them all forgot.
But we can wait remember still,
Till time shall point the way,
When we'll present our little bill,
With interest for delay.
'Tis written in the book of fate,
Learn Justice John and do it,
Or by old Neptune soon or late,
Old John you'll have to rue it.
F. M. ADLINGTON, Weymouth.

Interesting Selections.
PORK PUDDING. 1 coffee cup full of finely chopped salt pork, 2 cups of water,
add enough flour to mould it, roll thin,
cut it so as to make two rolls, steam 1 1/2
hours, eat with sauce same as for apple dumplings. If you wish, spread with fruit before rolling up.
BROWN BREAD PUDDING. Take half pound of stale brown bread, grated, the same quantity of currants and shred suet,
and a little nutmeg and sugar; add four eggs, a spoonful of brandy, and two spoons-ful of cream; boil in a basin or cloth half three hours.
A Concord doctor was called out of his bed at midnight in bitter cold weather, and reaching the room of his patient, half a mile away, found he had been summoned to inform the patient
what he could have to eat.
A father with a handsome son and a plain daughter gave them this good advice: "I would have you both look in the glass every day; you, my son, that you may be reminded never to dishonor
the beauty of your face by the deformity
of your actions; and you, my daughter,
that you may take care to hide the defect of beauty in your person by the superior beauty of your virtuous and amiable conduct."

COFFEE AS A DEODORIZER.
A late number of the Journal of Chemistry speaks in high terms of the value of
coffee as a deodorizer for the neutralizing
of foul odors that emanate from organic
bodies in a state of decay, as it can be
used to advantage where other disinfecting agents would be inadmissible. In cases where rats die in the spaces between
the floors of dwellings, the intolerable
arors of their decay can be most effectually
removed by placing a pound or two of
fresh burnt and ground coffee between
the floors. For the purification of a sick
room it is incomparably superior to burning rags, as it has a beneficial chemical
action on the atmosphere of the room, and
gives besides, an agreeable perfume.
Be just to all men.

Miscellany.
THE HUSBAND IN THE KITCHEN.
A NOISE LEGEND.
Once upon a time there was a man so surly and cross that he never thought
his wife did anything right in the house.
So one evening, in hay-making time, he came home, scolding and swearing, and showing his teeth and making a dust.
"Dear love, don't be so angry; there's a good man," said his goody; "to-morrow, let's change our work. I'll go out with the mowers and mow, and you shall mind
the house."
"Yes!" the husband thought that would do very well. He is quite willing,
he said.
So early the next morning his goody
took a scythe over her shoulder and went out into the hay-field with the mowers
and began to mow; but the man was to mind the house and do the work at home.
First of all he wanted to churn the butter, but when he had churned awhile he got thirsty, and went down to the cellar to tap a barrel of ale. So, just when he had knocked in the bung, and was putting the tap into the cask, he heard the pig come into the kitchen overhead.
Then off he ran up the cellar stairs, with
the tap in his hand, as fast as he could,
to look after the pig, lest it should upset
the churn. But when he got up and saw that the pig had already knocked the churn over, and stood there, rooting and grunting among the cream which was running all over the floor, he got so wild with rage that he quite forgot the ale barrel, and ran at the pig as hard as he could. He caught it, too, just as it ran out of doors, and gave it such a kick that piggy lay for dead on the spot. Then all at once he remembered that he had the tap in his hand; and when he got down to the cellar every drop of ale had run out of the cask.
Then he went into the dairy and found
enough cream to fill the churn again;
and so he began to churn, for butter they must have at dinner. When he had churned a bit, he remembered that their milking cow was still shut up in the byre,
and hadn't had a bit to eat or a drop to drink all the morning, though the sun was high. Then all at once he thought it was too far to take her to the meadow,
so he'd just get her up on the house-top—
for the house, you must know, was thatched with sods, and a fine crop of grass was growing there. Now their house lay close up against a steep down, and he thought
if he had a plank across to the thatch at the back, he'd easily get the cow up.
But still he couldn't leave the churn,
for there was his little babe crawling about on the floor, and if he left it, he thought, the child was sure to upset it.
So he took the churn on his back, and went out with it; but then he thought he'd better first water the cow before he turned her out on the thatch; so he took up a bucket to draw water out of the well; but, as he stooped down at the well's brink, all the cream ran out of the churn over his shoulders, and so down into the well.
Now it was near dinner time, and he had not got even the butter yet; so he thought he'd best boil the porridge, and filled the pot with water and hung it over the fire. When he had done that, he thought the cow might perhaps fall off
the thatch and break her legs or neck.
So he got up on the house to tie her up.
One end of the rope he made fast to the
cow's neck, and the other he slipped down
the chimney, and tied round his own thigh; and he had to make haste, for the water now began to boil in the pot, and he had still to grind the oat meal.
So he began to grind away; but while he was hard at it, down fell the cow off
the house top after all, and as she fell
she dragged the man up the chimney by the rope. There he sat, fast; and as for the cow, she hung half way down the wall, swinging between heaven and earth,
for she could neither get down or up.
And now the goody had waited seven lengths and seven breadths for her husband to come and call them home to dinner; but never a call had they had. At last she thought she'd waited long enough,
and went home. But when she got there,
and saw the cow hanging in such an ugly
place, she ran up and cut the rope in two with her scythe. But, as she did this,
down came her husband out of the chimney; and so when his old dame came inside the kitchen, there she found him
standing on his head in the porridge pot.
COFFEE AS A DEODORIZER.
A late number of the Journal of Chemistry speaks in high terms of the value of
coffee as a deodorizer for the neutralizing
of foul odors that emanate from organic
bodies in a state of decay, as it can be
used to advantage where other disinfect-
ing agents would be inadmissible. In cases where rats die in the spaces between
the floors of dwellings, the intolerable
arors of their decay can be most effectually
removed by placing a pound or two of
fresh burnt and ground coffee between
the floors. For the purification of a sick
room it is incomparably superior to burning rags, as it has a beneficial chemical
action on the atmosphere of the room, and
gives besides, an agreeable perfume.
Be just to all men.

EDITORS.
Editors have frequent reasons to be very thankful for the generosity of their patrons and the public in the matter of advice. Money may be scarce. That dreadful disease, impunctuality, may have laid hold on a publisher's pocket. Bankruptcy, starvation, ruin, may stare him rudely in the face, but, thanks to the good and noble-hearted public, he has always on hand a plentiful and bounteous supply of good advice. Herein lies the sweetest solace of editorial life. Haggard with care, oppressed with trouble, driven by details, worried, worn, wasted, though
the poor devil may be, he has always the extreme felicity of knowing that the poorest, the meanest, the most ignorant, and the most "onery" of his readers will promptly honor his draft at sight for advice.
He has only to draw. No endorsers wanted. What cares he for banks or bankers, money kings and greenback princes? Let him draw. Even the ignorant scab who spells God with a little
"g," is prompt and active to give his advice. He knows it all.
But woe to the conceited editor who fails to take and follow all the advice
given him. He's a fool. When, unasked, men volunteer, without compensation, to bestow freely, gratuitously and bounteously upon him advice as to how he should conduct his paper, what infernal and base ingratitude, not so take it, and bow meekly and humbly in gratitude for the favor. We have heard of editors of this kind, but never knew one to succeed,
for it is well understood that every fool
that fails at every thing else, is perfectly competent to edit a newspaper. It has always been a mystery to us how it happens that the men who are perfectly competent to the business of journalism are never employed in it, while the poor devils whom unlucky fortune has condemned to
the tripod freely admit their incapacity.
There are some peculiarities about the business of editing not common to any other business. It requires some talent to make a good boot, and many an ass
has spent a whole life at it without succeeding. A little practice is thought to be necessary before one can run a steam engine, manage a case in court, or even successfully sell calico. Not so with editing. The less you know the better.
Editors are born, not made, you see.
Your true editor feels the divine afflatus within him, and that is the reason he has such a profound contempt for your poor knights of the quill and scissors, whose hard fortune has condemned him to the business for a life-time.
There are some other peculiarities
about editing which make it altogether
a funny business. It is not so much what is in the paper as what is not in it, that determines its value. It makes no difference what you get into it, but take care
what you leave out. If you fail to insert
the seventh commandment, some pimp
may arrest you for adultery, and prove it,
too, for there's your paper, and where,
oh where, is the Decalogue? The villain has left it out. We always knew he was a rake.
The aspirant for editorial honors should remember that it is not at all necessary he should have any independence of thought or character. In fact, the less he has the better. The drayman may exercise his own judgment as to whether he feeds his horse on oats, corn or bran, but that would be a stretch of independence in an editor. That would amount to downright recklessness. "We pay him to say what we think, not what he thinks. What business has he to think?" Thus thinking Mr. Two-Dollars-and-Fifty-Cents-Per-Year, and your devil ducks his head,
for which he has little use, and don't think any more.
The noblest specimen of manhood our era affords is that swelling and consequential individual whose mission is to bestow his village newspaper, and who does it right pompously. He belongs, it is true, to an age nearly gone, but he yet exists, a rare relic of the rural life of other days. Like the Chimpanzee and the Gorilla the race is almost extinct,
yet a few specimens are left to excite
the wonder and the admiration of modern times.—Exchange.

KEEP YOUR PROMISE.
When you promise to do a thing, be sure to keep your word, as well for the sake of truth as in justice to others. This story is told of a boy who was faithful to his word: He had borrowed a tool from a neighbor, promising to return it at night.
Before evening he was sent away on an errand and did not return until late. Before he went he was told that his brother should see the tool returned. After he had come home and gone to bed, he inquired, and found the tool had not been sent to its owner. He was much distressed to think his promise had not been kept, but was persuaded to go to sleep and rise early and carry it home. By day-light he was up, and nowhere was the tool to be found. After a long and fruitless search he set off for his neighbor's doorstep. And it then appeared, from the prints of little bare feet on the mud, that the lad had got up in his sleep and carried the tool home, and went to bed again and knew it not. Of course, a boy who was prompt in his sleep was prompt when awake of his neighbors, and was placed in many offices of trust and profit.

HOUSE CLEANING.
Men are such very orderly, nice, peace-
loving creatures, that the very word house-
cleaning puts them into a spiritual spasm.
They don't see why a house can't be kept clean, and so avoid the semi-annual revolution that is generally believed in, in addition to good dinners and tidy wives and daughters. It certainly is a very dubious sight to see carpets stretched over a whole windows out, bedding on the lines, and not one room in the house fit for a distracted soul to sit down in with comfort.
Unless there is painting or much white-ening of walls to be done, the season of house-cleaning need not be regarded with fear or dread by the most timid man.
But it is not for a man's comfort or salvation that we write. If he will only obey his wife's orders at this critical period, and keep good-natured, no fault shall be found with him. But to the woman, the wives and daughters of the farm, we have a few suggestions to offer, and what we think or believe is the outgrowth of practical experience instead of simple theorizing.
Generally, you begin house-cleaning too early. The last of May is early enough.
Don't fall into the error of letting domestic cleanliness go at fault because you are to "clean house next week." On cold, raw, spring days, with windows out, your sleeves up and perhaps dress wet, you run the risk of taking cold, besides endangering the health of others.
Clean and put in order one room at a time, and one in each day is enough.
One hears too often the remark, "she overdid in house-cleaning." Yes, and too many of you are over-doing every day.
There isn't in all the land such an overworked, broken-down race of women as the wives of farmers. You do without help in the house so your husband can have more on the farm. You work yourselves to death, so your children may have a stepmother, or with a view of living easier by-and-by, or so you may have something to leave for others to quarrel over. You get up early and work late. You feel conscious, when you take time to think about it, that your health is the most precious thing you can have, and that without it all the money
and luxuries that your economy and hard work may have gained bring but meagre results. But still, you will continue so for "this summer." One season will not matter.
To squeeze two days' work into one is not economy. To do your own work unaided, when you have not the strength to do it, is not economy. It is a very grave error that many men have fallen into, of saying a woman's work doesn't amount to anything. Because she has always done
it for a mere pittance is no sign the work is of no account. And a man who pays a hired man thirty dollars a month, Sundays excepted, and grows at paying a woman twenty, Sundays included, has only one side to his soul, and that he never turns to the sun. There is no sense in farmers, or their wives or daughters, working harder for a living than those in other avocations, if they will only use their brains more and exhaust physical strength less.—Rural N. Yorker.

ON THE TRACK.
The other day I heard a mother ask her little son to do something. "In a minute," he said. She spoke again. But it was one, two, three, four, five minutes
before he minded her.
It makes me think of the switch-tender's
boy. What if he had waited a minute before minding his father? A switch-tender in Prussia was just going to move the rail, in order to put a coming train of cars on a side track, when he caught sight of his little son playing on the track. The engine was in sight, and he had not a moment to spare. He might jump and save his child; but he could not do that and turn the switch in time; and if it were not done, the on-coming train would meet another train, and a terrible crash and smash take place.
The safety of hundreds of lives depended upon his fidelity. What could he do?
What did he do? "Lie down!" Lie down!
he called, with a loud, quick voice to the child; and, seizing the switch, the train
passed safely on its proper track.
Did the heavy train run over the little boy? Was he killed? Was he crushed to pieces? No, for he did just as his father told him, and did it instantly. He fell flat between the rails and the cars went high over his head; and when the anxious father sprang to the spot, there he was alive and well—not a hair was touched. It was his quick obedience, you see, that saved his life. He did not stop a minute. Even a moment's hesitation would have been too late.

SMALL COURTESIES.
The way to make yourself pleasant to others, is to show them attention. The whole world is like the miller of mansfield, who cared for nobody—no, not he,
because, nobody cared for him. And all the world would serve you so, if you gave them the same care. Let every one, therefore, see that you do care for them,
by showing to them the small courtesies
in which there is no parade, whose voice
is still to praise, and which manifest themselves by tender and affectionate looks,
and little acts of attention, giving others
the preference in every little enjoyment

at the table, in the field, walking, sitting, or standing.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, MAY 15, 1869.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

TO PATRONS. The rush of favors from our advertising friends has pressed heavily upon our editorial columns the past two weeks; being much like the omnibus driver, always endeavoring to accommodate one more, we have been crowded. If our patrons will be easy a few weeks we will endeavor to unload some of our freight, and sail on in our usual course, giving them their money's worth with interest.

SURGICAL. On Wednesday we saw a very successful operation performed by Dr. Ogden, of this town, upon a little girl of ten summers, who had a tumor removed from her forehead which had been growing about three years. It had nearly attained the size of an English walnut, and disfigured her looks much. She was under the influence of ether, during the operation, which took over half an hour.

PREPARATIONS are rapidly going forward for the erection of the new church soon to be built by the Orthodox. Col. Packard has nearly completed the foundation for a new Ink Manufactory, in the enclosure where his furnace is situated, which it is thought will be ready for improvement by the early part of summer—when the rubbish, with the dwelling, where the old factory now stands, are to be removed. It is a most eligible site for a public house of any description, and it is hoped that an edifice every way corresponding will occupy it; that no narrow, contracting parsimony will influence the action of the building committee, but that a policy as broad as the liberality of the public will justify be carried out; and that when this new church receives symmetry, form and finish, it will be an honor and credit to the place.

MASSACHUSETTS. This beautiful boat commences its regular trips on the first of next month, and will be seen by our advertising columns. Let those who enjoy a sail in the harbor be ready to patronize her as the prices are reasonable.

ACTION. We would call the attention of readers to the large sale of furniture, cows, horse, wagons, &c., in Braintree, on Thursday next. For full particulars, see advertisement in to-day's paper.

CIRCUS. It will be seen by our advertising columns that Stone & Murray's combination circus, which gave such excellent entertainments here last season, is announced to appear in this place on Thursday, the 25th inst. Their performances are very highly spoken of by our exchanges, and from the array of talent advertised in our columns, we believe this troupe to be in many respects superior to any that will visit this place this season.

THE OLD SONG. "That winter lingers in the lap of spring," has been verified this season. Although much spring work has been done of late; many a garden turned up, and the early seed put in. The refreshing showers, too, which the thirsty earth freely drank up, gave new life to nature; made the buds burst their coats of mail; the birds to sing more merrily, and hasten on their spring work of incubation, and our water-minstrels—the frogs—those who saved their legs from the jaws of hungry Frenchmen, to chaunt a song of jubilee, and pitch the key-note for the grand Peace Festival.

TIN WEDDING. Having received an invitation to spend Tuesday evening at the residence of our worthy foreman, Mr. George W. Prescott and lady, we availed ourselves of the opportunity, and found quite a gathering of friends and relatives assembled to tender their congratulations, and participate in the pleasures of the evening—the occasion being the celebration of the tenth anniversary of their marriage. The evening was spent in social converse, games, music—vocal and instrumental, etc., and was truly an enjoyable affair. Many presents—which must have relieved the shelves of some tin shop—and other articles, of domestic utility, in keeping for such an event, were the offerings of visitors. Among the collection, we observed a splendid bouquet, of choice hot-house flowers, inserted in a tunnel as a bouquet holder. Also, a beautiful cake box, and a mammoth tin pan, large enough, as Mrs. P. remarked, for a bath-tub.

A most beautiful collation was provided by Mr. P. and his lady,—viands to tempt the most sluggish appetite,—to which the guests, without much urging, gave a few moments of the closest application. We have seldom attended a more interesting amount of solid pleasure was enjoyed, and hope that our name will be booked for the next anniversary.

FIRE DEPARTMENT. The Selectmen have appointed the following gentlemen as Engineers of the Fire Department for the ensuing year:—

Washington M. French, William Parker Jr., Samuel Ames, William H. Sampson, William Gregg, Edward A. Spear and Geo. Brierley Fry.

At a meeting of the Engineers, Washington M. French was chosen Chief, and William Parker, Jr., Clerk.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of our lady readers to the new Fancy Dry Goods Store, opened by Miss Copland, near the Post Office. She has an excellent stock of Fancy Goods, and a careful examination before going to the city or elsewhere. Read the advertisement, give her a call, and you will be pleased with your purchases.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

Boston, May 13, 1869.

After a lapse of many weeks, during which, painful disease has pressed heavily upon us, approaching for some time near the portals of earthly dissolution, we are permitted by returning health, slow indeed in its progress of recuperation, to resume these letters.

The month of May is always pleasant in Boston. It is the great period of ingress by strangers. The season of anniversaries—the commencement of the business year. To all appearances the city is unusually animated, and business in all its branches has an upward tendency. The demand for labor in mechanical pursuits was never greater, judging from the high tariff of wages. The mechanic with prudent can lay up some four to five hundred dollars yearly, which is an encouraging aspect for industry. Carpenters especially are in great demand. More building is in progress now than for many years past. Thousands of buildings will be erected here the present season, notwithstanding the high price of materials and labor. The scarcity of dwellings and high rents are the logical results of such numerous erections. Many of the public edifices, particularly the Boston Post Office and certain new churches at the South End, where the star of city empire wends its way, are to be of a costly figure. The new Post Office will occupy some years in completion.

The State Legislature is still in session, more busy in labor than at any period since its meeting in January. The Liquor question still hangs fire, and it is impossible now to tell what kind of a bill will be passed. There is more politics than philanthropy in its consideration. The attempt to drum out William B. Spooner, Esq., President for many years of the State Temperance Alliance by the Executive Committee of that Association, has been here among the sensations of the week past. Mr. Spooner it will be recollected is in favor of the exemption of lager beer and cider from the prohibition of the Liquor Law, and this is the head and front of his offense from the extreme Prohibitionists. Now he is known, that this State Temperance Alliance, has a wonderful hold on a portion of the members of our Great and General Court. As goes the Alliance, so goes many of the votes of the Legislature. Is not the Alliance in taking a position against Mr. Spooner, manifesting a spirit of intolerance and despotism, subversive of all ideas of free speech and free discussion? At all events, this Liquor question is likely to make a prominent issue at the next State election, in November; where old party lines will be found to be held by ropes of sand.

The annexation of Dorchester to Boston has been duly considered by the Legislature, and a bill from the majority of the Committee to whom the matter was referred has been reported. Its provisions are simple and plain. Should the Bill pass, the question is to be submitted on the 22d of June next to the voters of Boston and Dorchester at meetings held for that purpose; if a majority of these meetings ratify the bill by a yeo vote, the consolidation will take place in November next, and Neponset River will be the southern boundary of Boston. The fairest way we think to settle the question. The latter opinion to-day is, that annexation will take place. There is no doubt on the affirmative question in Dorchester, but some doubt as to the action of the voters in Boston. The Highland or Roxbury District will go hard against it, and this may turn the scale.

Another important matter before the Legislature is the investigation of State Constabulary. Interesting revelations have come to light. The report of the Committee will be anticipated with no little interest.

As to monetary affairs of the week our banks are meeting readily the wants of customers. The rates of discount going up as the quality of notes offered grow poorer. The choicest loans have been made here at 7 per cent. New York funds are represented heavy. There, money is growing more and more abundant, with every prospect there will be easy times through the coming summer. Cuban "rumors" on Tuesday carried gold up in New York on Tuesday to 138 3-4.

PERSONAL. Among the list of Americans registered at the banking office of Messrs. T. W. Tucker in Paris, April 29th, we find the names of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Perry, of this town.

CHRIST CHURCH. We learn that the Rev. Charles R. Brainard, Rector of this Parish, has been appointed Chaplain of the National Sailors' Home, and that in consequence, as the services there are at 2 P. M., those at the Church in the afternoon will hereafter be at 5 1-2 o'clock, a most fitting hour for evening prayers.

"Is there a time when moments flow More peacefully than all beside? It is, of all other times below A Sabbath day, at eventide."

"Delightful hour! how soon we might Spread her dark mantle o'er thy rein; And morrow's quick returning light Must call us to the world again."

"ROSEDALE," one of the most popular plays ever presented at the Boston Museum is to be revived at this place on Monday, 17th instant, and will be played every evening, excepting Saturday, and on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

DEMOREST'S "YOUNG AMERICA." Of all the juvenile magazines, the children say this is the best. Its bright colors, and its toys, have the charm of being different from everything else, while the stories and other sketches are exceptionally good, combining the useful with the amusing in a remarkably successful manner. Terms, $1.50 per annum, with a premium. Address W. J. Demorest, 838 Broadway, New York.

FATHER HECKER'S LECTURE.

The Rev. Lecturer commenced by saying, "That there was a wide-spread misapprehension in our community, concerning the influence of the Catholic Church on our political institutions. It is supposed that her doctrines are antagonistic to the principles on which our Republic is based, and that if ever its influence prevails, some other form of government would be substituted for our Republic. By removing this opinion, a source of future discord will be closed, and a possible pretext for a persecution will be removed."

"Our political institutions are not the result of accidental causes, they depend for their authority on true Christianity, and it is an important and pertinent question—which form of Christianity so teaches its doctrines as to sanction these principles and to promote the prosperity of our Republic? We may lay it down as an established truth, it requires the sanction and spirit of religion for its stability and prosperity. In fact, religion was not only an element, but one of the most essential elements of the political organization of the great old Pagan nations. In the republics of Greece and Rome, to deny the gods was treason to the State. Love of country, and love of religion, went hand in hand. The same conviction was present at the formation of modern nations. The nations of Europe were and still are allied to religion. The head of the State in the Catholic Church was supreme, and at the same time the head of Religion. Religion and the State had two spheres, yet they were closely connected to each other in their mission—Protestantism dissolved this connection—and wherever Protestantism obtained power, the Church became the subject of the State, and the people changed their religion at the pleasure of the king, as is the rule in England and Prussia. In our own country, the framers of our Institutions did not believe in the same connection of Church and State that existed in Europe. Yet they knew that the principles of religion must uphold these institutions. He read from Washington's Farewell Address in proof of this opinion. The leaders of the French Revolution attempted to build up a government without religion, but the result was a failure. The American people are not fond of receiving anything without authority. They want to know the why and the wherefore of everything. He showed at length the reasons why religion is intrinsically necessary to the formation of society, and then to examine what religion it is whose doctrines uphold the fundamental principles of American Institutions. In considering the doctrines of Catholicity and Protestantism, he gave the precedence to the latter. It has been claimed that we owe our political institutions to Protestantism; he denied it. He quoted from the writings of Luther, Melancthon, Wesley, the Presbyterian Confession of Faith, and from other Protestant sources to prove that the doctrines of Orthodox Protestantism were those of total depravity. This doctrine, although it seems to be exploded, is the religious idea of New England today. If it is true, no American can claim that man is capable of self-government; our institutions are based on error and must fail. An eminent writer in "Christian Examiner," admitted the fact, that Catholic principles were most favorable to Democratic government, but to escape the conclusion, he said, that we were not a logical people. This is an error, and the proof is that what was New England religion forty years ago is not now known in Massachusetts. New England was once Puritan, now she is Unitarian. The reason is that the influence of Democratic institutions is to draw out our energies, and make us active in life and thought. New England people have come to the conclusion that the Protestant dogma of total depravity is incompatible with free institutions, and from this have become Unitarians. This dogma carried out logically is death to free institutions. The tendency of Protestantism is to dissension and disunion; it began in sectarianism, and it is impossible to form out of it a bond of union.

The Rev. Lecturer then proceeded to consider the Catholic dogma, man by the fall of Adam forfeited none of his natural rights; man, as he is now born, will in the future receive all the happiness he is capable of enjoying. Grant to man's reason the knowledge of God and the spirituality of his soul, and the liberty of his will, and he has a religion that upholds the doctrine, that man is capable of self-government,—therefore a Catholic is all the better American because he is a Catholic. The history of the Catholic Church is one of unity, and her influence on society was uniform from Pagan times. Its natural tendency is to unite men together. Unity and progress is her watchword. The Catholic Church is the only one that admits the universal brotherhood of man; and embraces all nationalities, all races, and all colors of the human race, and unites them in one bond of unity,—yet leaves each member his individuality and freedom. It deprives none of his natural rights, no people of their nationality. Tried by the true test, the Catholic Church upholds American principles of government. In conclusion, the Lecturer declared that Catholic principles were the best bulwark of American liberty.

The through fare by rail from New York to Braintree, Cal., will not be over $100 in gold, and the emigrant will be able to get through for less than $100 in currency.

"Barrett's" caps the climax.

Corn and Flour are staple articles; but not more so than Johnson's Anodyne Liniment where known. It is good for children or adults, for any internal soreness of the chest or bowels, and the best Pain Killer prepared, under whatever name.

None such as "Barrett's."

DEAR PATRIOT: What are our excellent Selectmen doing? Didn't the Town pass a square vote to have a new clock? Yet here is the old larnard in the Church Tower still, trying to keep up with the times. When I lie awake nights, I can hear my good time-piece striking the hours; then, a second after, my neighbor's over the way rings out its clear tones; and not until five or ten minutes have elapsed does the "big bell" sound its tardy tones.

In the name of Father Time and all the flying hours, either give us the new clock at once, or stop the noise of the old one.

CONVALESCENT. We are pleased to learn that Dr. Ebenezer Woodward who has been confined to his house nearly a fortnight, is slowly recovering.

Dr. W. W. Hebbard, of Boston, will commence a Course of Illustrated Lectures, on HEALTH AND CULTURE, at Town Hall, Wednesday evening, May 19. First Lecture Free.

PAPER HANGING. Among the worthies in this profession, we would include that of Mr. D. Fred French. Orders left at the residence of Mrs. D. French, 97 Hancock street, will receive prompt attention.

A PETRIFIED SNAKE. While some workmen were making an excavation on Main street, Charlestown, recently, they exhumed the petrified body of a snake of the moccasin species which was buried in the clay. The reptile was 2 1-2 inches in diameter, and 2 feet 3 inches in length. The state of preservation was remarkable, distinct traces even of the teeth being visible on the jaw.

BALLOON'S MAGAZINE. The June number of this cheapest and best monthly came to hand as usual in advance. The contents throughout are a rich freight of good things which will be duly appreciated by its many readers.

ELIAS HOWE
SEWING MACHINES.
*Are celebrated for doing the BEST WORK,
using a much smaller needle for the same
thread than any other Machine.*

SEWING of all kinds, such as HEMMING,
FELLING, BINDING, CORING, BRIDGING, SEAMING, QUILTING, TUCKING, GATHERING,
and FAGGOTING, done in a superior manner, on
our Family Machines.
Some valuable improvements have recently
been added to these Machines, which render them
superior to those made heretofore. Ladies who
use our Family Machines, cannot fail to be gratified
and pleased with their operation as they are
not subject to the annoyance and difficulties
experienced with most machines.
Experience has proved that there is but one
really good Sewing Machine, and that one is
the HOWE SEWING MACHINE, and that one is
known as the "LOCK STITCH." The advantages
of the Howe Lock Stitch consist in its economy
in the use of thread, the elasticity of the seam, (having the same appearance on both sides,) and
the fact that it cannot be unravelled.
The Howe Machines are better made: they are
free from disagreeable noise: they are much
less liable to get out of order, and when out of
order, they cost less for repairs.
They combine the greatest simplicity and durability with the greatest certainty in operation,
and for all household Sewing—Shirt, Dress,
Cloak, Coat Making and Tailoring, are THE BEST MACHINES IN THE WORLD.
The Howe Machines have taken the Premium
for the best Sewing Machine wherever they have been in competition with other Machines. This arises from the fact that they are constructed of the
best material, and in the best manner.
This Machine can be seen in operation at

Poetry.
HAVE CHARITY.

Through the great sin-blinded city
Tolls a homeless little one—
Not a friend to soothe or pity—
Not a bed to lie upon—
Ragged, dirty, bruised and bleeding—
Still still to kick and curse—
Schooled in sin and badly needing Aid from Christian tongue and purse.
But the rich and gay pass by her,
Full of vanity and pride,
And a pittance they deny her,
As they pull their skirts aside.
Then a sullen mood comes o'er her—
Rackless she is of woe or weal—
Death from hunger is before her—
She must either starve or steal.
She does steal, and who can blame her,
Hunger pangs her vital's gnaw—
None endeavor to reclaim her,
And she violates the law.
Then the pampers child of fashion
Who refused to give relief,
Cries, with well affected passion,
"Out upon the little thief!"
Censors full of world-wise schooling,
Cease to censure and deplore—
When the girl transgressed man's ruling,
She obeyed a higher law.
Take her place—feel her temptation—
Starved, unhealed—no succor nigh—
And, though sure of reprobation,
Ye would steal ere ye would die!

Interesting Selections.

MOUNTAIN CAKE. Three eggs, one pint sugar, one cup of butter, two cups of milk, two teaspoonful cream tartar one teaspoonful of soda. Flour to make a thin batter.

OLD LADY CAKE. Two eggs, one cup of butter, one cup of milk, one half cup of sugar, two teaspoonfuls cream tartar, one teaspoonful of soda. Flour to make thin batter.

MARRIAGE. Steel says, whenever woman plights her troth, under the sky
of heaven, at the domestic hearth, or in the consecrated aisle, the ground is holy,
the spirit of the hour is sacramental. That it is thus felt even by the most trivial,
may be observed at the marriage ceremony.
Though the mirth may be fast and furious before or after the irrevocable formula is spoken, yet at that point of time there is a shadow on the most laughing lip—a moisture in the firmest eye.

BE NOT SILENT. Do not sit dumb in company. That looks either like pride, cunning, or stupidity. Give your opinion modestly, but freely; hear that of others
with candor; and endeavor to find out,
and to communicate truth.

A bright and beautiful bird is Hope; it comes to us amid the darkness
and the storm, and sings the sweetest song; when our spirits are saddest, and
the lone soul is weary, and longs to pass away, it warbles its sunniest notes and lightens again the tender fibres of our hearts that grief has been tearing away.

GAMBLING. Let every man avoid all sorts of gambling as he would poison. A poor man or boy should not allow himself
even to toss up for a penny, for this is often the beginning of a habit of gambling,
and this ruinous crime comes on by slow degrees. Whilst a man is minding his work he is playing the best game, and he is sure to win. A gambler never makes good use of his money, even if he should win.

Never compare thy condition with
those above thee; but to secure thy content, look upon those thousands with whom thou wouldst not, for any interest, change
thy fortune and condition.

An old bachelor, at our elbow, says
that the proper name for marriageable
young ladies is "waiting maids."

The blooms of the common marigold (calendula) infused in equal parts of pure alcohol and water, are an admirable
remedy for all kinds of wounds, cuts, bruises
and burns, on man or beast. Its effects in allaying pain and removing soreness
are similar to that of tincture of arnica.
One ounce of the blooms to half pint of alcohol and half pint water is the receipt.

"Why don't you trade with me?"
said a close fistred tradesman to a friend
the other day. The reply was characteristic. "You have never asked me sir. I certainly looked all through the papers for an invitation in the shape of an advertisement, and found none—I never go where I am not invited."

"Look here, Jim, there is a big hole knocked out of this bottle you gave me." "Why, not at all; there's the hole
in it now."

Eve is said to be the only woman
who never threatened to go and live with her mother.

Never waste argument on a man who does not know logic from logwood, which is the case with half the people who love disputation.

A man down east refused to subscribe for a chandelier for a church because
"after you get it you can't get any one to play on it."

Miscellany.
[From Daily Advertiser.]
Moderate Houses for Moderate Means.

There are, in the city of Philadelphia,
many thousands of small houses built, owned and occupied by persons who in New York and Boston would share rooms in crowded tenements. The Hon. Mr. Fraley, President of the National Board of Trade, attributes this advantage, in a great degree, to the general use of "ground rent deeds" in that city. By these deeds
the grantor conveys to the lessee the use of a lot of land forever. The lessee agrees to pay interest on a special capital, as rent, with the taxes and incidental expenses
—to erect within a year, on the premises,
a building of sufficient value to secure the rent so reserved, and to keep the same insured by a perpetual policy payable to the grantor. A proviso is inserted in the lease by which the grantor
agrees that he will, at any time, on receiving the capital, convey the property in fee simple to the lessee.

The advantages to the lessee are evident. The father of a family, for instance, has laid up, or can command, a thousand dollars. He wants a house, but his capital is insufficient to build one. If he buys a lot and mortgages it to secure the rest of the cost, he has always the fear that he or his family may be called upon for the payment of the principal,
and this, in case of his sickness or death,
may lead to a forfeiture of the estate. By the Philadelphia arrangement he is freed from this anxiety; he feels that he, and in case of his death, his family will be secure of a house so long as they can pay
a moderate rent, and if he is ever able,
out of his savings, to pay the principal,
he becomes the possessor of an unincum-bered freehold property. The grantor holds a fee simple in the estate, with a certainty of a permanent regular income,
subject only to contingency, similar to that of the holder of an overdue mortgage,
viz: the election of the lessee to pay the principal.

There are upon railroads within ten miles of Boston suitable tracts of lands
that could be purchased, for cash, at from one to two hundred dollars an acre. After deducting the amount reserved for streets
and the expense of laying out and grading,
there would remain for land, costing by
the acre less than four hundred dollars.
A lot 50 by 100, or 5000 feet, could be sold without profit for fifty dollars. Add twenty-five dollars for ornamental trees,
which should be insisted on, and the lot
could be leased for four dollars and a half per annum. If the owner of the lot would agree to advance, on the completion of the house, a thousand dollars on a lease
like that used in Philadelphia, any person with a capital of one thousand dollars could
at once erect a house worth two thousand dollars, and hold it forever at a rent of sixty-five dollars a year. Before the purchase of a site, a bargain could be made with the railroad on which the proposed village would be located. Some English roads to insure an increase of their business, give to any person who will erect a house of a certain value on their line, a free ticket for seven years, looking for remuneration during that time to the passage money of the rest of the family.
The friends, and to the freight of the coal, building materials and other necessaries that must be paid to the road—
Hyde Park has been built upon a different plan. The agent of the company at first purchased a very large number of package tickets, which the directors of the road were willing to sell him at the rate of a cent a mile, or ten cents for the trip, on condition that they should be sold
only to tenants and occupants of the houses.
The result is that within eleven years a population has been planted there of five thousand souls, occupying seven hundred houses. The increase is such that passers-by maintain that, on an average, they put up a house a day, and their agent tells me that at the present rate of sales every
lot that they have ready for the market
will be disposed of within three years.
Tickets have recently been raised to twelve cents; but as season tickets are issued at twelve dollars a quarter, or forty-eight dollars a year, those who use the road daily
get their passage for about eight cents.

Should an arrangement be made similar to that on some of the roads in England as above stated, the result to the lessee would be as follows. He would pay:
Interest on the cost of the land, say $5
Interest in the shape of rent, on $1000, at 6 per cent. 60
Interest on his own investment of $1000, do 50
Taxes, incidentals, &c., $175
— $175
or one hundred and seventy-five dollars a year, or about three dollars and thirty-five cents a week. If obliged to take a season ticket at twelve dollars a quarter,
ninety-six cents must be added, making a total of less than four dollars and a half a week. For this would be obtained a small and convenient house and five thousand feet of land, in a healthy situation,
where in a short time there would be a population that would ensure the erection of schoolhouses and the other conveniences of a village. Besides this, it would give the lessee a moderate garden spot at first, and render it almost certain that,
within a few years, he could sell half of it for a price that would pay the principal on the house he occupies.

To carry this plan into effect it is only necessary to obtain the promise of funds for the purchase and preparation of the land, whenever a suitable tract can be secured and suitable arrangements made with the railroads. The property, until a charter is obtained, could be conveyed,

as it was at Hyde Park, to trustees. The advance required by the builder could be made either by individuals or the company, without risk, and the lease held as an investment or transferred to other capitalists.

If these views are correct, an opportunity is offered by which, without risk of capital, a permanent benefit may be secured to a large and important class of the community who are now subjected to unreasonably high rents for comfortable
and insalubrious homes.

Should any persons be willing to cooperate in carrying out the above suggestions, I will, on receiving their names,
call a meeting for the further consideration of the subject. JOSHUA QUINCY.

THE GREAT BRIDGE.
FROM NEW YORK TO BROOKLYN.

The New York Evening Post gives
the following description of the projected East River bridge from that city to Brooklyn, the feasibility of which has been indorsed by a Government commission:
"The first operations will be upon the Brooklyn side, near the Fulton Ferry,
where excavations will be made, ninety-seven feet, down to the rock upon which the foundations of the abutment towers will be laid. Digging on the New York
side will immediately follow, near Pier 29. East River. Rock is there found at one hundred and seven feet, and is of the gneiss description generally found on Manhattan Island.

"The new bridge will be a striking and graceful feature of the surrounding scenery.
Its proportions will be colossal. The entire length will be 5862 feet, or about a mile and one-ninth, but these figures may vary slightly when the terminus become finally settled. The New York terminus will either be on Chatham street, opposite the Register's office, or in Chatham Square. The terminus in Brooklyn will be near the junction of Main and Fulton streets. The structure will thus overtop many houses which are situated upon the slope on the river on each side. It will be suspended in three openings, two of which will be on land, and one, of 1600 feet, over the water. The floor will be both fire and water proof, and will serve as a roof to the houses and stores beneath.
Its width will be eighty feet within the railings, equal to Broadway, and will be divided into five spaces, marked by six lines of iron trusses, independently of a sidewalk of six feet on each side.

"As the new bridge will weigh 3,483 tons, being far more than as heavy and wide as any other structure of the kind in existence, the jar upon it will be scarcely perceptible, and the most violent winds will be powerless against it. Its weight in the day-time will be perpetually
augmented by more or less cars, carts,
animals and human beings. The maximum weight of these, if covering the entire surface, would be 1,270 tons, but an average of 400 tons may be calculated on.

Two passenger trains of cars, upon steel rails, will run backward and forward over the bridge alternately. They will be attached to an endless wire rope, propelled by a stationary engine on the Brooklyn side. Their speed may be at twenty or thirty miles an hour without injury to the structure. The height of the bridge, above high tide, will be one hundred and thirty feet, and vessels, the upper masts of which exceed that measurement will be required to lower them on passing, which can be easily done. Prominent features of the work will be the towers on each side of the river. Their length at the base will be one hundred and thirty-four feet, and extreme width,
fifty-six feet. Their height to the roof,
will be two hundred and sixty-eight feet,
at which point the length will be reduced to one hundred and twenty feet, and the width to forty feet.

"The estimated cost of the bridge is $6,675,835, without the purchase of real estate on either side. It will perhaps be nearer $7,000,000. Of this,
$5,000,000 has been raised—$2,000,000
by the Brooklyn Common Council—$1,500,000 by that of New York, and $500,000 by private subscription. When the work will have become far advanced,
it will be easy to issue bonds for the remaining sum needed.

"The Union Ferry Company are now transporting forty million persons annually across the East River. It is thought that the construction, in all weathers, afforded by the bridge, will cause a vast influx of residents to Long Island,
in preference to New Jersey, and that in 1880 the amount of passengers to and from Brooklyn will approach one hundred millions a year."

DON'T BE DISCOURAGED.
A crow, ready to die with thirst, flew
with joy to a pitcher which he saw at a distance. But when he came up to it, he found the water so low that with all his stooping and straining he was unable to reach it. Thereupon he tried to break the pitcher; then to overturn it,—but his strength was not sufficient to do either.
At last, seeing some small pebbles at hand,
he dropped a great many of them, one by one, into the pitcher, and so raised
the water to the brim, and quenched his thirst.

ANECDOTE OF GENERAL HANCOCK.

The following anecdote of General
Hancock is published in one of our exchanges. The author speaking of the scarcity of rations, says:

"They were scarce with us—so much so that some of the boys bought of other regiments. During this scarcity Blake happened to be on guard at Hancock's head-quarters. He was pacing his beat very industriously in front of the General's tent, about daylight, when the General rolled out of bed and came to the door."

"Soldier are you from the One Hundred and Fortieth?"
"Yes, sir."
"Is it true rations are scarce?"
"Yes, sir."
"You haven't enough?"
"No, sir."
"How many have you? half enough?"
"I think so, sir."
"Well, it's a poor soldier who can't steal the other half."

With the last remark he went to bed
again, while Blake renewed his labors.
"Before long the cook began preparing breakfast. One thing after another was put on the table in the mess tent, and finally a plate of hot biscuit. While the cook returned to the kitchen, Blake stepped up, emptied them into his haversack, and resumed his walk. Breakfast was announced, and the General went in. He had not been there long before he called the cook to bring him some bread. The cook told him he had put hot cakes on the table. Some conversation passed between them, and the General stepping to the door, watched Blake very closely.
Blake walked his beat apparently unconscious of any one being within a mile.
Finally the General called a corporal,
relieved Blake, and sent him to his quarters. He had twenty-eight biscuits in his haversack.

HOW TO CURE A CANCER.

The Milwaukee, (Wis.) Democrat states that some eight months ago, T. B. Mason of that city, ascertained that he had a cancer on his face the size of a pin's head.
It was cut out by a surgeon and the wound partially healed. Subsequently it grew out again, and he was sent to Cincinnati it attained the size of a hickory
nut. He remained there under treatment and is now perfectly cured. The process is this: A piece of sticking plaster was put over the cancer, with a circular piece
cut out of the centre a little larger than the cancer, so that the cancer and a small circular rim of healthy skin next to it were exposed. Then a plaster made of chloride of zinc, bloodroot and wheat flour
was spread on a piece of muslin the size of this circular opening and applied to the cancer for twenty-four hours. On removing it the cancer will be found burnt into and appear of the color and hardness of an old shoe sole, and the circular rim outside of it will appear parboiled, as if scalded by hot water. The wound is now dressed, and the outside rim soon separates, and the cancer comes out in a hard lump and the place heals up.
The plaster kills the cancer, so that Cincinnati it attained the

SATURDAY, MAY 22, 1869.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

SUDDEN, AT LAST. We received late last evening the sad intelligence of the death of our esteemed and highly respected citizen, Dr. Ebenezer Woodward, at the advanced age of seventy-one years and two months. Funeral services on Monday afternoon.

DECORATING THE GRAVES. We understand it is the intention of our Soldiers and Sailors to decorate the graves of their comrades on the 29th of this month. A meeting for that purpose was held in the Lyceum Room of the Town Hall last week, and the whole matter placed in the hands of a Committee of five. It is expected that the Rev. J. D. Wells will deliver the oration. The services of the Quincy Brass Band have already been secured for the occasion. We believe it is the intention of the Committee, if they meet with proper encouragement to extend an invitation to the schools, and a general invitation to the public to participate with them in their memorial services. An adjourned meeting, it will be seen by a notice in another column, is called this evening, at 7 1/2 o'clock.

IMPROVEMENTS, TOWN CLOCK, &c.—Granite street, is undergoing most thorough repairs. It is to be widened from the Square to the Bridge, and from thence to the corner of Gold street, an improvement the public will duly appreciate. Other points, of equal interest, will soon receive attention.

The new clock, too, we learn, is soon to be raised to its place—which will be a relief to our friend Holden, whose time, has been seriously taxed, to preserve the reputation of the community.

PERSONAL. We learn from the Daily Register, published at Central City, Colorado, that Mr. Alonzo Farnald, a native of this place, and well known to the younger portion of our readers, has entered into the drug business in company with Mr. Fonda, at Red Front. It will be remembered that he left this place about three years ago, in company with Captain D. Fred French and others for Colorado. They traveled over the plains occupying several weeks in their trip; if now takes over the Pacific Railroad for the same journey about as many days. Mr. French after a short stop returned to this place, but Mr. Farnald remained in his new western home and worked at printing. The editor of the Register, in an editorial of the new firm says:—

"Mr. Farnald, the junior member of the firm has for several years been connected with this office. He is a straightforward, upright man, of good social and business habits, economical and careful. We regret to part with him, but always like to see those in our employ do better when they can. He is worthy the confidence of the public."

We are always pleased to learn that the young men who leave this place are prospering, and we hope to continue to hear good reports from Mr. F.

PEACOCKS. One of these fine birds took an airing yesterday, and strayed from the premises of its owner, Mr. Charles R. Mitchell, into our neighborhood. We were reminded, as it proudly trailed its gay plumage on the ground, of a fashion we have seen in our streets.

The funeral of the Rev. D. J. Stone, late Pastor of the First Baptist Church of this town, will take place at the Baptist Church, Andover, Mass., this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

MUSIC. Mr. George Monk, has so far recovered from his recent illness as to be able to leave the hospital at Albany, N. Y., where he has been for a number of weeks. It will be seen by our advertising columns that he will soon be prepared to furnish music for parties, &c. when desired.

At a late meeting of the Norfolk Conference of Churches at Milton, a report was read showing that 47 per cent. of the Protestant population of Quincy neglect all places of public worship, of Stoughton 38 per cent., of Randolph 29, of Abington 28.

The season as it advances, reveals the prospects of the future. The pear, cherry and peach trees, which are now out in blossom, have made a good beginning, and the apple, soon to follow, promises equally well. In this respect, it would seem, as if there might be a tolerable fruitful season.

DORCHESTER. The bill for the annexation of Dorchester to Boston, has passed the Senate by a most decided majority.

Rev. H. H. Baker, of Orange, occupies the desk in the Universalist Church in this place, to-morrow.

REAL ESTATE SALES. On Tuesday of last week several lots of land belonging to the estate of Harvey White, were sold at auction, one to Capt. Pratt, another to Solon David, and a third to Isaac Porter. The Caleb White place was sold to E. F. E. Thayer, for $3000; the Denton place to Mr. Cavanaugh for $2,626; eight acres of pasture land to Josephus Shaw, for $730.

Edward Potter has disposed of a lot of real estate to Mr. Brackett, of Quincy, at private sale. The asking price was $15,000.—Weymouth Gazette.

BOSTON, MAY 20, 1869.

Our relations with Great Britain is a subject of much interest with the American people. The Alabama claims seems as far from settlement as ever. "Reverly Johnson, the American Minister, who was so suddenly recalled after the advent of President Grant's administration, will soon be at home, and Mr. Motley will sail in a few days, as our new Plenipotentiary to the Court of St. James. Mr. Johnson in taking leave of the Queen, says: "This terminates a mission which has been conducted on my part with zeal and fidelity, and which has fulfilled to the letter, the instructions of my government." Much fault has been found with Mr. Johnson, but in our judgment without reason; and, on the whole, his diplomatic career was characterized by ability. The rejection of the Treaty by the National Senate, was on the offensive ground; that our claims for indemnity and the claims of England against us, were put upon the same level as matters of arbitration. It would have been better to have arranged on this basis than to have involved our country in another war. There is no difference of opinion here that the destruction of American property by the Alabama in her piratical cruises should be made good to the losers; and if England could prove any just claims, on the same principle of equity they should be allowed. There are always two sides to questions of complication, and it is right that both should be considered. So far from censure, Mr. Johnson is entitled to commendation, for a compliance strictly with the instructions of his country. It is the rule of Ambassadorship, and he could not have acted otherwise with prudence or safety.

Cuban matters are topics of much conversation in this community. But we are much in the dark as to the true condition of things in that beautiful island of the Greater Antilles. No wonder that nations covet the possession of this rich gem, set in the sea. Several hundred miles in extent, and in some places, one hundred and fifty miles broad; the land near the sea generally level, all the interior mountainous—the soil everywhere productive. It is doubted whether there is so large a spot of ground on the globe more fertile than this. Years ago, in peaceful times, it possessed 600,000 plantations, and 3700 farms, yet not an hundredth part of the island is cultivated. The celebrated tobacco of Cuba attains the height of five feet. The best sort of tobacco is called by the Spanish boys, de la cunula de aboce. But sugar and coffee are the capital articles of agriculture. Cotton, ginger, long-pepper and aloe are extensively cultivated. Honey is made there in great abundance; and although the climate is hot, the land abounds with fine horses, mules, sheep and swine. All the fruits of the West Indies grow in great perfection.—The cedar tree of Cuba, the mahogany, ebony, iron-wood, gum, and all the palm trees and oak trees are abundant. The island is also rich in mineral productions, particularly copper ore. The ownership of domains possessing this vast wealth, is most desirable to any nation. And it will require nice diplomacy on the part of the United States to win this prize. The policy of our government during the struggle of the Cubans for independence, evidently is to remain neutral; under the circumstances, the best course.

Our State Legislature will probably not close its sessions until the first week in June. The members will therefore have a chance to attend many of the anniversaries next week. Great will be the rush of visitors here to see, be seen and to hear. In fact, the Baptist anniversaries are now in session. This great influx of visitors to Boston, is giving a favorable impulse to retail business, almost everybody purchases something, if no more than a few pins or needles. We can again report our city very lively. The financial market shows a full supply of money at the banks, with all demands amply provided for. Gold has been much excited by reason of failures in New York, going up to 141 3/8. Government securities are quoted as strong.

The woods in the vicinity of the West district school house in Braintree, were set on fire on Tuesday afternoon, and the flames spreading soon reached the school house, and the building was burned to the ground.

INCREASED RAILROAD PRIVILEGES. The bill in the Massachusetts Legislature providing increased terminal facilities in Boston for the Lowell and Eastern Railroad, allows the former to take eight acres of land in the city, covered with buildings inhabited by 3000 to 4000 people; the property being valued at about $2,000,000.

PROGRESS AT THE HOOSAC TUNNEL. In the second week of May the tunnel at the east end was driven thirty-two feet and good progress made at the shaft and other headings. Five and a third feet a day on one face is the best progress thus far made.

The butter market at St. Albans on the 11th, was very active. Nine hundred and eighty-six tubs were shipped at from 30 to 36 cents. The price of butter is now a third less than it was a year ago. The market at St. Albans was a little less active this week, 18th, than last, the shipment being 810 tubs. The ruling price was 35 cents.

STILL THEY COME. One ship that reached New York, on Monday, of last week, had fourteen hundred emigrants. All the German steamers to sail between this and September, will have a full complement, and the lines from Liverpool and Queenstown have stopped booking for one month. Already the number of arrivals this year is greater than for the same period of any preceding year.

A nice parrot, one suitable for a lady to carry, costs in New York $200.

FIRES IN QUINCY.

The following is a list of fires in Quincy for the year ending May 1st, 1869. The amount of property destroyed was unusually small. The fire insect held during last year, had a good effect, and we believe it did nearly, if not quite, put a stop to the incendiary's work in this place.

June 14th, 1868.—A barn on the corner of Gay and Summer streets, occupied by Mr. John Ring, and owned by the heirs of the late Benjamin Gay.—Incendiary.

June 20th, 1868.—A barn on Main street, (Dublin), owned by Mr. Ford.—Accidental.

April 13th, 1869.—A house at Quincy Neck, owned by Mr. Levi L. White; slightly damaged.—Accidental.

April 30th, 1869.—An unoccupied house on Washington street, owned by Mr. Abram M. Alpaugh.—Incendiary.

We are indebted to Mr. Joseph M. Glover, clerk of the Hook and Ladder Company, for the above list.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT. On Tuesday afternoon Daniel Downey of North Abington, while walking on the Old Colony Railroad track, near Harrison Square, Dorchester, stepped from one track to another to avoid a freight train, and was almost immediately struck and instantly killed by a passenger train on the other track. He leaves a widow and four children.

Summary Intelligence.

The first parish of North Bridgewater have voted that the practice, which has long obtained favor there, of announcing death by tolling of bells, should be discontinued.

A. B. Fairfield of Florida has ripe tomatoes, the seed of which he planted in his kitchen in January, and where they all matured.

The Hingham Journal says the public library in that town has recently been the recipient of the property of a social library formed in 1771. The number of volumes given to the library exceeds 2000.

No poisonous drugs in "Barrett's"

The town of Newton has set a good example in having intelligent and scientific men to superintend the laying out of and repairs upon the public highways.

Two thousand and four hundred gas burners will be used to illuminate the Coliseum. The building will be ready for lighting on the 12th of June.

Thirty-one thousand bushels of California wheat was purchased by a Boston firm last week. But a few years ago all the flour California had went from Boston or New York.

The last rail of the Pacific Railroad was laid on the 8th, and the event was celebrated by a civic and military display in San Francisco and other places in California.

There are several kinds of worms which trouble horses; the pin-worms, (pointed at both ends), are the most common and most dangerous. Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders will in a few days eject the worms, and the horse will begin to thrive.

"Barrett's" produces natural change. Potatoes are selling in Michigan at fifteen cents per bushel. Last fall the farmers were offered a dollar and a half, but thought best not to sell. So much for greed.

There were 29 snow storms in Boston last winter, and the total depth of snow was three feet, eight and one half inches.

Fine apples and potatoes are selling for fifty cents a bushel in the capital of Oregon this spring.

The ground rents paid for some of the lots near the Coliseum in Boston for the season range from 200 to $800.

The farmers in Maine have a very large surplus of potatoes on hand which are selling at prices considerably reduced.

A manufacturing firm in Boston turns out from one hundred and fifty to two hundred baby carriages weekly.

Stewart's income last year was $8500 a day. He doesn't need to be Secretary of the Treasury other than his own.

It is estimated that one thousand sheep have died from disease in the town of Webster, N. H., since the 1st of April last.

Letters from Maine say the season is at least three weeks earlier there than last year.

Boston gives each of her poets of the Grand Army of the Republic $100 for flowers to decorate their comrades' graves.

Gold closed Thursday in New York at 143 7/8. The government will hereafter sell $2,000,000 of gold weekly in New York, instead of $1,000,000.

Factories and machine shops should not be allowed to run a day without Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, in case of sudden accident, an immediate use of it may save weeks of suffering, and perhaps a limb, or even life.

THE SOUND STEAMERS. The New-Port News speaks of a large increase of travel over the line from New York through that city. Over four hundred passengers were on board the steamer last Monday night, and the steamboat trains have been lengthened by the addition of several cars to accommodate the crowds who now seek this route. It is stated that extra steamers are to be put on during the summer months, leaving Boston and New York at nine o'clock each evening.

STONE & MURRAY'S COMBINATION CIRCUS. will make its grand entrance into this town, on Tuesday morning next, and perform afternoon and evening. This rare combination of talent, embraces artists who have no rivals: either in the equestrian circle, Comique Pantomimic performances, Gymnastic displays, and other matchless novelties, untold. See advertisement.

Hon. Nathan Crocker of Barnstable has now a field of rye all spindled out.

D. B. Brooks & Brother, of 55 Washington street, Boston, offer to the public two thousand sets of Croquet, which have been manufactured the past winter, with machinery expressly invented for this purpose. This firm has the largest, best, and cheapest stock in the country. No family now need to be without their Croquet Set, and no "well regulated household" is complete without this interesting and healthful amusement.

Poetry.

THE MODEST FLOWER.

I saw a modest little flower,
Pale beauty to the morn unfold,
The sunbeams kissed it through the bowers,
And tipped its sunny leaves with gold.
A dew drop nestled on its breast,
More radiant than jewel rare;
And from its leafy bed of rest,
I took this flower, fresh and fair.
Companions bloomed on either side,
Arranged in more seductive hue;
And tossed their heads with scornful pride,
As if they thought no others grew.
Thus in the world's pretentious crowd,
I sought with diligence and care,
A modest heart, and shunned the proud—
I found the gem; but oh! how rare.

Farmers' Department.

THE SALEM GRAPE.

This grape combines as nearly as possible every quality desired in an out-door grape, being one of the hardiest, healthiest and most vigorous of vines, and producing enormous crops of beautiful, high flavored fruit. It is a hybrid between a native and the Black Hamburg. The bunch is large and compact; berry large as Hamburg and of a light chestnut or catanba color; skin thin; flesh perfectly free from hard pulp, very sweet, and sprightly, with a most exquisite aromatic flavor. It is as early as the Delaware or Hartford Prolific, ripening its fruit in the most unfavorable seasons.

The testimony of prominent fruit growers who have fruited it, is to the effect that it is a hardy vine, a vigorous grower with strong leaf; that the fruit ripens early, is very large and showy, if not the very best in quality possesses merit enough to make it very valuable for market purposes.—Rural New Yorker.

HINTS WORTH FOLLOWING.

The following hints are true to the letter:—As soon as a plum or cherry knot can be discerned swelling out, cut it away and burn it. When you see any sign of change in color on the bark of your pear trees, cut away and burn that also. And when you see any black marks on the leaves of apple trees, livid spots on the grape foliage, or any change whatever from the normal hue, cut away and burn the whole thing. By this means you can prevent their seeding; and thus only can you ever keep in check a scourge which is really, in some neighborhoods, a mighty obstacle to success.

So with insects; as a soldier would say they must be attacked directly in front. Strategy is not of much use. Hand picking, tree shaking, and collecting grubs and larvae, must be the chief reliance of the practical man. He who has not "time" to attend to these things will have to buy his fruit of those who have.

ONIONS FOR POULTRY.

It seems strange that this esculent is so little appreciated, not only for use by the human family, but for poultry. Its curative properties do not seem to be understood, or else are much underrated. And as a preventive of disease, it has no superior. A few raw onions, chopped up fine and mixed with the feed of young chickens, act like a tonic, and are equally good for old fowls. The tops too are good. Were the use of green food more common among poultry raisers, there would be less cases of cholera, roup, gripes, etc., etc. If sickness of food will engender disease and disease in man, why not in fowls? Feed your fowls as you do yourself. Give them change, variety; and give them onions.

"A Cow Gives Richer Milk when Fat than when Poor."

Such is one of the conclusions arrived at by Mr. Clarke from his experiments. (See Agriculturist for Dec. 1868, p. 441.) There are fat cows that give poor milk, and not much of it. In fact, this is one reason why they get fat. The food goes to form flesh and fat, instead of cheese and butter. The trouble is in the cow and not in her condition. If she was poor in flesh she would give no more or richer milk, and yet there are farmers who think otherwise. If a cow is fat, they conclude that she must be a poor milkier—and there is some truth in the idea. If a cow keeps fat all through the summer, while she is giving milk, on ordinary food, she is a poor milkier, or else she gives poor milk. So far the popular notion is correct. But it is very absurd to condemn a new milk cow because she is fat. If she is to give large quantities of rich milk she must be fat. It is a monstrous perversion of an acknowledged truth, that because a "deep milkier" is seldom very fat we must therefore try to keep our cows thin, in order to make them good milkers. There are thousands of farmers who fall into the error. They mistake the effect for the cause.

Anecdotes.

"Why, you'd better knock the door down. What do you want?"
"Och, my darling! don't let me wake any of your family; I'm just usin' your knocker to wake the people next door. I'm locked out, d'ye see, and they've never a knocker." Rap! rap! rap!

A bright little boy in a neighboring town was asked by a lady if he studied hard at school.

He replied that he did not hurt himself much at it.

Oh, said the lady, you must study hard or you will never be President of the United States.

Yes, marm, he replied, but I don't expect to be; I am a democrat.

A Star in the East!!

A new star has appeared in the literary circles, called THE "ILLUMINATED WESTERN WORLD."

Its illustrations are all printed in beautiful colors, from one to seven, at a single impression.

In this feature alone THE "ILLUMINATED WESTERN WORLD" stands forth the foremost of the age. Aside from its magnificent illustrations, however, its columns will tempt weekly with Fiction, Solid Prose, Charming Poetry and Glowing Romance. It is a fit companion of every fireside—the magazine of every branch of literature—the champion of all noble industries—the support of the farmer, merchant, artisan, and the education of the masses. You cannot afford to pay three or four profits on articles of necessary use, when by sending a Club to

PARKER & CO'S

Great One Dollar Sale

OF DRY GOODS, LINENS, PARASOLS, ALBUMS, BOOKS, SILVER PLATED WARE, JEWELRY, CUTLERY, FRENCH AND GERMAN FANCY GOODS, of every description, you can purchase any thing in their immense stock for

ONE DOLLAR EACH.

The secret of our low prices is this:—We have a very large Cash Capital, and have buyers in all the principal cities of this country and in Europe, who purchase for CASH, DIRECT FROM THE MANUFACTURERS, all the goods used by this country, and the consumer, the profits made by the Importer or Commission Merchant, the Wholesale and Retail Dealer, each of whom demand a larger profit than taken by us. We can give MORE GOODS FOR ONE DOLLAR than the Retail Merchant for twice or three times that sum. Our goods are described on printed checks, which will be sent in Clubs for Ten Cents each, to pay postage on the Club. If the article named on the Check is not wanted, you can exchange for another article of equal value. DRESS AND FIFTY useful articles, among which are:—

LADIES' SILK PARASOLS, LADIES' FINE WASHED SILK, SILK PLATE, PAIR BUTTRESS CASSOCKS, and a large variety of useful articles, not one of which can be bought in any other way for nearly double the money.

Reference will be given, if required, from the most respectable Merchants in Boston. New York, and as to our standing and the strictly honorable character of our business, we refer to the following testimonials:

THE ELIAS HOWE SEWING MACHINES.

Are celebrated for doing the best work,
using a much smaller needle for the same
thread than any other Machine.

SEWING of all kinds, such as Hemming,
Felling, Binding, Cording, Braiding,
Seaming, Quilting, Tucking, Gathering,
and Tapering, in a superior manner, on
our Family Machines.

Some valuable improvements have recently
been added to these Machines, which render them
superior to those made heretofore. Ladies who
use our Family Machines, cannot fail to be gratified
and pleased with their operation as they are
not subject to the annoyance and difficulties
experienced with most machines.

Experience has proven that there is but one
really good Sewing Machine, and that one is
the HOWE, STITCH, or more commonly known as the "Lock Stitch." The advantages
of the Howe Lock Stitch consist in its economy
in the use of thread, the elasticity of the seam, (having the same appearance on both sides), and
the fact that it cannot be unravelled.

The HOWE MACHINES are better made; they
are free from disagreeable noise; they are much
less liable to get out of order; and when out of
order, they cost less for repairs.

They combine the greatest simplicity and
durability with the greatest certainty in operation,
and for all household Sewing—Shirt, Dress,
Cloak, Vest Making and Tailoring, are THE
BEST MACHINES IN THE WORLD.

The HOWE MACHINES have taken the Premium
for the Best Work whenever they have been in competition with other Machines. This arises
from the fact that they are constructed of the best
material, and in the best manner.

This Machine can be seen in operation at

DR. EBENEZER WOODWARD.

The funeral services over the remains of the late Dr. Ebenezer Woodward took place in the Stone Temple on Monday afternoon last. They were simple and beautiful; the touching and appropriate prayer of the Rev. Mr. Wells, finding a response in the hearts of every one of the large audience present—in the hearts of the aged, whose faithful physician he had been for thirty, forty and nearly fifty years, as well as in those of the younger, whose lives he had saved and whose sufferings he had alleviated. Such a tribute of respect seemed due in the estimation of the people to the memory of the deceased.

Dr. Woodward, for more than forty-six years, lived and practiced as a physician in this town. In that long period of time, he has rarely been absent from his post. Indeed, only on one occasion, and for less than half a week, during a particularly healthy season, was he beyond the reach of his patients. Thus, for nearly half a century, he has been, in the estimation of the Good Samaritan of Quincy, carefully watching the departure of the outgoing, and skillfully ushering into the world the new generations of our town. He was the son of Ebenezer Woodward, of Canterbury, Connecticut, (a graduate of Dartmouth College in the class of 1791) and of Delia Adams, of Lincoln, Massachusetts. He was born in Cambridgeport, on the 12th of March, 1798, while his parents were on a visit to their friends in that village. When six months old he was taken to Hanover, (N. H.) where he remained till 1817, when he received his collegiate degree of A. B. from the same college where his father had graduated twenty-six years previously. Thence Dr. Woodward removed to Concord, (Mass.) where he spent four years of his early life, part of which time he devoted to the study of medicine with Dr. Isaac Hurd. Thence he proceeded to Boston and continued his professional studies under the care and guidance of his uncle, Dr. Samuel Adams. Afterwards he attended the Harvard Medical School, graduating M.D. in 1823.

In the midst of these studies his health failed. He did not inherit a strong constitution. While attending the medical lectures in Boston he had an attack of bleeding from the lungs. All the physicians advised him to abandon his studies and the profession of his choice. "You are not strong enough to be a doctor," was the remark that met him whenever he met a physician. They did not know the will that was in him. "I will see about that," was the determined and decisive reply which the young medical student. He returned to Concord for the summer months, lived on bread and milk, fresh air and exercise, hope and resolution, and made his reappearance in Boston in the autumn, full of courage and confidence, and resumed his studies.

On graduating at Harvard he commenced the practice of medicine in Quincy. He made his debut in this town, as a physician, on the 1st of January, 1823. Then it was but a village. Among his earliest friends were ex-President John Adams and the Hon. Thomas Greenleaf. What gave him his early hold upon the confidence of the people, was his skillful treatment of a dangerous sickness of Mr. Greenleaf. Eminent physicians of Boston had given up the case of Mr. Greenleaf as a hopeless one, when Dr. Woodward, then young and without much experience, but a physician by nature as well as by education, undertook the case of his future father-in-law. The result is known to all. The life and usefulness of this much respected citizen was preserved for years to the town; he lived to the advanced age of eighty-seven.

On the death of Dr. Phelps, in 1832, Dr. Woodward became the leading physician of the town, and remained in that position till the end of life; beginning practice among a population of 1700, and closing his professional career amidst a population of over 7000. Among his patients were two ex-Presidents—John Adams and John Quincy Adams—and the late Josiah Quincy. In his visits he would drive from the residence of the rich and influential patient to that of the poor and powerless. He watched over all with the same spirit of kindness, and as a Christian physician. In the sick room and by the sick bed, he was ever gentle and soothing in his manner, and became beloved, not only as a physician, but as a Christian gentleman. In all relations of life, he was kind but positive. He insisted upon his own rights and respected the rights of others.

There was one remarkable feature in the character of our late, lamented townsman that should be noticed. In spite of advancing years he kept himself up, closely and clearly, with the progress of medical science in all parts of the world. He never became old in his practice. He became experienced. He was always well informed with the latest discoveries and the latest developments in medicine and its uses. He was always fresh. He was always clear. Of a very industrious and active temperament, he was always ready, day or night, storm or sunshine, pay or no pay, to respond to the calls of his patients, and he continued to do so to the latest moment of his useful life, actually going, as a friend remarked, from his "choise to his death-bed." He was the physician of the rich—he was equally the physician of the poor. Indeed, he was pre-eminently the poor man's doctor. Those who witnessed the impressive services at church on Monday, noticed, with sympathetic feelings, the respect and esteem shown by all classes and by all ages, from the oldest to the youngest, for this good and conscientious man.

It appears that, while earnestly engaged in active life in ministering to the sufferings of the sick, the future generations of this town occupied his thoughts at home. It is understood that he has made provision in his will, for the establishment of an Institute in Quincy, which will not only add to its beauty, but make it a town in times to come, a more desirable residence, than it even now is with all its present advantages.

THE SOLDIERS' GRAVES. Owing to the extensive preparations being made to decorate the graves of our fallen heroes, it has been proposed by some of the merchants and others to close their places of business this afternoon, from two to five o'clock. This is very appropriate for the occasion, and we doubt not but it will be generally observed. May our citizens, one and all, show their appreciation for the services of the soldier, who has given his life for his country, by devoting a few hours this afternoon to this solemn, yet impressive ceremony.

THE CELEBRATION. At a meeting on last Wednesday evening of the Committee for the celebration of the Fourth of July, Mr. Stephen Penman was selected to collect what money has been subscribed and to solicit further contributions. A few hundred dollars more is needed in order to enable the Committee to carry out their programme, which will give entire satisfaction. A full account of which will be given in due season. Arrangements have been perfected for the exercises in the Church, which will consist of reading the Declaration of Independence, an address by C. F. Adams, Jr., and singing by a choir of seventy-five voices, &c.

PLEASANT AND HEALTHY. On Tuesday next, June 1st, the beautiful steamer, Massasoit, commences her daily trips for the season, between Quincy Point and Boston, stopping at North Weymouth and Long Island. No pleasanter trip, to any of our citizens, who enjoy a sail, can be asked, and nothing equal to it for the promotion of good health. Let our citizens appreciate and enjoy the coming summer, the pleasure of a sail in Boston Harbor. A finer steamer and better officers, cannot be desired.

MILITARY. Wednesday last was unusually hot. It being the regular day for May training, the McClellan Guards, Capt. William Boy, paraded the streets and made a fine appearance. After marching through many of the principal streets they returned to their Armory, where a bountiful dinner awaited them. The selectmen, fine members, and a few invited guests united with the Company in doing justice to the loaded tables. In the afternoon the Company marched to South Quincy, and fired three rounds each at a target. Some of the members made very fine "shots," others acting rather green at the business.

SURGICAL OPERATION. Our worthy townsman Dr. Joseph Underwood, amputated a few days since, skillfully and successfully, a part of the foot of the son of George H. Locke Esq., of West Quincy, which from long disease had become so malformed as to render locomotion difficult and painful. The patient is in a comfortable condition.

"THE FAVORITES." Our readers will notice by an advertisement in our columns that the celebrated troupe, Buckley's Serenaders, are again to visit us, and give one of their excellent concerts at the Town Hall, on Saturday evening next, June 5th.

HOUSE LOTS AT AUCTION. We would call the attention of young men and others wishing to procure a valuable lot of land for building purposes, to the sale, by Henry H. Faxon, Esq., on Thursday next, at South Quincy. The lots are excellent; situated near the depot, and must from year to year, grow more and more valuable.

A SHAKERS' CONVENTION. A novelty of anniversary week was the convention of Shakers which met in the Meadon. They represented the communities of "Mount Lebanon," of Waterville, N. Y., "Harvard," of Shirley, Mass., "Hancock," of West Pittsfield, Mass., and also from Canterbury and Enfield, N. H., and Alfred, Me.

HARPER'S MONTHLY. The June number of this favorite work is before us. The first and leading article of this number is "The Aurora Borealis or Polar Light," by Elias Loomis, Professor of Yale College, which of itself is worth one year's subscription to this valuable magazine. For sale by the New England News Co., 14 Court Street, Boston, and at Southern's Periodical Store in the Square.

WE call attention to the advertisement, in another column, of the Great American Tea Company, of New York. This is the largest and oldest establishment of the kind in this country. The new chop of Tea they advertise is highly spoken of all over the country.

Humpy Dumpty is coming to the Boston Theatre. Monday next is the date set down for the production of this pantomime. It will be produced in a manner that will make it most worthy of patronage; and it will prove a most delightful entertainment for the summer season, for which this theatre has endeavored to make this special preparation in view of the visitors expected to the city. The clown engaged for the leading part in "Humpy Dumpty" is the celebrated Tony Denier, and he will be supported by a complete and elaborate company and ballet, with all the adjuncts of mechanism and material that have distinguished the piece elsewhere.

OBITUARY.

The recent demise of Ebenezer Woodward, M. D., of this town, has diffused a general sadness in the community to which he was every where favorably known. The good physician has passed from our midst—though it be full years and honorable toil. His earthly pilgrimage is ended, and we shall never see his benignant countenance more. Alas! the irrevocable decree, that "man born of woman should die." But that he will live again is the abiding hope and solace of all good men, founded on the unerring promises of Divine Revelation.

Dr. Woodward was graduated at Dartmouth College, in 1817. He commenced the study of medicine with the late Dr. Hurd, of Concord, Massachusetts, an eminent physician in those days; but finished the last year of his pupilage in Boston, with his maternal uncle, Doctor Samuel Adams. In 1823, after a diligent course of study, he passed a successful examination, and received the degree of Doctor of Medicine at the Medical School of Harvard University, and subsequently was admitted a Member of the Massachusetts Medical Society. During his residence in Boston, attending the Medical Lectures, he passed a portion of his time in the Hospitals of that city; and for many months was assistant physician to the venerable Dr. Edward Reynolds in the medical wards of the Boston Almshouse, then located on Leverett street. His opportunities for seeing clinical practice while in Boston, were quite extensive and most diligently and faithfully did he improve them. In the spring of 1823 he established himself in this town, at that time having a population of less than two thousand. His only competitor in Quincy was the late Doctor Thomas Phelps. The acquaintance between Doctors Phelps and Woodward, from the beginning was most kind and friendly, and the harmony was uninterrupted until the sudden exit of Dr. Phelps to a better world. The summons of the angel of Death to Doctor Phelps was without a moment's warning. The extended span of forty-six full years in the active practice of medicine was meted out to Doctor Woodward. Possessing not the most vigorous, but yet a good constitution, he endured in a wonderful degree the fatigues incident to an extensive practice of the medical profession. That unenviable messenger, sickness in his own person, scarce ever obstructed his pathway to the abodes of his patients. His last illness, which closed the boundaries of life, may be said to have been the first attack of disease of a serious character during his long sojourn here.

He loved and was profoundly devoted to his profession. It was a specialty with him from all other pursuits for the circuit of nearly half a century. Such results of application in any legitimate calling are always the sequences of success. His purity of life—his kind and unobtrusive demeanor—his deep and tender interest for the sick entrusted to his care—his skill in the healing art, gleaned from careful study of medical authorities and a wide field of experience, and his familiarity known as household words to the numerous families of Quincy and its vicinity, who sought him to enter the sacred precincts of the domestic circle as the medical counselor of the family. In the halcyon days of his home, with an amiable and beloved companion, well worthy of him, the qualities of an affectionate husband and good neighbor were shown in his daily life. He passes away an ornament to the medical profession, and beloved by a large circle.

The funeral services at the Stone Temple were truly solemn and impressive. The gathering of mourning friends was very large—and the tears of not a few were mingled together in the united performance of the last sad rites to the memory and virtues of our late honored fellow townsman.

THE GREAT SUN-SUN CHOP. A very superior quality of Pure Natural Leaf Tea, is a fine, delicate, aromatic flavor, and is very strong. It is a selection of the choicest leaves from the best cultivated Tea districts of China. Vast numbers of the Chinese people worship the Sun as the highest and purest object of excellence, and as they designate the Emperor of China, "His Imperial Highness Brother of the Sun Emperor of the Celestial Flower Kingdom," it naturally follows that whatever commodity or object to which they apply the double title of "Sun-Sun," must necessarily possess the highest qualities of purity and imperial excellence. And that is exactly what we claim for our GREAT SUN-SUN CHOP—that it is perfectly pure, of a choice, rich flavor, very full strength, and conducive to health as well as pleasure.

The Great Sun-Sun Chop is cured without coloring matter of any kind. It is fired or dried upon porcelain, and it must, therefore, be entirely free from all impurities. It possesses the delicate flavor, as well as all the soothing and invigorating virtues which have rendered the Tea plant famous throughout many generations.

The Great Sun-Sun Chop we feel fully persuaded, will suit the taste of all lovers of good Tea, whether they have been accustomed to the use of the Black or Green varieties heretofore. And its perfect purity enhances its value, and must establish it in favor with all classes.

The price is ONE DOLLAR AND TEN CENTS PER POUND ($1.10), which, considering its purity and strength, makes it the cheapest Tea in the market. We warrant it to give entire satisfaction and if it does not prove so, it may be returned, and we will refund the money paid for it.

To Clubs. The Great Sun-Sun Chop is put up in neat POUND PACKAGES with the trade mark. The price—$1.10 per pound—is printed on each pound package. But we will furnish it to Clubs in boxes of 30 or 60 pounds at the cargo price of ONE DOLLAR AND TEN CENTS, and in case the money accompanies the order, we will discount one per cent. We will ship to Merchants, Pedlars, or Club Orders, to collect on delivery, at $1.10 per pound. In order to get up a club, let each person wishing to join say how much Tea he wants. Write the names and amount plainly on a list, and when the club is complete send it to us by mail. Merchants, Pedlars, or other persons desiring to start business, wishing for further information, can have a copy of our paper (which contains full information) mailed to them by writing for it. DECORATION SOLDIERS' GRAVES. The Returned Soldiers and Sailors of this town, together with the citizens generally, it is hoped, will join in a Procession, this afternoon, Saturday, May 29th, 1869.

The procession will form in Washington Square and move at 2 o'clock, P. M. precisely. All returned Soldiers and Sailors are requested to appear in dark clothes, white gloves, corps' badge on left breast, and bouquet in right hand. Quinque number have expressed a willingness to close their places of business from 2 to 5 o'clock, P. M., and it is hoped it will be general. In respect to the fallen heroes, let the procession be large. Let us decorate the graves of those who lie in our cemeteries, while we honor all whose names are inscribed on the Soldiers' Monument and those whose names are engraved only in our memories. HONOR TO ALL.

Route of Procession. The line will be formed with the right wing on the Liberty Pole, near Washington Square. All bodies will form on Washington St., extending around the block to Temple St. At precisely 2 P. M., the procession will move down Washington St. to the corner of Adams St.; thence marching through Hancock St. School, corner-marching down School to E. M. through Elm to Washington, down Washington to Scar, Elm to Cemetery.

After the Decoration of Graves there will be an Address by R. V. J. WELLS and Singing by the Chorus Society. At the close of the Service the procession will move by the shortest line to Washington Square and there be dismissed. If the weather will not permit, the decoration will take place on MONDAY, May 31st, 1869.

Poetry.

NOTHING BUT LEAVES.

Nothing but leaves. The spirit grieves
Over a wasted life;
Sins committed with conscience slept,
Promises made and never kept;
Hatred, battles, and strife—
Nothing but leaves.

Nothing but leaves; no gathering sheaves
Of life's fair ripened grain;
Words; idle words for earnest deeds;
We sow our seeds—no! tares and weeds
We reap for toil and pain—
Nothing but leaves.

Nothing but leaves; memory weaves
No veil to screen the past;
As we retrace our weary way,
Counting each lost and misspent day,
We sadly find at last
Nothing but leaves.

And shall we meet our Father so
Beating our withered leaves?
The Saviour looks for perfect fruit—
We stand before Him, humbled, mute,
Writing the words He breathes—
Nothing but leaves.

Farmers' Department.

CULTIVATION OF CARROTS.

Carrots are a valuable crop to feed to cattle, horses, and store hogs. I have made good beef with them, without much grain. For milch cows, they increase the quantity of milk, and give a good color to the butter, besides keeping them in good condition. Hogs fed on them will thrive, if they are fed sufficiently.

I prefer raising carrots rather than beets to feed cows, because I can raise more bushels per acre, and at less expense per bushel, especially as the hands are not applied in harvesting except in picking them up. If any are available for sale, the roots sell soonest. A tolerable crop will yield from four to five hundred bushels to an acre; on extra ground and pains, I have raised at the rate of four hundred bushels an acre.

Cultivation. The soil should be rich enough to bear good corn; not stony, nor too stiff; should be ploughed well, dragged and raked fine, and sown as soon as possible after ploughing.

If sown with a drill, it will pay to roll with a hand roller before sowing. Sow in rows about 18 inches apart, using about two pounds of seed to the acre. If sown in ridges, the ground should not be too dry. Some think it requires less labor to raise them by this method, but in this case they cannot be sown with a drill. Mr. S. tells me that he sows them on sward, and raises good crops. They do not show as well early in the season, but grow rapidly from August onward.

For cows I prefer the Long Orange variety. The White Belgian are quite as good for horses, because they are rather more tender. As soon as the plants are visible in the rows, they should be hoed with a scuffle hoe, which leaves all the dirt behind it, and does the work better by far, than a common hoe, besides doing it at least twice as fast. They should be hoed again, as soon as the weeds show themselves; and when the plants are grown an inch or more, weed them. If the ground is tolerably clean, they will need but one more hand weeding, which, however, should be done before the weeds get strong. If delayed too long, the expense of weeding will be increased, and the value of the crop diminished; if they stand over thick in the rows, they should be thinned out. They should be sown in May, but not later than the 10th of June.—Cor. American Farmer.

APPLE TREE SUCKERS.

The Working Farmer says: "Many otherwise good orchards are allowed to become defaced, as well as seriously injured, by allowing a profusion of suckers to grow at the base of the trunks. Attempts are sometimes made to get rid of them by cutting them off down to the surface of the ground, and leaving considerable portions below in the form of stumps. These sprout again, and they soon become as bad as ever. A better way is to wait till they are in leaf, at which time they are loosened more rapidly, and taking each separately in the hands, and placing a thick boot upon it near the tree, they are quickly separated. If done at that time they will not be likely to sprout again."

Anecdotes.

A dandy, stutting about a tavern, took up a pair of green spectacles which lay on the table, put them on his nose, and turning to the looking glass, said:—"Landlord, how do these become me?" "I think they improve your looks?" "I think they do," replied the landlord, "they hide a part of your face."

"Larry," said a coquettish young lady to her cousin, promtly baid, "why is your head like heaven?" "Don't know, I'm sure," replied the swell, "unless, indeed, because it has a shining crown."

"Good, but not correct. Because there is no more dying or parting there!"

"Sam," said a young mother to her darling boy, "do you know what the difference is between the body and the soul?" The soul, my child, is what you love with; the body carries you about. This is the body," (touching the boy's shoulders and arms), "but there is something deeper in." You can feel it now. What is it?"

"Oh, I know," said he with a flash of intelligence in his eyes; "that is my stomach chit."

It is a National Company, chartered by special
act of Congress, 1868.
It has a paid-up capital of $1,000,000.
It offers low rates of premium.
It furnishes larger insurance than other companies for the same money.
It is definite and certain in its terms.
It is a home company in every locality.
Its policies are exempt from attachment.
There are no unnecessary restrictions in the
policies.

Every policy is non-forfeitable.
Policies may be taken which pay to the insured their full amount, and return all the premiums, so that the insurance costs only the
interest on the annual payments.
Policies may be taken that will pay to the insured, after a certain number of years, during
life, an annual income of one-tenth the amount
named in the policy.
No extra rates are charged for risks upon the lives
of females.

It insures, not to pay dividends to policy-
holders, but at so low a cost that dividends will
be impossible.

OUR PATRIOT DEAD!

BY WILLIAM S. MORTON.

Our Patriot Dead! Beneath the sod,
Calm in repose their ashes lie;
Anointed in the sight of God,
Who for their Country dare to die.
Our Patriot Dead! The screaming shell,
The drum's long roll—the cannon's roar,
The bugle's wild and thrilling swell,
Shall wake them from their dreams no more.
Our Patriot Dead! Through coming time,
Their names on glory's page will live;
Honored and blest in every clime,
Are those who live, for freedom, give.
Our Patriot Dead! We may not mourn,
Their lot within the silent grave;
But hark! bright gleams on the urn,
That holds the dear dust of the brave.
Our Patriot Dead! Loved duty ours,
The Guardian of their tombs to be;
While wreaths of anaranthine flowers,
For them, with grateful hearts, we weave.
Our Patriot Dead! To them we lift,
Our souls for deeds of valor done,
The living reed the glorious gift,
Of Freedom saved, of Victory won.
Our Patriot Dead! In spring's bright hours,
'Mid tears of fond affection shed,
We strew our sweetest, fairest flowers,
Where, softly sleep our PATRIOT DEAD!

Interesting Selections.

ALBANY CAKE. Two eggs, 1-1/2 cups
white sugar; 2-3 cup butter; 1 cup sweet milk; 2-1/2 cups flour; 1 teaspoon soda;
2 do. cream tartar. Flavor as you like.

COCONUT PIE. 1 grated coconut;
2 eggs; 1 heaping cup sugar; nearly 2
cups sweet milk; 2 tablespoons butter.
Bake with one crust.

a very large number of the trees, but nu-

The eggs of insects are able to withstand an intense degree of cold. The same temperature which would immedi-

There is an impression that property
acquired by physical labor is sacred,
but brain-work does not cost anything,
and its creations are of no value. What a mistake! Brain work is immensely more exhausting to the vital forces than physical labor, and the discriminations of law and public sentiment, if any difference be made, should be in its favor.

A devotee of Bacchus was overheard the other night thus addressing his lost, which had fallen from his head—
"If I pick you up I fall; if I fall you will not pick me up; then I leave you;
and be staggered proudly away."

How difficult it is to be of a meek
and forgiving spirit, when spitefully
used. To love an enemy and to forgive an evil speaker is a higher attainment
than is commonly believed. It is easy to talk of Christian forbearance among neighbors, but to practice it ourselves
proves us to be Christians indeed.

Some years ago there resided in Essex a school-master-farmer who used to be very careful of his words, even when speaking to his team. He would say, "Back Buck—and also Bright; and those steers; and likewise you, madam,
meaning the old mare."

A couple of fellows who were pretty thoroughly soaked with bad wis-key, got into the gutter. After floundering about for a few minutes, one of them
said, "Jim, let's go to another house,
this hotel leaks."

It is a mistaken idea to suppose that milk can be sold as cheaply in winter
when the streams are frozen, as in sum-

An exchange gives us this information: A robin kills on the average,
about 800 flies in an hour, and a sparrow
will destroy at least 150 worms or caterpillars in a day. Every man who kills a bird wantonly is a brute; and every farmer who commits that sort of murder is both a brute and a fool.

Were you to ask a hundred men,
who from small beginnings have attained
a condition of respectability and affluence
to what they imputed their success in life,
the general answer would be, "It was from being early compelled to think for and depend on themselves."

MY SLEIGH RIDE.

"Upon my word George is gotten up
regardlessly to-night!"
"Mamma, George has got on his new blue silk necktie—don't you see?"
"My dear son, I was not aware that you intended going out to-night!"
Now when a man comes down stairs
on tiptoe, and essays to gain the front door with the least possible amount of observation, it isn't particularly agreeable to have a whole brood of female tongues upon him the instant he crosses
the threshold. However, not to seem daunted, I confronted them doggedly,
painfully conscious the while of extra bear's grease on my hair, a borrowed ring on my finger, and a shirt whose gloss might have reminded one of a whole starch factory. Need I mention, after enumerating these particulars that I was in love.

"Where are you going, George?"
asked my mother.
"I am going sleigh riding with the party from Judge Dacre's," I answered, fitting on a pair of lemon colored kid gloves, which, considering the night was pitch dark, and the thermometer stood at zero, was a piece of idiocy well befitting
a young man in love!

"What lady do you take with you?"
"None."
"Why," interrupted Dolly, "where's Miss Aspendale?" I felt myself grow hot all over as I strove to answer indifferently, and escaped to my little cutter, I soon jingled up to the line of equipages
in front of Judge Dacre's door.

"Just in time," observed Harry Spi-
cer, reigning up his vicious little gray
horse, as that saucy animal was about to try the edible qualities of my ear;
"the girls are coming out—they ran in to have a warm while Patty Dacre was getting her things on. When! how cold it is. I say, old fellow—" as the light of a passing lantern fell on my tout ensemble,
"aren't those yellow kids rather stunning for the occasion? I guess you've taken up your next quarter's salary for—"

He stopped abruptly, and the next minute I heard him whisper to some one beyond:
"Hallo, Judson, I've been gone and done it now. I mistook old Barnwell for George Witwood, and I've been chafing him like fire. Their traps are as like two peas. I wonder what he thought of me? Crusty old chap never to answer
a word, though!"

Hugging myself, (mentally of course)
at this delusion of Spicer's. I took care not to disabuse him of the idea. It was a relief to be rid of the clack of his careless tongue.

As these reflections passed hurriedly
through my mind, there was a sound of merry, bird like voices, intermixed with musical laughter, and the tripping of many feet.

"The girls," a dozen or so in number,
were coming out, hooded, cloaked and furred. Just as I was about to guide my horse away from the gate to make room
for some envious miscreant who claimed proprietaryship of one or more of this glancing bevy of feminine loveliness a light foot was placed on the lower rail of the cutter, and Kate Aspendale sprang in beside me nestling down among the fur
robes as if it was her place by right.

"I hope I haven't kept you waiting,
Bruce, dear," she said, adjusting the folds
of her veil.

The words of glad greeting which had risen to my lips seemed frozen on the very portals of speech. "Bruce," indeed! I—So she mistook me for the man of the money bags, did she? Well, considering that she despised Mr. Barnwell so heartily, (as she had assured me,) her sympathy was attuned to very coaxing accents.

"Only think!" she went on, as obedient to calls of "Go ahead" from behind, I mechanically loosened the reins and touched my fleet little horse with my whip, and all alone; I suppose he couldn't get any girl to accompany him. I do think that young man is the greatest fool! Oh, my gracious!" For Sultan, my spirited horse, gave a plunge just then. I had unconsciously given him a merciless cut with the whip, and it required all my strength and self-possession to calm him down again. Still I never spoke—I could feel a burning red spot in the centre of each cheek, which seemed as if they must glow in the dark like live coals, but I waited instinctively, to hear more.

"Now, you're not vexed with me Bruce," murmured Kate, "just because I mentioned George Witwood's name? You know I don't care two straws for him—a conceited, silly blockhead, that fancies a girl is in love with him, just because she happens occasionally to smile at his foolish speeches. I assure you, Bruce, I've never seriously encouraged him, but a girl must have something to amuse herself with, in a dull country place like this.
George Witwood, indeed,—as if I could care for him when you are near, Bruce! How he will stare when he gets our wedding cards next week!"

She broke out laughing—that merry
melodious laugh which had been music
to my ears so many times, in our lonely
woodland rambles and twilight gossip beneath the vine-draped porch! How differently it seemed to me now? The hollow resonance of some tuneless instrument—how could I ever have fancied

it sweet!

"I've worn my engagement ring tonight, Bruce," she went on coaxingly;
"there's no use keeping the matter secret
any longer, and I want to see what the girls will say. You've no objection, have you, Bruce, for—clear me—what is the matter! We can't have reached Slopersville yet, I am sure!"

The long line of sleighs had come to a stand-still—one not unlike my own, detached itself from the rest, and jingled up to our own.

"Why, she's here! What on earth does this jugglery mean?" demanded the voice—not a particularly melodious one—of Mr. Bruce Barnwell. Kate started up with a slight shriek.

"Where am I? Who is this in the sleigh?" she cried.

"Pray don't disturb yourself, Miss Aspendale," satirically growled Mr. Barnwell; evidently there was an abundant spice of the grim Othello in his temperament. "If you prefer Mr. Witwood's company to mine, it's all right!"

"Mr. Witwood!" I repeated, Kate, wildly, "Oh, mercy! it can't be possible."
Some one held up a lantern. I looked full into Kate Aspendale's splendid dark eyes.

Now, if I had been a woman, what volleys of satire I could have fired into the enemy's camp—what red hot coals of taunting jocosity I could have heaped upon Kate's defenceless head. But being a man, I left her to the punishment of her own recollections, and bowed with all the courtesy I could command.

"Permit me to assist you into the other sleigh, Miss Aspendale," I said,
when Mr. Barnwell understands that it was by mistake that you entered this equipage, he will pardon any appearance
of awkwardness in the affair."

Without a single word, Kate Aspen-dale descended from my sleigh and was assisted into that of Mr. Barnwell, who still sat upright and irate, staring indignantly round him.

"Good evening, Miss Aspendale," I said, unable to resist the temptation of launching back one Partisan arrow, as I drove away. "I shall expect to receive the cards very soon."

Alice, my blue-eyed cousin, was sewing
alone in the room when I returned home.
She looked up in surprise as I entered.
"Home so soon?" she said, "I hardly expected to see you so early."

"Yes, Kate Aspendale is to marry
Bruce Barnwell, and I want to marry
you!"

"Upon my word, Alice, I'm in earnest."
So I was. After the stormy reign of Kate Aspendale in my heart, Alice's sweet face seemed like a dream of repose
for which I longed with an indescribable longing.

And the next day I went on a second sleigh ride with my dove-eyed little finiance, and my cards were out in the same week with those of "Mr. and Mrs.
Bruce Barnwell."

ADDRESS Delivered in the Cemetery at Quincy, on Decoration Day—May 29th, 1869.

BY JOHN D. WELLS.

It is well for us, fellow-citizens, that we are met here, on this fair day of the blossoming spring, to adorn with fresh flowers
these sacred graves, and to decorate with garlands this monument which your own hands have reared to the memory of the heroic dead. It is well for us to leave for the hour our ordinary and engrossing occupations, to forget the work upon which our thoughts are commonly bent,
and to gather here to pay our simple tribute to the virtues and the sacrifices of those who laid down their lives that liberty and peace might be preserved to us.
It is well for us here together to praise
the Lord of Hosts for that glorious inheritance, which our fathers of the Revolution
first won for us, and which these,
their worthy sons, have absorbed to us,
and have doubly consecrated by their pains and blood.

We live so fast,—the wonderful events
of the time come crowding one upon another in such swift succession, that the bitter experiences of that long and wearying war of ours for the maintenance of the Union have already well-nigh faded out of our minds; and were it not for these occasional tender remembrances,
we should hardly keep fresh the recollection
of what our brothers did and suffered for our sakes. It is well, therefore, for us to pause, now and then, and look back into those strange days that are gone and bring up anew before our eyes the pictures of the tiresome marches, of the sicknesses and woes of the hospitals, of the unspeakable horrors of the Southern prisons, of the madness and carnage of the heady fight, which but a little while ago were so familiar to us all.

I hesitate to speak of my own army
experience, of my little taste of the soldier's life; such a mere drop, was my petty contribution to the great torrent that flowed forward from the beginning to the end of the war. And I only allude to it now to say how fully my four months'
trial of the enervating monotony of camp-
life, and its strong tendency to take all the real heart and high spirit out of a man, enabled me to appreciate the greatness of the gift of long years of military service, especially when offered by men who all their lives had followed the still pursuits of peace. It was not a little thing for these, our fellow-townsmen, who yielded up their souls for liberty's sake,—

it was not a little thing for the survivors of the war, who stand here before you by God's providence, to-day, to go out from their homes to enter the hard school of the soldier. It was no small thing for any of them, returning from the field,
weary and sick, or wounded and maimed;
after recovering a little the old strength,
and partaking of the sweet delights of the home, to hunker back, and plunge once more into the heat and thick of the conflict. Yet this added sacrifice, as you know, one and another of our brethren
freely and joyfully offered.

Ah! my friends! we sit yonder in our homes, and go quietly about our occupations, and rejoice in the blessings of the hour, resting secure in the persuasion
that a good government is over us, we delight at this moment in the glory and beauty of the earth bursting into foliage
and flower, and all rich with the sure promise of the future harvest,—and shall we forget that, were it not for the deeds
of such as these whom we this day commemorate, we should hardly have a country to-day; and that however great our joys, they would all have had a bitter mingled with their sweet by reason of the defeat of our most cherished hopes! We sit in our homes and engage in our labors; and dare to complain because our petty sorrows; and dare to grow under our burdens to the burdens that were so cheerfully borne by the soldiers whose names are emblazoned on this enduring shaft! And how are our sorrows to be compared with the long months and even years of trial which the sisters and mothers and wives of these have endured,—oh!
so sweetly! so trustfully!—for their country's sake and their God's!

Men! Shall these lives not shame us into better living? I doubt not, I cannot but believe, that were the voice of the Most High to be heard once more, bidding you face and crush down the foes of eternal Truth, you would not be found wanting, but would rush even again from workshop and farm to do righteous battle in the name of the Lord. But do not forget that

SATURDAY, JUNE 5, 1869.

A NEW TARIFF. The rate of fare on the Old Colony and Newport railroad was raised on the first instant. The price now asked between Quincy and Boston, is thirty-five cents, a rise of ten cents on the old fare, and a proportional increase on all distances. Although a discount is made equal to the rise, providing tickets are purchased previous to getting into the cars; otherwise the additional price will be charged. The reason given for this new tariff is to induce passengers to buy their tickets at the depot, so as to prevent dishonest conductors. This may all be very well, providing the ticket offices are kept open, but we have learned of cases the present week, where persons arriving at the depot just in time for the cars and found the ticket office closed, and they were obliged to pay the extra fare. They thought "Jordan was a hard road to travel."

STEAMER MASSADOIT. This beautiful steamer has made a very successful beginning this week. The trip between Quincy Point and Boston is delightful, and the price very reasonable. It will be seen by our advertising columns that Mr. Lombard, will run regular trips from the South and Centre parts of the town, to the boat, and give his passengers through tickets to 1 son for the low price of twenty-five cents. Who will blame our citizens for enjoying themselves this summer at this low price?

FOURTH OF JULY. Our readers will please observe the special notice in regard to the "Antiques and Horribles." We understand that the Marshal of this division intends to make such perfect arrangements, and at the same time very quiet, that our people will be astonished and highly pleased with the display.

AUCTIONEER. It will be seen by our advertising columns that Mr. Lombard is prepared to attend to sales of all kinds. Having been urged by numerous friends to obtain a license, he has procured the necessary papers, and is now ready to attend to the wants of the public in the sale of Houses, Land, Furniture, &c.

THE RETURN OF FRIEND CARVER. To his old position on Temple street, reminds us that we are on the eve of our summer campaign. Summer would lose half his charms without his delicious creams. In his vocation, he is indispensable to the health, comfort, and pleasure of the community. His creams, which claim a merited notoriety for their excellence, appear to be just the want which nature requires at this season of the year; their cooling effects makes the heat endurable, even at ninety, and to keep us in good humor with ourselves.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH. The Annual Floral Festival of the Sunday School of this Church will be held to-morrow afternoon, at four o'clock, Rev. George H. Hepworth, of Boston, is expected to make the Address.

The Pastor will officiate morning and evening. The Vesper Service will be largely musical; the Choir being considerably increased for the occasion.

ANNEXATION. The bill for the annexation of Dorchester to Boston has passed the Legislature. The vote in the House was 121 to 46. If the bill receives the approval of the Governor it will be decided by a vote of the people of the two towns on the 22d instant.

A large meeting of those opposed to the scheme of "Centralization" and the overthrow of the Municipality of Dorchester, met in the Town Hall, last evening, to organize for the purpose of defeating the annexation scheme if possible.

THE BUCKLEYS. This favorite troupe of Minstrels, will give an entertainment at the Town Hall, this evening. Their budget of comic songs for the occasion, are of the most unique, grotesque and mirth-provoking order. Let all who would shake off ennui, and enjoy a hearty laugh attend. Sambo never had better delineator of his character, than in the Buckleys.

REMOVAL. It will be seen by an advertisement in another column that Mr. J. N. Blake has leased the store recently vacated by Mr. Lombard, nearly opposite the old stand, and is better prepared than ever to accommodate his friends and patrons.

THE JUBILEE ORGAN. A new organ has just been built expressly for use in the Coliseum at the concerts. It was tried at the manufacture of Messrs. Hook last Tuesday. It is constructed expressly for strength and power of tone, and yet the qualities of purity and richness are not neglected. Its volume of sound is said to equal that of any four other organs in the city combined.

NATIONAL BANKS. Attorney General Hoar maintains that it is not within the power of the Legislature of any State to alter, add to or diminish the powers, duties and liabilities conferred upon any banking association established under an act of Congress.

SIX PASSENGER CARS. A new and improved pattern built at the Old Colony Company's workshops in South Boston, are soon to form the Fall River boat train. Three are already completed, and are said to be models of beauty and convenience.

CEREMONIES ON DECORATION DAY.

The sad yet pleasant duty of decorating the graves of our fallen heroes, was observed on Saturday, the 29th, under the auspices of an organization of their living comrades.

The rains of the night preceding had effectively laid the dust and cooled the air, rendering the march one of comfort as well as one of duty. The preparations of the Committee, assisted by a noble band of ladies, had been extensively made, and were generally carried out. The procession was formed in front of the Town Hall at 2.30 p. m., and at 3 p. m., commenced their march in the following order:

CHIEF MARSHAL.—Col. C. H. Porter.
AIDS.—Maj. W. G. Sheen, Capt. W. H. Fuller, and G. W. Morton.

QUINCY BRASS BAND.

RETURNED SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

(Under the command of Capt. G. A. BARKER.)

Each veteran carried in his hand a bouquet and wore upon the left lapel of his coat, the badge of his corps or ship.

DELEGATION FROM NAT. SAILORS' HOME.

(Under command of Capt. MESERVE.)

This Delegation filled three large wagons, carried the American Flag, and made a fine appearance.

These organizations composed the 1st Division, and were under command of Capt. E. A. SPEAR.

Then followed the 2d Division under command of Capt. T. H. NEWCOMB, as follows:

Carriage containing Orator of the Day, Chaplain and Poet.

Carriage containing the Selectmen of the Town.

Carriage containing Disabled Soldiers.

Carriage containing Choral Society of Quincy.

Carriage containing Coddington Grammar School, under their Teacher, H. B. BROWN, Esq.

Carriage containing Flowers.

CAVALCADE OF CITIZENS.

The route taken was from Town Hall to junction of Hancock and Adams streets, thence countermarching through Hancock to School to Franklin Street. Arriving opposite the Cemetery, on School Street, the line was halted, a detail made, and the one Soldier's grave, in that enclosure, appropriately decorated—the Band playing a dirge during the proceeding. The procession then resumed the march, passing through Elm to Washington street, through Washington to Coddington street to the Cemetery. Arriving at the Cemetery, the Gateway of which, was beautifully draped with the National Colors, the Band to k up a dirge, and the procession, with uncovered heads, entered, and formed in a semi-circle around the monument, which was most gracefully garlanded with evergreen, and hung with wreaths and emblems. Details were then made from the organization of Veterans, who, under the command of a mounted officer, proceeded to decorate every Soldier's grave, and so perfectly was the work done, that not one grave was missed. During the continuance of this ceremony the Band played a dirge. After the details had reported this duty completed, the services commenced with prayer by Rev. James E. HALL, singing by the CHORAL SOCIETY, of Quincy; after which, the Rev. JOHN D. WELLS delivered a very appropriate and excellent oration, which will be found on our first page.

At the conclusion of the oration, a beautiful poem, written for the occasion, by Wm. S. Morton, Esq., and which will be found in to-day's paper, was read by C. A. Howland, Esq. The exercises were then closed by the singing of another anthem by the Choral Society.

The line then reformed and proceeded to the Cemetery in the centre of the Town, where the Soldiers' graves there, were appropriately decorated with floral offerings. Reforming in front of the Hall, the procession was then dismissed—with the exception of returned Soldiers and Sailors, who, with the Band, proceeded in wagons to the West District, and there decorated the graves in that part of the Town. This completed the exercises of the day.

The occasion was very generally observed by our citizens. Most of the places of business were closed, during the passage of the procession, and a very general interest was manifested by all classes in the ceremonies of the occasion.

BOTH BRANCHES OF THE STATE LEGISLATURE have passed a bill to authorize any married woman to be an executrix, administratrix, guardian or trustee, to which offices they have been ineligible heretofore under the laws of this State, though unmarried women are allowed to fill them.

A PROFITABLE ENGAGEMENT. Mr. Joseph Jefferson, who closed his engagement at the Boston Theatre, Saturday afternoon, received for the round month of twenty-four performances, the net sum of $15,000. The proprietors of the Theatre received an equal sum net. This is playing and managing to a profitable extent. At this rate Mr. Jefferson's income would be $180,000 per year.

A CLERGYMAN IN MAINE. While addressing his congregation a few Sabbaths since, had occasion to use his handkerchief. Upon removing it from his pocket, he was somewhat taken aback, as were his hearers, by the appearance of some fifty paper dolls, which flew in all directions, they having been placed there by the clergyman's daughter for safe keeping.

THE FASTEST TIME EVER MADE upon a velocipede was made Tuesday evening, at a Jersey City velocipede rink, by W. H. Russell, of New York, who made the time of one mile in two minutes.

THE FREE SEAT SYSTEM has been adopted by the Baptist Society in South Braintree for the present year.

BOSTON, JUNE 3, 1869.

The approaching national jubilee gathering is the all absorbing theme of conversation here. The ancient Coliseum is said to be one of the finest remains of ancient architecture. A vast oval amphitheatre, built to accommodate the Roman people—with the shows of which they were so fond. We are told that 12,000 captive Jews were employed by Vespasian in its erection; covering when finished, five acres of ground, and capable of containing over 100,000 persons. History further tells us, that at its inauguration, 5,000 animals were destroyed; and when the combats were concluded, the arena was suddenly filled with water, on which aquatic animals were seen to contend; and these again gave place to a number of vessels that represented a naval battle. Malfactors, captives, slaves, and also the persecuted Christians were obliged to engage with professed gladiators in the dreadful and bloody games for which this place, unlike our modern Coliseum here, was designed. The Peace Jubilee in Boston begins on Tuesday, June 15th instant, continuing five days—how much longer after that, remains to be seen. Twenty-four thousand singers in concert, with over 10,000 musical instruments, must make a prodigious sensation on the auditory nerves of the great multitude of hearers. Prices of tickets are set down at two and three dollars each, according to accommodations. It is earnestly hoped, but hardly possible, that this great gala week will pass off without any mar of enjoyment, or escape from casualties.

Since the close of the Anniversary, the city has appeared quite dull; and although a very easy money market, business is inactive. Notwithstanding Secretary Boutwell's scheme of a sinking fund, our finances are in a doubtful condition. He proposes to buy a million dollars worth of the National stocks weekly, so long as he has the cash to do it. But the only remedy to reach a judicious financial policy is the resumption to specie payments. It is not honorable to the Nation, that our government should go into the market and buy up its own depreciated paper; successfully sponging the people by this degrading and disgusting transaction. It will work bad in the long run.

The reception of our new Minister, Mr. Motley, in England, since my last, being quite friendly, his slightly advanced our government securities, notwithstanding the indignation of a portion of John Bull's great family, growing out of Senator Sumner's speech on the Alabama question. No American of sound mind supposes that Great Britain will give heed to our demands as laid down by Mr. Sumner. Both sides should be heard if possible by an impartial tribunal, and all matters might be equitably adjusted.

I wish to inform you that our Legislature is still in session, and likely to complete one half of the year, Anno Domini, 1869, in arduous labors. The members being all elected for one year only, with very little prospect of re-election, feel but little responsibility or fear to or from their constituents, and therefore appear in no hurry to get home. A change in the State Constitution limiting the session to one hundred days duration, and after that, no pay, would be one of the matters of reform so much needed for the public interests of our Commonwealth.

AT HIS REINAGURATION as President, in Philadelphia, March 4, 1793, Washington was dressed in a full suit of the richest black velvet, his lower limbs in short clothes, with diamond knee-buckles and black silk stockings. His shoes, which were brightly japanned, were surmounted with large, square silver buckles. In his hand he carried a plain cocked hat, decorated with the American cockade. His hair, powdered, was gathered into a black silk bag, on which was a bow of black ribbon. He wore a light dress sword, with green shagreen scabbard and a richly ornamented hilt.

ACROSS THE CONTINENT ON A VELOCIPED. It is said that some time between the 15th of May and the 1st of June, A. O. McGrew, the reporter and newspaper correspondent who crossed the Plains in 1858 with a wheelbarrow, will cross the Continent from New York to San Francisco on a two-wheeled velocipede, in competition with another well-known New York journalist.

A PARTY OF LABORERS, in excavating a great mound in the northern part of St. Louis, unearthed an Indian sepulchre, sixty feet in length and twenty-five feet below the surface. A large quantity of bones, beads, coins and other relics were found scattered around.

REGISTRY OF VOTERS IN THE UNRECONSTRUCTED STATES. Among the amendments to the Mississippi, Virginia and Texas elections which were agreed to by both Houses, was one offered by Senator Sawyer, providing that the elections shall be held under the new registration list. It is stated that this will admit about 15,000 additional white voters in Virginia and throw out several thousand fraudulent negro voters who were enrolled in the first list. It will also admit quite a number of additional white voters in Texas and Mississippi.

BURGLARY IN MILTON. Burglars entered the house of A. Hollingsworth in Milton, on Monday, obtaining access through a basement window, and stole about $500 worth of silver from the dining room.

MALACCHUS may be said to run the Union Pacific Railroad, time of the fifteen directors just chosen, and its three principal officers, being from the old Bay State.

RESIGNED. Rev. Dr. Storrs, who has been pastor of the First Congregational Society of Braintree, for 58 years, handed in his resignation as acting pastor, and expressed a desire to retire from active labors; the increasing infirmities of age making this step necessary. At a meeting of the Parish on the 24th ult., his resignation was accepted, and a committee was chosen to employ a colleague. In future he will receive one-half his former salary. Dr. Storrs was settled for life over this Parish when quite young.

THE CANTON MURDER. The counsel for Mrs. Madan, convicted recently of poisoning her husband in Canton, have obtained the allowance of the bill of exceptions in her behalf, which carries the case before the next session of the full Supreme Bench for arguments in criminal cases. If any one of the exceptions are sustained she will have a new trial. If all are overruled, she will be sentenced to death.

Mr. Winslow, Superintendent of the Cape Cod Railroad, has invented an ingenious plan for the prevention of dust and cinders entering cars, which we learn he has patented. His invention has been applied to one of the cars of the road, and if efficacious, will be applied to others.

A farmer in Southern Berkshire (Mass.) has planted this spring one hundred and thirty-six varieties of potatoes—all the known named varieties except four, and he hopes to obtain these in time for planting. He purposes to thoroughly test them all, giving to each the same soil and cultivation, and carefully weighing the crop obtained in a rod of drill. The results of these experiments will be looked for with interest.

At Hingham a most touching scene occurred at the burial lot of John A. Andrew, which was decorated with much taste. Not a word was spoken, but moistened eyes told of the strong affection and esteem felt by all for him whom they loved as a neighbor, respected as a citizen and honored as a ruler.

A new and very important invention of a New Haven man is a shoe machine which, it is predicted, will work a revolution in the manufacture of shoes. It is exciting the attention of shoe men in all parts of the country. A straight needle is employed and a waxed thread, and with it one man can sew six hundred pairs a day. By the laborious hand system six or eight pairs is a good day's work. No other machine of the kind as far as it is known, exists.

A remarkable case of an unbroken family exists in Paris; Mr. Henry McKenney, aged 90 years, his wife aged 88 years, with their entire family of eleven children, six sons and five daughters, all living.

PEACE JUBILEE. Repeated inquiries having been made for information as to the location and price of the seats in the Coliseum during the Jubilee, it may be said that the payment of one hundred dollars gives the purchaser the right to select three seats for all entertainments to be given in the building; and that separate tickets are given for the seats for the better convenience of the purchaser. The sections designated by letters A to T have been reserved at five dollars per seat; and the sections marked by numerals 1 to 18 have been assigned by three-dollar seats. In addition to the seating capacity of the Coliseum, there will be promenades and standing room sufficient to accommodate several thousand persons, for which the price of the tickets has been placed at two dollars each.

The Cabinet has at last settled the course of the government under the eight-hour law of Congress by voting, very correctly, that Congress did not mean to reduce the pay in reducing the number of hours of a day's work, and, therefore, that all government employees by the day should have a full day's pay; that is, the same as they had for ten hours, heretofore, for eight hours hereafter.

LE NOUVEAU MONDE. A Journal written in French, published in French, embracing in its eight pages (quarto) of closely printed matter, an interesting weekly review, of the political barometer, the ever changing shades of fashionable life—news, gossip, literature, etc., of our transatlantic neighbor, La belle France—forming a summary of intelligence, which cannot fail to interest the French resident, or to command itself to the French scholar, who may desire a more easy and familiar acquaintance with a language, which is now so universally spoken.

SOUTHERNERS COMING. A dispatch from New Orleans says that great preparations are making there to attend the Peace Jubilee in Boston. About four hundred of the prominent citizens, including city and government officials, have joined the excursion and it is now proposed to charter a steamer and proceed to Boston direct. About six hundred persons from New Orleans will be present on that occasion, including possibly Gen. Beauregard and the Mayor of New Orleans.

BEVERAGES USED BY THE HUMAN RACE. Not less than 500,000,000 of the human race make use of an infusion of tea; more than 100,000,000 drink coffee; about 50,000,000 cocoa; and not less than 10,000,000 of the inhabitants of Peru, Paraguay and Brazil, use an infusion of mate, guarana, or Paraguay tea, a species of holly. In England alone, there are over 100,000,000 pounds of tea consumed annually, and about half as much of coffee. About 100,000,000 pounds of tea are consumed in this country.

To determine the speed of a velocipede, divide 336 by the diameter, in inches, of the driving wheel; the quotient will give the number of revolutions, per minute, necessary to make a mile an hour. Thus seven revolutions a minute of a four foot wheel gives one mile an hour, within a fraction; and seventy revolutions a minute, ten miles an hour. So says the Scientific American.

The State Prison at Charlestown has now 570 boarders.

DR. EBENEZER WOODWARD.

Like one that draws the drapery of his couch
About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams.—BRYANT.

List! to the tolling funeral bell,
In the solemn tones of a last farewell,
There are aged men with silvery hair,
Bearing one forth from the house of prayer.

With quivering lip, and tear filled eye,
Slowly and sadly, the bier moves by,
For a useful life in their midst is o'er,
And the friend of years, they behold no more.

No more shall his smile from a genial heart,
His practised skill in the healing art,
Bring comfort and rest, to the couch of pain,
And tint the pale cheek with roses again.

He slumbers in peace—his work nobly done,
From life's early morn, to its setting sun.
In the budding beauty of spring-time bloom,
They lay him away in the silent tomb.

To awake in the rest of a life above,
To receive the joys of celestial love,
Forever safe on that glorious shore,
Where sorrow and parting, shall be no more.

Farmers' Department.

CULTURE OF CABBAGES.

The cabbage is now generally admitted to be not only a delicious, but also a healthy and strengthening article of food, and I think the majority of farmers do not appreciate its value, both for man and beast. With a little care in the selection of varieties and preserving through the winter, this fine vegetable may be had fresh and good for at least eight months in the year, and it seems strange that farmers do not spend more time in its cultivation.

The cabbage requires a very rich soil, and careful culture from the time the seed is sown until the crop is harvested; without good soil, and careful culture, it is useless to expect a good crop.

The ground where the plants are to be transplanted, should be prepared by plowing, or dug deep, and thoroughly pulverized, and all stones and sticks should be raked off and manure should be thoroughly mixed with the soil. Decayed cow manure is the best, but any will do, even if rather coarse. A cloudy day should be selected, if possible, for transplanting, but if the weather is dry at the time the plants become large enough to transplant, they will do very well by transplanting a few each day just after sunset. The plants should be set a trifle deeper than they were growing in the seed bed; it is a good plan to put a small handful of fine manure at the root of each plant. Moist dirt should be used to cover the roots which should be slightly pressed around the plant. As soon as each plant is set, it should be moderately watered,—not deluged, for this causes the ground around the plant to become too hard. The next day, soon after sunrise, unless the day be wet, the plants should be covered. For this purpose, burdock, mullein, or some other kind of large green leaf is the best, but if these cannot be obtained, paper will do. Small wooden boxes, placed over the plants, will do very well if not set so close to the ground as to exclude the air. About sunset the covering should be removed, and the plants again moderately watered. This operation of covering, uncovering and watering, should be repeated for several days until the plants get well rooted.

When plants are set out immediately after sunset, they have the benefit of the dew and cool air through the night, which is of great benefit to them. A better way than to put water in the hole with the plants, is first to set out the plant, and then make a hole near it and fill that with the water.

As soon as the plants get well established they should be hoed. By hoeing, I mean not only that the weeds should be destroyed, but also that the ground should be thoroughly stirred between the plants. I believe that damp weather is generally considered to be the best time to hoe cabbages, but I never could see that it made any difference whether they were hoed in wet weather or dry. But there is little or no danger of hoeing them too often. An occasional top dressing of manure is very beneficial, and a liberal watering with liquid manure will produce very large heads.

The late varieties of cabbages head well in cold weather in autumn, and should not be pulled till the ground begins to freeze pretty hard.

The Cottage Gardener of London says carting up potatoes diminishes the produce and retards the ripening of the tubers. Long experiments in England have proved this fact—that hilling up the potato will reduce the crop one-fourth.

Inednotes.
"You have lost some of your friends, I see," said a traveller to a negro whom he had met on the road.
"Yes, massa."

"Was it a near or distant relative?"
"Well purty distant—bout twenty-four miles," was the reply.

"Tell me," said one French child to another, "which would you rather lose, your father or your mother?"
"I don't know."

"I do," I would rather lose mamma, because it's papa who makes all the money."

"Do you say your prayers regularly every night and morning?" asked a sympathetic lady of a little schoolboy to whom she had just given a trifle.

"I allus says 'um at night, mum, but any smart boy can take care of himself in the day time," was the little rogue's reply.

Patent Pocket Corn Sheller.

GREAT NOVELTY! Quick Saled! Profits over 200

per cent. We offer the best and most improved quality sheller rapidly sold, at the high price of

$1.00 a pound. It met with such unqualified approval and the demand for it has been so great, that the Company at once made arrangements to procure a larger supply, upon more favorable terms, for future

use. The sheller is now ready for sale, at the low price of $1.00 a pound, and will be sold at the low price of $1.00 a pound, at which (but little over half what it cost a year ago), it is the cheapest Tea known; and the Company feel that they are offering a highly recommended article to all who use Tea as it possesses the flavor and strength, and the soothing, invigorating properties of both black and green

Tea, without any of the deleterious effects of the latter.

This Tea is put up neatly in pound parcels, 35 pounds in chest, with the price, $1.00 per pound, each package.

The whole sale price by chest is $1.00 a pound, and

orders from Traders, Hotel Keepers, Peddlers, Clubs, or Families, for chests of 35 pounds or more, will be filled

at the wholesale price. Parties living in towns where we have agents can always get this Tea from them.

Like all other goods sold by the Oriental Tea Company, this

Tea is warranted to give entire satisfaction, and parties ordering can do so with the full assurance that if the whole or any part fails to suit, it may be returned at our expense, without any deduction from the price.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to our customers, we have appointed Agents for the sale of our

Merchandise, all over the country, to act as Agents for selling our Tea and Coffee in their locality, at our warehouse prices. Our profits are small, but we give over four-fifths of them to Agents as commission. We want an Agent in every town in the Union, and will send full particulars, terms, price lists, etc., upon application by mail

pany at once made arrangements to procure a larger supply, upon more favorable terms, for future use. The sheller is now ready for sale, at the low price of $1.00

a pound, and will be sold at the low price of $1.00 a pound, at which (but little over half what it cost a year ago), it is the cheapest Tea known; and the Company feel that they are offering a highly recommended

article to all who use Tea as it possesses the flavor and strength, and the soothing, invigorating properties of both black and green Tea, without any of the deleterious effects of the latter. This Tea is put up neatly in pound parcels, 35 pounds in chest, with the price, $1.00 per pound, each package. The whole sale price by chest is $1.00 a pound, and orders from Traders, Hotel Keepers, Peddlers, Clubs, or Families, for chests of 35 pounds or more, will be filled at the wholesale price. Parties

living in towns where we have agents can always get this Tea from them. Like all other goods sold by the Oriental Tea Company, this Tea is warranted to give entire satisfaction, and parties ordering can do so with the full assurance that if the whole or any part fails to suit, it may be returned at our expense, without any deduction from the price. SPECIAL NOTICE.—As a matter of convenience to our customers, we have appointed Agents for the sale of our Merchandise, all over the country, to act as Agents for selling our Tea and Coffee in their locality, at our warehouse prices. Our profits are small, but we give over four-fifths of them to Agents as commission. We want an Agent in every town in the Union, and will send full particulars, terms,

price lists, etc., upon application by mail from Traders

dealing in Tea. Address: 124 N. 4th ST. PHILADELPHIA, Committee.

HENRY D. COOKE, Vice-President.
EMERSON W. PLET, Secretary and Actuary.

This Company offers the following advantages:

It is a National Company, chartered by special
act of Congress, 1868.

It has a paid-up capital of $1,000,000.

It offers low rates of premium.

It furnishes larger insurance than other companies for the same money.

It is definite and certain in its terms.

It is a home company in every locality.

Its policies are exempt from attachment.

There are no unnecessary restrictions in the
policies.

Every policy is non-forfeitable.

Policies may be taken which pay to the insured their full amount, and return all the premiums, so that the insurance costs only the
interest on the annual payments.

Policies may be taken that will pay to the insured, after a certain number of years, during
life, an annual income of one-tenth the amount
insured in the policy.

No extra rate is charged for risks upon the lives
of females.

It insures, not to pay dividends to policy-
holders, but at so low a cost that dividends will
be impossible.

Poetry.

ANGELS WILL ROCK THEE TO SLEEP.

My child, ah my child I thou art weary to-night,
Thy spirit is sad, and dim is the light,
Thou would'st call me back from the echoes
short,

To the trials of life, to thy heart as of yore,
Thou longest again for my fond loving care,
For my kiss on thy cheek, for my hand on thy hair
But angels around thee their loving watch keep,
And angels my darling, will rock thee to sleep!

"Backward?" say onward I re swift rolling years
Gird on thy armor, keep back thy tears!
Count not thy trials nor efforts in vain,
They'll bring thee the light of thy childhood again.

Thou shouldst not weary my child, by the way,
But watch for the light of that brighter day;
Not tired of "sowing for others to reap,"
For angels, my darling, will rock thee to sleep.

Tired, my child, of the "base, the untrue,"
O, I have tasted the cup they give you,
I've felt the deep sorrow in the living green,
Of a low mossy grave by a silvery stream;

But the dear mother I sought for in vain
Is an angel presence, and with me again,
And in the still night, from the silence so deep,
Will come the bright angels to "rock me to sleep."

Nearer thee now than in days that are flown,
Purer the love light entering thy home,
Far more enduring the watch for to-night,
Than even earth's watch away from the light,

Soon the dark shadows will linger no more,
Nor come at thy call from the opening door,
But know thou my child, that the angels watch
keep,
And soon very soon they will "rock thee to sleep."

their ribs out of place, and their hearts
and souls will remain what they too often

Miscellany.

A SINGULAR COUPLE.

The circumstance which, more than any thing else, obtained the dingy old town
of Hexama a lasting place in my memory, was our taking lodging with an extraordinary pair—an old man and woman,
husband and wife—who lived by themselves, without children or servant, subsisting on letting of their parlor and two bedrooms. They were tall, thin and erect, though each seventy years of age.
When we knocked at the door for admittance
they answered together; if we rang the bell, the husband and wife invariably appeared side by side; all our requests and demands were received by both, and executed with the utmost exactness.

The first night, arriving late by the coach from Newcastle, and merely requiring a fire and tea, we were puzzled
to understand the reason of this attendance; and I remember my brother rather irreverently wondering whether we "were always to be waited upon by these Siam-ese twins." On ringing the bell to retire for the night both appeared as usual—
the wife carrying the bedroom candlestick, the husband standing at the door.
I gave her some direction about breakfast the following morning, when her husband from the door quickly answered for her.

"Depend upon it, she is dumb," whispered my brother. But this was not the case, though she rarely made use of the faculty of speech.

They both attended me into the bedroom, when the old lady, seeing me look
with some surprise toward her husband, said—

"There's no offence mean't ma'am, by my husband coming with me into the chamber; he's stone blind."

"Poor man!" I exclaimed; "but why then, does he not sit still? Why does he accompany you everywhere?"

"It's no use, ma'am, your speaking to my old woman," said the husband; "she can't hear you; she's quite deaf."

I was astonished. Here was a compensation! Could a couple be better matched?
Man and wife were indeed one flesh; for
he saw with his eyes, and she heard with his ears! It was beautiful to me, ever after, to watch the old man and woman
in their inseparableness. Their sympathy with each other was as swift as electricity, and made their deprivation as nought.

I had often thought of that old man
and woman, and can but hope that as in life they were inseparable and indispensable to each other, so in death they might not be divided; but that either might be spared the terrible calamity of being alone in the world—Chambers' Journal.

What is the Condition of Your Cellar?

Is it damp, close, filled with disagreeable odors, proceeding from germinating or decaying vegetables? If so, it is high time you gave the matter your earnest
attention; for you have in that locality
the germs of disease, and yourself and family are liable to be prostrated at any moment.

You think your cellar or basement is in good sanitary condition; no, you know that it is? Have you fairly and carefully examined the premises? Have you looked over the potatoes, turnips, squashes
and other vegetables, to ascertain their condition? We know that diphtheria, typhoid and scarlet fevers, and many other
most serious illnesses, have their origin
in cellars both in city and country; and we can do our readers no greater service
than to urge them to see that, at all times,
they are in a dry, sweet, wholesome con-

GENTLE WORDS.

Use gentle words; For who can tell
The blessings they impart?
How oft they fall, as manna fell
On some fainting heart!

In lonely wild, by light-wing'd birds,
Rare words have oft been said;
And hope has sprung from gentle words
Where only grief had grown.

Farmers' Department.

HOW TO RIPEN TOMATOES EARLY.

First, have stout, tapering plants, by giving them plenty of room, sunlight and air, from the commencement of growth. Then study the habits of the plant, and you will see that, from the main stem, it throws out at intervals, long, rough leaves, and at a later period, from above the junction of these leaves with the stem, start out secondary stems with the same habits as the original. These continue to multiply themselves until you have a large vine, and plenty of small green fruit, necessarily late in ripening, for the reason that the force of the plant has been spending in producing vine. Do not wait thus long and think to remedy the matter by slashing off the vine at random, to let in sunlight, as is a common practice. Begin with the plant in time, and train it to suit you.

The time to begin trimming is just when the first cluster of flower buds appear. This will generally be at the junction of the further fifth leaf mentioned. At this time the secondary stems will be seen just starting above the junction of all the leaves below. Here begin your work. Pinch them all off at once, and when they start out again, as they will, pinch off again until you conquer. You have now stopped the making of vine below this cluster of flower buds, and all the strength and juices of the plant are sent upwards, pushing forward the cluster of flowers and the secondary stems above. After a little, commence your work above, and pinch off these secondary stems, except enough to leave five or six clusters of fruit. Your vine, so long as you continue to pinch off these stems, is checked both top and bottom. Keep it tied to a strong stake, and in due time your vine will be almost completely hidden by a mass of ripe fruit, all in the sunlight.

By this process I have not failed for several years having my first ripe tomatoes the last of July, and last year on the twenty-fourth. A little observation and skill will supply what further might be added, but for making this paper too lengthy. Rich soils can do no harm to the tomato.

TO KEEP THE BUGS AWAY.

Three recipes were forwarded by correspondents for guarding cucumber and other vines from the ravages of the striped bugs. Edmund Butler of Hornellville, N. Y., says: "Make the hills about ten inches in diameter, plant the seed in a circle, and in the centre plant four or five beans. When the vines are out of reach of the bugs, the beans may be cut off or transferred to another place. I have practised this plan for many years and never know it to fail." D. Carpenter of Forest Grove, N. J., gives the following as his method:

"The safest and surest remedy I have ever found is fresh charcoal, pulverized. Dust it on the hill when you put the seed in, and as soon as the plants are up, dust them plentifully. If washed off by rain, repeat the operation. Thus treated, the plants are perfectly safe. I have seen all bugs disappear at once on the application when the plants were almost covered with bugs. There is no fear of injuring the vegetation by the use of charcoal."

E. D. Benedict, of Fairport, N. Y., furnished his modus operandi, which appears to us the most plausible of the three. He says: "Take coal-tar and saturate corn-cobs, and place them in the hill close to the vine, not touching the plant, and I will warrant not a vine will be destroyed by bugs afterward. No matter how many are on at the time of the application, they will surely leave to find a sweeter home."

KILL THE WEEDS WHEN YOUNG.

Commence hoeing and cultivating just as soon as the weeds appear above ground, or a little before, if possible. It is a difficult task to get ahead of the weeds if you allow them to grow until they are well-rooted and strong. One day's work killing weeds when they are an inch high, is nearly equal to four when they are that number of inches high. Some men never begin in time, consequently they are always behind, and their crops are in the same predicament. Always try to be a little ahead of your work and then it will be little crowd, even if there is a few rainy days just at the time certain crops need cultivating.

Anecdotes.

A plain spoken woman recently visited a married woman, and said to her: "How do you contrive to amuse yourself?" "Amuse," said the other, starting; "do you not know that I have my house work to do?" "Yes," was the answer, "I see you have it to do; but as it's never done, I conclude you must have some other way of passing your time."

"I say, boy, is that the fire?" asked a gentleman of a ragged urchin, and pointing to a dense volume of smoke that was issuing from the windows of a warehouse.

"No, sir, that is only the smoke," replied the boy.

A traveller in Pennsylvania asked the landlord if they had any cases of sunstroke in that town.

"No, sir," said the landlord; "if a man gets drunk here we say he is drunk, and never call it by any other name."

Poetry.

"THERE SHALL BE LIGHT."

It is not always night,
Although the gloom be deep;
Ghosts do not always veil the light,
Nor shadows round us sweep.
The darkness shall give way
Like mist before the sun,
And the clear shining beams of day
Break through the shadows dun.
After the night comes day,
So joy doth follow fear;
Behind the cloud, the sun's bright ray;
In doubt, hope draweth near.
Though sorrow claims the night,
Yet in the morning, joy;
Tears grief shall hasten to its flight,
And hope bear no alloy.

Farmers' Department.

CUTTING GRASS EARLY.

As the haying season will soon be at hand, there is, I think, one point which has not been noticed, in favor of cutting grass early.
The various grasses which grow in our meadows are perennial, and when we seed down a piece of ground for meadow with the kind of grass we wish to grow there, or even if good grasses come in without seeding, it is very important that the same plants should continue to grow healthy and vigorously year after year, and produce thick and heavy crops, free from weeds or thin and almost barren places.

Now it is self-evident that if weeds and other plants can be exterminated by mowing, that there are especially some stages in the growth of grass in which mowings may be injured by mowing. At what time, then, can it be cut with the least injury to the plant itself? In cutting timber it is usually observed that young and thrifty trees throw up sprouts from their stumps much more vigorously than larger and older ones; also when cut in the winter preceding, or during the growing season, than in the autumn when it is just over with. Farmers usually take advantage of this fact in cutting bushes, and wait until the season's growth is completed. It then gives the vitality of the root such a shock, it being at this time in an exhausted state after its utmost exertions are fairly over with, that its constitution is irreparably ruined. Not only in cutting bushes but in cutting weeds is the same principle found by practice to be true; and by cutting them at this season great headway is made in their extermination.

Why can we not apply the same principle to our faithful grass plants in the meadow? why should we let them become grown up, and their forces all expended and then ruthlessly cut down all, trusting to luck to retain even one spark of life in them? Would it not be better to prune them graciously and in season? Why should we wait till our grass is all what is styled "fit to cut," (that is, its greatest degree of perfection for fodder attained) before a single stroke is cut, and more than half cannot be harvested until it gets too ripe? It is true perhaps, that more weight is attained then, than when cut when two-thirds or three-quarters grown, but it is really worth so much for milk or for fat? and besides do we not get it all in a second crop or aftermath? Then again are we not much safer against a drouth just after haying, which has ruined irreparably millions of these little roots in a late cut meadow? and further are we not better prepared for a vigorous and healthy growth the next season?—S. N. BEER, in Country Gent.

SOILING COWS VS. PASTURING.

An experiment was made by a member of the Royal Academy of Agriculture, of Prussia, extending through seven years to test the comparative merits of soiling (stable feeding) and pasturing. The pasturing averaged 1,580 quarts per cow, for the whole seven years; and the average of the soiling plan for the same time was 3,442 quarts per cow—the cows in both cases averaged about the same in natural production of milk. This, of course, does not prove that such a great difference could result from soiling generally. The quality of pastures, or the feed, care and treatment of the animals when subjected to stable feeding would produce different results; but it is a well established fact that a good deal more milk can be obtained by soiling than by pasturing, and at considerable less expense, taking the value of manure saved, use of land for pastures, etc., into consideration.

Incidents.

John came in out of humor to supper. There was some brown bread crusts on the table; John wanted some white bread. "John!" said his mother, "eat that bread this moment, do you hear?" "I won't, so. I won't touch it." "Well, then let it alone." "I won't let it alone, mother, so." "Do as you please, John."

A little bright-eyed girl, three years old, looked up to his father, and said: "Father, I have got three tongues, ain't I?"

"No, my child, you have only one." "Yes, I have." "Well, where are they?" "One in my head, and two in my shoes."

An old woman on a steamboat observed two men pumping up water to wash the deck, and the captain of the boat being near by, she accosted him as follows: "Well, captain, got a well aboard, eh?" "Yes, ma'am, always carry one," said the polite captain.

"Well, that's clever. I always did dislike the nasty river water, especially in dog days."

Poetry.

For the Patriot.
PEACE.
P. M. ADDINGTON.

Hark! hark! She comes. Rejoice! rejoice!
The notes of Peace resound again;
Timonians hear her cheering voice,
And send its echoes o'er the plain.

From far and near delighted throngs,
With music more than half divine;
With garlands, wreaths and rapturous songs,
Assemble at her altar shrine.

Let there be Peace our Chieftain cried;
Echoing the notes the angels sang,
When to her pinions spreading wide,
Peace to the breeze her banner flung.

All hail her glorious Jubilee,
May her fixed residence be here,
To bless the dwellings of the free,
With her sweet fruits and pleasant cheer.

Peace, Peace, on earth the joyful sound,
Be echoed all the angelic song,
And man to man as brothers bind.

Peace, Peace, there's music in the notes,
That breathe of beauty, joy and love,
That like sweet incense upward floats,
Mingling with angels' songs above.

Interesting Selections.
STEAMED WHOLE FLOUR PUDDING.
Take one quart buttermilk, two eggs, half teaspoonful sour cream, and two teaspoonfuls soda; stir in flour enough to make a very thick batter. Add one teaspoon of dried plums, having previously soaked them until soft. Put this in a basin, place it in your steamer over a kettle of boiling water. Sauce: sweetened cream.

APPLE CAKE. Make a nice short-cake;
while hot cut in two, and spread each with butter; have ready some nice stewed
apples, sweetened and seasoned to taste.
Pour them over the cake and serve hot.

TO CLEAR A ROOM OF MOSQUITOS.
A writer in a South Carolina paper says,
"I have tried the following, and find it works like a charm. Take of gum camphor
a piece about one-third the size of an egg, and evaporate it by placing it in a tin vessel, and holding it over a lamp or candle, taking care that it does not ignite.
The smoke will soon fill the room, and expel the mosquitoes."

A liquid glue, far superior to mu-cilage, may be made by dissolving glue
in an equal quantity of strong hot vinegar, adding a fourth of alcohol and a little alum. This will keep any length of time, when placed in closed bottles, and will
fasten hair, wood and mother-of-pearl.

her daughter's lover, and then told him to take her and be happy.

Two servant girls were given tickets to go to a theatre. Returning in a short time, their mistress asked them
why they did not stay. They answered they sat in the place till a curtain was rolled up, and some ladies and gentlemen

thinking they had no business there, they left.

"I never complained of my condition but once," said an old man, "when my feet were bare and I had no money

Miscellany.

THE BEST WIFE IN THE WORLD.
"The best little wife in the world!"
said Herbert Ainscourt.

"Of course—I dare say," responded Mr. Portcross. "But what's your exact idea of the best wife in the world? Jones says he's got the best wife in the world,
because she keeps his stockings darned,
takes him to church three times of a Sunday, and never lets him have an opinion of his own. Jenkins says he's got the same identical article, but Jenkins' wife keeps all the money, draws his salary for him, and makes him live in the back kitchen, because the parlor is too good for him to use."

"Oh! but Daisy isn't a bit ogre-ish—
a little submissive, soft-voiced thing that hasn't an idea except what is reflected from me. I tell you what, old fellow,
I'm the master of my own house; I come when I please, and go when I please. Daisy never ventures on a word of reproach."

"Then you ought to be ashamed of yourself, lurking round at the clubs as you do, dissipated-bachelor fashion."

"Ashamed! What of?"

"Why, I suppose you owe some duties
to your wife?"

"Where's the harm? My wife doesn't care."

"Probably you think so because she is quiet and submissive; but if she were to object—"

"Object! I'd like to hear her try it."

"Now, look here, Ainscourt; your wife may be a model wife, but you certainly are not a model husband. People are beginning to talk about the way you neglect that pretty little blue-eyed girl."

"I'll thank people to mind their own business. Neglect her, indeed! Why, man, I love her as I love my own soul."

"Then why don't you treat her as if you did?"

"Oh! come, Portcross; that just shows
what a regular old bachelor you are; it won't do to make too much of your wife,
unless you want to spoil her."

Mr. Portcross shook his head.

"That sounds selfish. I don't like the ring of the metal."

And he went away, leaving Mr. Ainscourt to finish his game of billiards at his leisure.

What a regular old fuss-budget Port-cross is! laughed the latter. Always picking his nose into somebody else's business. There is one comfort—I never pay any attention to what he says."

Meanwhile Mrs. Ainscourt was sitting alone in her drawing-room, her two little white hands tightly locked in one another and her fair-head slightly drooping—a delicate little apple-blossom of a woman,
with blue wistful eyes and curly flaxen
hair, looking more like a grown-up child
than a wife of twenty-one summers.

"O dear!" sighed Daisy; "it is so dull here. I wish Herbert would come home. He never spends any time with me now-a-days, and I practice all his favorite songs, and read the newspapers
so I can talk about the things he is interested in, and try so hard to be entertaining. It's very strange."

And then her oval face brightened into sudden brilliance, and the sparkles stole
into her eyes; for the wife's quick ear
had detected her husband's foot step on the stairs. The next moment he came in.

"Well, Port, how are you?" with a playful pinch of her cheek. There are some bon-bons for you. Where are my light gloves?"

"O Herbert! you are not going away
again?"

"I must Daisy. There are a lot of fellows going to drive up to High Bridge, and I'm one of the party. You can go over to my mother's to dinner, or send for one of your friends, or something."

There, good-by, puss; I'm in a deuce of a hurry. And with one careless kiss pressed on the quivering damask rose of a mouth that was lifted up to him, he was gone.

Daisy Ainscourt neither went to her mother-in-law, nor sent for one of her girl friends. She spent the evening all alone, pondering on the shadow which was fast overgrowing her life.

"What shall I do?" thought the little,
timid, shrinking wife. "Oh, what shall I do?" But, child as she was, Daisy had a strong, resolute, woman's heart
within her, nor was she long coming to a decision.

"Daisy," said her husband to her the next day, "you haven't any objections to my attending the Orion Ball Masque?"

"Oh yes, everybody goes only I thought I'd pay you the compliment of asking whether you disapproved of it or not."

"Can I go with you?"

"Well—ahem—not very well this time, Daisy. You see, Mr. Fenchurch really hinted so strongly for me to take her,
that I couldn't help it."

"Very well," assented Daisy, meekly, and Herbert repeated within himself the prayer of praises he had chanted in Port-cross' ears—"The best little wife in the world!"

But notwithstanding all this, Mr. Ainscourt was not at all pleased when at the self-same Ball Masque, during the gay period of unmasking, he saw his wife's innocent face crowning the picturesque costume of a Bavarian peasant girl.

"Hallo!" he ejaculated, rather un-graciously, "you here?"

"Yes," lisped Daisy, with a girlish smile. "You said everybody went! And oh, Herbert, isn't it nice?"

Mr. Ainscourt said nothing more; but Mrs. Fenchurch found him a very stupid companion for the remainder of the evening.

He was late at dinner the next day,
